Job Shimankana Tabane Hospital gets 300 bed field hospital

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - In an effort to reduce the spread of coronavirus to personnel and patients, Job Shimankana Tabane Hospital has decided to suspend visiting hours to the hospital.

"This serves to inform members of the public that visiting hours will be suspended with effect from 13 July 2020, until further notice," a statement from the hospital said. According Mr Kagiso Mbaiwa, Senior Communications Officer at Job Shimankana Tabane Hospital the decision to suspend visiting hours is in line with efforts to reduce cross infection of COVID-19 amongst patients, staff members and the public at large. However Mbaiwa said in instances where the condition of the patient warrants visitation of family members or next of kin, this should be arranged with the ward management. The hospital apologises for the inconvenience this may cause.

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - With Bojanala Platinum District experiencing a surge in COVID-19 cases, the North West Department of Health is making hospital beds available in the District.

According to North West Department of Health Spokesperson, Tebogo Lekgethwane, two wards at the Job Shimankana Tabane (JST) Hospital together with Rustenburg Town Clinic, which is 95 meters away from the hospital are being remodelled to make available 100 COVID-19 beds. The beds will be used for people who are not able to isolate at home. North West Health Administrator, Jeanette Hunter visited the JST hospital on Saturday (11 July) to check on progress. "The remodelling is at an advanced stage. We will be able to accommodate patients in the coming weeks. Post COVID-19, the wards will be used for gynaecology purposes," Ms Hunter said. Furthermore, two field hospitals are being planned in the District which will make available 500 beds on top of the above-mentioned 100. A site on the JST hospital grounds is being prepared to accommodate 300 bed field hospital with the remaining 200 beds going to Moses Kotane Hospital. The Department has received support from mining companies in Rustenburg. Royal Bafokeng Platinum partnered with the Department to build a 200 bed field hospital which is now operational. Bleskop mine hospital has also been made available for COVID-19 with additional 100 beds.

Royal Bafokeng Platinum opens 200-bed field hospital

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The Royal Bafokeng Platinum (RBPlat) together with the North West Provincial Department of Health recently announced the official opening of a 200-bed Royal Bafokeng Platinum Field Hospital in Rustenburg.

Gemoedere by oord steeds bewolk

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Hy het beslis nie 'n inwoner geklap nie. Nie een keer nie, en baie beslis nie tweé keer nie.

Só sê Frans Duminy, voorsitter van die bestuurskomitee van die Sonskyn-aftree-oord.

Duminy het reageer om 'n berig wat verlede week in die Rustenburg Herald verskyn het waarin 'n inwoner van die oord, Pieter du Preez vertel het hoe 'n woordewisseling oor 'n tuinwerker tot so 'n mate gewelddadig geraak het dat meneer Duminy hom twee keer teen die grond geslaan het.

"Pieter se beweringe is van alle waarheid gestroop," het Duminy in 'n persoonlike onderhoud met Rustenburg Herald gesê. Volgens hom is die enigste gedeelte wat korrek is, die feit dat die bestuurskomitee besluit het om nie inwoners se huis - en tuinwerkers toe te laat nie. "Die risiko is bloot te groot vir baie van ons inwoners. Nie almal kan al die ekstra sanitasiemiddelle bekostig nie en van die wooneenhede is ook te klein dat sosiale afstand na behore gehou kan word," verduidelik Duminy. Volgens Duminy is 'n persoonlike vergadering met Du Preez belê, maar het dié vergadering só ontaard dat hy dit verdaag het. Kort na dié vergadering het Du Preez toe wél sy tuinwerker laat inkom. "Ek het met die tuinwerker gepraat en vir hom gesê dat ek dit vir daardie dag sal oorsien, maar dit mag nie weer gebeur nie totdat die komitee die ja-woord gee nie," vertel Duminy.

