Municipal refuse services interrupted by protesters

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - A law enforcement team was tasked to escort a Rustenburg Municipal refuse truck operating in Rustenburg East-end earlier this week.

This follows after last week's incident wherein some a group of angry protesters stopped and damaged the truck, threatened workers and derailed the scheduled refuse collection service of the area for the whole week.

On Tuesday this week a group known as East-end Business Forum once again arrived and blocked the truck and threatened workers while they complained about a lack of consultation from the municipality and exclusion to benefit in such projects as local community members.

The team with the assistance of Mr Nkoana from the Waste Management Directorate managed to amicably resolve the matter at hand by scheduling a meeting to provide the group with all the necessary information and assistance relating to their raised concerns. The group later dispersed peacefully and the refuse collection service was allowed to continue.

Hefty hike in fuel price

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Since the oil price plummeted, resulting in great price reductions for SA consumers, it was only a matter of time before it would bounce back.

What is ironic, is that petrol was at its cheapest it has been in years when South Africans were prohibited from driving anywhere. The price hike came at midnight of Tuesday (29 June) - a result of a recovering oil price, and continued weakness in the rand. The expected hike pushed the price inland to around R15.13. Diesel, also inland, is now costing around R13.04. Illuminating paraffin has increased by more than R2.00

In April, oil plunged to a 21-year low after a slump in demand amid the coronavirus outbreak. But after dipping below $17 a barrel in April, Brent is now trading around $38. Prices started to rally last month amid signs of an economic recovery worldwide.

"The rebound in international oil prices has been as remarkable as their fall earlier in the year. The basic fuel price for petrol and diesel in South Africa jumped from around R3 a litre on 1 May to nearly R6 a litre by 25 June," While the rand strengthened by 34c against the dollar so far during June, it was still R2.50 below levels seen before the Covid-19 crisis.

Evotel ready to resume fibre roll out

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Rustenburg customers who have supported Evotel in its recent drive to roll out fibre technology in Rustenburg do not need to be concerned about the latest developments of an apparent standstill in the roll out.

"Evotel would like to reiterate that we are continuing our efforts to restart the project of installing our fibre to the home (FTTH) network for the benefit of the residents after the Rustenburg Local Municipality stopped the fibre roll out. We are unfortunately unable to give any updates on the matter, as it is the Rustenburg municipality who must allow the installation to go ahead. Any questions regarding the project and reasons behind the delay should be directed at the Municipality for clarity. Evotel realises that the interruption in the deployment of the network is causing difficulties for the residents of the town who are relying on a fast and reliable internet network. We can confirm that we are ready to resume the installation as soon as the Municipality resolved its concerns and allows the commencement of the project.

In terms of the "empty" masts around town, Evotel, like residents are waiting for a response from the local municipality. Once we have clarity we will communicate to residents the way forward", Bradley Bekker, head of sales and marketing at Evotel told Rustenburg Herald.

Mey-moord: uitspraak uitgestel

RUSTENBURG HERALD - KROONDAL - Die oorblywende beskuldigde in die moord op Amanda Mey sou vroe er di  week sy lot aangehoor het.

Aaron James Sithole (26) het aanvanklik saam met Koos Strydom (54) tereg gestaan vir die 2014 moord op Mey. Nadat Strydom egter verlede jaar vermoedelik sy eie lewe tydens aanhouding geneem het, was die verhoor vir 'n wyle uitgestel.

Daarna, met die aanbreek van inperking as gevolg van die Korona-epidemie, kon hofverrigtinge nie normaalweg aangaan nie. Maar Sithole sou Dinsdag (29 Junie) uitspraak in die Mey-moordsaak moes aanhoor. Hy het egter hofverrigting verskeie kere tot stilstand gedwing omdat hy glo siek gevoel het en herhaaldelik naar geword het.

Die saak is toe einde ten laas tot 20 Julie uitgestel. Sithole sal ook op 11 Augustus saam met sy broer, Jack Chinkinya Sithole (19), Alex Modau (36) en Strydom se vrou, Mercia (23) weer terug in die hof wees oor hul betrokkenheid by die 2017 moord op Joey en Anisha van Niekerk. Die Sitholebroers word, benewens die moord op die Van Niekerks, ook van verkragting aangekla. Al die beskuldigdes, behalwe Mercia wat borgtog ontvang het, is steeds in aanhouding.