Sy weergawe van die gebeure van 3 Julie verskil hemelsbreed van Pieter du Preez s'n. "Ek het die motorhek hoor oopgaan en, toe 'n voertuig nie in of uit nie, het ek ondersoek ingestel en gesien dis die tuinwerker. Ek het uitgestap en vir hom gaan vra wat gaan aan? Ek het dan die vorige keer mooi vir hom verduidelik dat hy nog nie mag kom werk nie. Pieter moes gesien het ek praat met die werker, en het op my afgestap. In die aankom het hy reeds op my begin skel," vertel Duminy. Hy sê Du Preez het toe die werker opdrag gegee om buite die hek te gaan wag. "Toe ek die pepersproei in Pieter se hand sien, het ek besef hoekom hy die werker weggestuur het," sê hy. Hy vertel verder dat Du Preez die pepersproeibottel op hom gerig het en dat hy probeer het om dit by 76-jarige af te neem. Du Preez het hom egter glo hewig verset en 'n stoeiery vir besit van die bottel het ontstaan. "En dis in dié proses wat Pieter op die grond beland het. Ek het hom nooit geslaan nie. Nadat ons van die grond af opgestaan het, het ek na my eie blyplek gestap. Pieter het my gevolg en gesê ek moet die pepersproei vir hom teruggee. Ek het geweier."

Duminy voeg dan by dat hy ook 'n ernstige besering aan sy regterhand opgedoen het toe Du Preez tydens die struweling sy duim agtertoe gebuig het. "n Beentjie het gesplinter en ek sal dalk 'n operasie moet ondergaan om dit te herstel," vertel hy. 'n Verslag van Dr Piet Genis bevestig dat Duminy 'n besering aan sy regterhand opgedoen het. Duminy het die dokter op 9 Julie gaan sien.

Hy sluit af deur te bevestig dat hy nou op sy beurt ook 'n klag van aanranding by die polisie gaan open het. "Ek het ook regshulp gaan inwin om die situasie by te lê," het Duminy gesê.

Manhunt launched for escapees awaiting trial detainees

RUSTENBURG HERALD - KOSTER - The police in Koster have launched a manhunt after 12 awaiting trial detainees escaped from lawful custody in the early hours of the morning (13 July).

The escapees, aged between 20 and 40 escaped after breaking and opening an exit hole on the wall according to Brigadier Sabata Mokgwabone, provincial police spokesperson. Two of the escapees have since been re-arrested.

The escapees are facing various charges such ranging from assault, burglary theft and possession of suspected stolen goods. Investigation into the matter is underway and police request anyone who may have information that can lead to the re-arrest of the escapees to call their nearest police station or contact Koster Detectives Branch Commander at 0823739689.

The field hospital was constructed in order to support government's already overburdened resources in the fight against COVID-19 and is to the value of approximately R10 million. Working together with the North West Provincial Department of Health and the Bojanala District Health Department, RBPlat converted its unused Maseve Mine, South Shaft Change House in the North West Province into a 200-bed Field Hospital to provide initial COVID-19 medical treatment to its employees and communities.

The 2 940 square meter treatment facility includes five wards, each with separate beds. Each bed has its own television and personal lockable locker to store patient valuables and is individually screened off from other patient beds for privacy. The wards have all been installed with sani-disc ultraviolet lights to kill any airborne diseases, as well as 108 caribbean 2 000 watts infrared heaters.

Speaking at the official opening, Steve Phiri, CEO of RBPlat said "The lobal COVID-19 pandemic and the steady increase in positive cases in South Africa, is a cause for concern and has encouraged us to identify projects that can offer support to our employees, our communities and government."

200-bed Royal Bafokeng Platinum Field Hospital launched.

Each individual bed has its own TV and personal lockable locker and is individually screened off from other patients to allow for privacy.

Shylock Farmer claims bribery for water services

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The owner of a smallholding just outside Rustenburg told Rustenburg Herald on Monday that he was being blackmailed and bribed by a municipal employee of the Rustenburg Municipality's in the "water services delivery department" for providing him with much-needed water for his farming and domestic needs.

The farmer's land is situated in the Shylock area barely 12 kilometers west of Rustenburg - an area that is notorious for its lack of potable water, hence the "intervention" by the Rustenburg Municipality to render water delivery services in the area. The farmer who is known to Rustenburg Herald, said that he is only one of several farmers/residents in the area who are dependent on the Rustenburg Municipality for their domestic water needs. Rustenburg Herald was told that some landowners in the area, apparently out of frustration, had begun to pay the truck drivers per load for the water which is now totally out of hand. A particular drivers has begun to insist on payment per truckload or by means of expensive whiskey in return for his valuable cargo, he said. Rustenburg Herald has lodged an urgent enquiry to the Communications Directorate of the Rustenburg Municipality who is investigating the allegations.

Brenda will stop at nothing!

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - "The human spirit really is capable of allowing the body to do anything."

Brenda Klopper's body might not be able to do all the things that most people take for granted, but this woman has never allowed anything to put restrictions on what she can do.

Brenda, who suffered a injury to her brain at birth, is living with cerebral palsy. But being, technically, bound to a wheelchair, is definitely not hampering her. She has done more, and achieved more, than most other people twice her age. Brenda has done bungee jumping, she has skydived and she walked on burning coals.

Why did she do that? Walking on coals?

"Because I wanted the fire to remind me to live with love, God's grace and a burning passion in my heart, inside of my soul. No matter how difficult life gets and how impossible everything appears. I will live with purpose. In many ways living with cerebral palsy, trying to make sense of life, finding meaning, and trying to make a difference, is just like walking on fire: it seems impossible at times; it may get really hot and exceptionally difficult; it may hurt and I may even get burnt. The good news is, it still remains possible, one step at a time. Being alive is a blessing - no matter how hot it gets!"

Brenda, who works for Sibanye, has just been nominated for a Women's Network award in the category 'Women in Community' - a title she would surely deserve. She has never focused on the fact that she does not have everything in life; She focused on all she does have - and what she can do for others. For her to walk with the help of a walking frame is really a challenge, it is not easy. Yet, she accepted a challenge to walk a number of laps in order to get donations for warm clothing and food for children who are less fortunate. "I have completed three laps already - seven to go, but I have already been able to hand over track suits and other necessities to families in need as part of the Walk for Warmth initiative."

This is just one of the community actions she is involved with. Before Lockdown she assisted with projects at Spes Bona in the city, as well a number of other activities.

"I love doing community work, I really do. It makes a difference, you can make an impact - whether big or small," says Brenda.

It explains then why she has chosen Social Work as her field of study. "I'm studying through Unisa and I still have a couple of modules left - but I'll get there,"

Brenda Klopper does not believe in living a small life. "I will live with purpose. In many ways living with cerebral palsy, trying to make sense of life, finding meaning, and trying to make a difference, is just like walking on fire."

Brenda loves to be outdoors and enjoys horse riding.

she says, laughingly. She jokes that she is a "well-rounded student" and then adds, more seriously again: "I have achieved distinctions, but I have also failed. I know how it feels to achieve, and I also know how it feels not to be able to complete something."

She has an impressive bucket list and one of the items she wants to achieve next is to go diving with sharks. But her biggest dream is to be able to walk on stage when she receives her degree. "I have not got to the details of how I will do that, but I have no doubt that it can be accomplished," she states confidently.

One of the reasons of her confidence is her mom Sharon. "I'm in awe of my mom every day. She is my angel, without her I'm lost."

The fuel tanker used to commit the crime was seized for further investigations.

Surf 'n Turf

Ingredients:

2 chicken breasts of 300 g each, cut in half horizontally
8 medium to large prawns
250 g pasta
Salt & pepper
1/4 cup flour
3 tbsp/30 g butter
1 – 2 garlic cloves minced
1 1/4 cups of chicken broth/stock
3/4 cup cream heavy thickened
3 – 4 tbsp lemon juice (adjust to taste – start with 3 tbsp)
2 tsp Dijon mustard (add flavor & thickens sauce)
3/4 cup freshly grated parmesan cheese (or store bought finely shredded batons), do not use sandy type of parmesan as this is difficult to melt)

Method:

Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper, then coat with flour, shaking off excess. Place butter in a large skillet over medium high heat, cook chicken 3 minutes each side until golden and crispy. Add 8 medium sized to large prawns and cook when chicken breasts are turned over. Remove onto plate.

Add a touch of butter if your pan is dry. Add garlic, stir quickly, then add chicken broth, cream, lemon and Dijon mustard. Bring to simmer and scrape the bottom of the pan to dissolve brown bits into the liquid. Use a whisk if needed to smooth sauce.

Add parmesan then simmer rapidly for 2 – 3 minutes or until sauce thickens slightly. Add salt, pepper and adjust lemon to taste. Return the chicken to the pan and add 8 x prawns (optional) - (pour in any juices on the plate too, (turn to coat).

(Cook 250g pasta of your choice in a separate pot and set aside. When chicken and prawns are ready to serve, dish up over pasta. Serve with mashed potatoes or mashed cauliflower for low carb – spoon over sauce.

Indeed a warm and inviting setting?

Dangerous, incomplete repairs by RLM

The Editor

This letter is aimed at the Municipal Manager. Despite attempts from the relevant Ward Councillor to get action, nothing gets done. The attached picture is of a hole in the road at a busy intersection in Protea Park as a result of burst water pipe repairs that RLM conducted several weeks ago.

Cars negotiating these holes have to manoeuvre in very dangerous ways to get through these intersections. I am aware that these are not the only incomplete repairs that currently pose traffic hazards in Rustenburg.

It is inconceivable that RLM creates traffic hazards that remain for weeks on end. Why they do not complete a job once it has been started is just unacceptable.

If sloppy and hazardous repairs of this nature were performed by a supervisor in the private sector, the supervisor would be out of a job very quickly. Can RLM not set a standard for this type of repair (e.g. complete re-tarring within 4 days) and stick to it?

Te laat vir 'n loopsoop

Vir die tweede keer in net meer as 100 dae is die Suid-Afrikaanse alkoholbedryf weens die jongste algemene alkoholverbod met die broek op die knieë betrap. Hierdie keer egter, sonder dat die bedryf selfs net 'n enkele dag gehad het om hom vir die droë weke wat voorlê, voor te berei.

Die rede wat president Ramaphosa vir die tweede verbod verskaf het, naamlik die bekamping van die onnodige besetting van hospitaalpersonnel en -beddens weens beserings/ongelukke/huishoudelike geweld as gevolg van oormatige alkoholgebruik, kan dalk met 'n knippie sout geneem word. Nie almal is oortuig van die regering se opregte bedoelings met die aankondiging van die jongste verbod nie, en die alkoholbedryf het onmiddellik heftig teruggekap omdat dit vir die tweede keer "duidelik" is dat die regering besig is om die verkeerde sektor as sondebok uit te sonder terwyl waarskynlik die grootste "oortreders" naamlik die taxibedryf, die begrafnisindustrie (wanneer dit hom pas) en die beperkings op openbare samekomste soos kerke, skole en so meer, van hul verantwoordelikhede en blaam kwytgeskeld word.

AgriSA het vroeg vandeelsweek in 'n sterk bewoorde verklaring die regering se jongste totale alkoholverbod as 'n drakoniese maatreël wat slegs een sektor van die SA-gemeenskap in 'n bykans wanhopige maatreël teiken, bevraagteken. Ten spyte van die jongste, maar nogtans verwagte toename in Covid-19 gevalle, is die regering bevoordeeld en laat hy byvoorbeeld die taxi-industry toe om met vol passasiersvragte voort te gaan, ten spyte daarvan dat dit steeds 'n blatante oortreding van die Covid-maatreëls is. Daarbenewens is die taxi-industry ook bekend vir sy weiering om maskers te dra maar geen maatreëls word hierteen ingestel nie. Dit bewys dat regering "bang is" vir die taxibedryf en dat dit vir hom makliker is om die alkoholbedryf as sondebok uit te sonder.

Die intelligente bestuur van drankverkope instede van 'n drakoniese verbod, sou 'n veel meer logiese stap gewees het, het AgriSA in sy verklaring gesê. Hy het ook gewys op die reuse finansiële bydrae tot die SA-ekonomie wat die drank- en alkoholbedryf jaarliks na die staatskoffers toe bring, om van die groot aantal werksverliese weens 'n totale alkoholverbod nie eens te praat nie, het AgriSA gesê.

Die bly egter 'n feit dat drankmisbruik in sekere gemeenskappe en die probleme wat daar mee gepaard gaan, ook 'n sondebok is wat aangespreek sal moet word.

Too late for a last round

For the second time in just over 100 days the South African alcohol industry was caught with its pants down. This time however, even without a single day's notice wherein it could prepared itself for what was about to follow.

The reason given by President Ramaphosa for the immediate outright ban of alcohol sales, which he claims to be the unnecessary occupation of hospital beds and personnel as a result of injuries/accidents/domestic violence attributed to alcohol abuse, is quite debatable to say the least. This was the key message of a strongly worded statement by AgriSA earlier this week when news about the latest alcohol ban broke. Not everyone is convinced of government's sincerest interests AgriSA said in its statement and responded with strong criticism against the fact that only one sector of society is targeted in an apparent desperate effort to curb the spread of Covid-19 despite numerous indications of widespread transgressions by other sectors, notably the taxi industry.

Why do we see no action taken against the SA taxi industry for its sustained refusal to limit passenger numbers to 50% or even to wear masks in their own vehicles? Surely it goes without saying that these transgressions are huge contributing factors which incidentally, are also prohibited by law in terms of the current lockdown, but there is no policing. Could this be because the President or government is afraid of the taxi industry, AgriSA asked.

It should be remembered that a number of other sectors in society, in particular the funeral industry and churches and perhaps even other social events all play an instrumental part in the spread of the pandemic and not only the alcohol industry. It is simply prejudice to imply that one industry alone is responsible for the increase in Covid-19 cases.

Instead, AgriSA would love to see the intelligent management of alcohol sales as opposed to an outright ban.

The organisation has also pointed out the enormous contribution made by the SA alcohol and beverages industry towards the SA economy every year and warned against a sharp increase in job losses due to yet another irresponsible ban of alcohol sales.

Cricket South Africa announces new date for inaugural Solidarity Cup match

RUSTENBURG HERALD - CENTURION - Cricket South Africa has announced a revised date for the inaugural Solidarity Cup match. The 3TCricket match, with three teams involved, will be played on Nelson Mandela International Day on 18 July. The match was initially scheduled for 27 June before being postponed due to ongoing fears over the Covid-19 pandemic. Cricket South Africa (CSA) on Wednesday announced a revised date for the inaugural Solidarity Cup match.

The governing body said that the 3TCricket match, with three teams involved, will be played on Nelson Mandela International Day on Saturday, 18 July.

But Wednesday's news comes after return to practice and play approval was granted by Minister of Sport Nathi Mthethwa. The match details remain the same, with Centurion's SuperSport Park the host venue and the starting time set for 11:00. The match will also still be broadcast live on SuperSport 2, with the team sheets not undergoing any changes. The three teams competing for the Solidarity Cup are the Eagles captained by AB de Villiers, Kingfishers captained by Kagiso Rabada and the Kites captained by Quinton de Kock.

"It's very exciting to get live cricket, featuring our top players, back on our TV screens again," commented CSA's acting CEO Jacques Faul. "I can't think of a more appropriate day on which to hold this game than Nelson Mandela Day when its prime objective is to raise funds for those who have been badly affected by the Coronavirus. "It is still nearly three weeks away, so it also gives our players more time to prepare properly and to minimise the chance of injuries. "I would like to thank the government and our own medical team once again for everything they have done to make a return to training and playing possible and I would also like to add special thanks to the incredible sponsors involved in this event for their continued commitment towards the match and its beneficiary, the Hardship Fund," Faul concluded.

SA Students score big in International maths competition

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - South Africa learners participating in the first Online Abacus and Mental Arithmetic championships between, South Africa, Egypt, Jordan, UAE, Saudi Arabia and Uzbekistan scored big in the recent international competition held on 5 July 2020.

The Covid-19 pandemic did nothing to deter the South Africa team of 10 who put on a great performance to 'cyber' walk away with the top honours with 2 x 1st places, 3 x 2nd places and the rest of the team scoring nothing lower than 9th in the various age groups. The learners all receive training from A+Students, a local franchise specialising in foundation phase Maths and mental Arithmetic by using the Abacus and their range of Play Maths products. Three of these learners are from Rustenburg: Group 3 (10 - 11 year olds) - Champion of Champion awards - Stiaan Scheepers of Laerskool Proteapark, Group 4 (12 - 13 year olds) - placed between 2nd and 4th - Antonio Khan and Group 5 (14 to 22 year olds) - placed between 2nd and 4th - Louis Scheepers.