COVID-19 cases reported at RLM

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - As the number of cases in Bojanala District passed the 2000 mark on Monday morning's statistics, various businesses and organisations have reported numerous positive cases of COVID-19.

The Rustenburg Local Municipality has been the latest to report positive cases of this highly infectious virus.

On Thursday (25 June) the Rustenburg Local Municipality issued a statement advising residents that one official at the office of the speaker had tested positive. Consequently the office was closed temporarily as per regulations.

"Another official from the Budget and Treasury Office was tested positive and the two officials were in self-isolation," Mr David Magae, spokesperson of the municipality said.

He said the municipality had to suspend services to ensure that the immediate work area and floor on which the employees were based was sufficiently disinfected.

As part of the safety measures, the leadership of the Municipality and officials were tested on Wednesday (24 June) and according to Magae four more cases were confirmed within the institution.

The Executive Mayor of Rustenburg Local Municipality, Cllr Mpho Khunou wished those who tested positive a speedy recovery.

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - With more learners expected to go back to school next week (6 July), the Department of Basic Education says while the decision to reopen schools was not taken lightly, as it tries to save what is left of the academic year, it is not going to gamble with human lives.

Basic Education Minister Angie Motshekga said they take their responsibility to manage public schooling very seriously, especially in the face of COVID-19.

In terms of assessment, Grade 12 learners are expected to write the et examinations based on the entire curriculum. Other grades will be given a reworked curriculum and assessed on 80 % thereof.

The May/June Exams for Grade 12s will be combined with the October/November Exams and rescheduled for November/ December 2020.

"We have developed a master curriculum recovery plan and all provinces have established Curriculum Committees at all levels," said Motshekga.

Meanwhile, plans are in place for all special schools to resume teaching and learning.

RLM Annual Budget 2020/21 approved

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The Council of the Rustenburg Local Municipal has approved the recently tabled Annual Budget for 2020/21.

This means that Rustenburg consumers will “pay” from Wednesday, 1 July, 2020 in terms of several hikes in municipal tariffs. The new tariffs will be reflected on municipal accounts sent out at the end of July 2020.

This year the Annual Budget has been a hotly debated and controversial issue. Opposition parties, notably the DA, the EFF and VF+ have all opposed the Budget. Only the Forum for Service Delivery supported the ANC controlled Council to pass the new budget. Keep watching Rustenburg Herald for all the latest.

Libraries, schools must help pay for Covid budget

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Finance minister Tito Mboweni delivered SA's coronavirus budget on Wednesday last week.

The massive reprioritisation of money to deal with Covid-19 has seen some deep cuts to existing allocations. Food security, land restitution, and school infrastructure will have to wait, and universities are getting only essential maintenance.

Libraries, spies, and the Square Kilometre Array have also seen cuts.

Tax income has plummeted just as new – and sometimes very large – expenses cropped up, finance minister Tito Mboweni told South Africa on Wednesday, as he delivered the emergency coronavirus budget.

Across government departments, vast sums of money have been reallocated to deal with mundane logistics such as sanitising rooms and vehicles, as well as to cushion the social and economic impact of the disaster.

In some areas, that means greatly reduced spending for at least the current financial year.

These are a few of the cuts to South Africa's national budget to make room for coronavirus spending, and where the money had been supposed to go:

- R2.2 billion for school infrastructure: R4.4 billion that was supposed to be used on school infrastructure has been reallocated to pay for disinfecting classrooms, providing soap and water, and rolling out mobile classrooms to reduce class sizes.
- R2.8 billion to upgrade mostly informal settlements: The human settlements development grant is losing around R1.7 billion, and the urban settlements development grant is being reduced by R1.1 billion, for a combined R2.8 billion.

Both grants deal largely with the upgrading of informal settlements, on provincial and metropolitan levels respectively.

- R2.9 billion on roads, and another R1.9 billion on public transport infrastructure: The South African National Roads Agency (Sanral) has lost just under R1.1 billion that had been earmarked as capital spending on non-toll roads.

A grant for the maintenance of provincial roads has also been reduced by R1.8 billion, with planned construction projects delayed.

Meanwhile the public transport network grant, which funds projects in 13 cities across the country, has also been reduced by just over R1.9 billion.

- R1.6 billion in trade and industry incentives: Between the many incentives – for both private and state companies – administered by the department of trade, industry and competition, some R1.6 billion will be postponed for a year at least.
- R312 million for community libraries: R10 million that would have gone to new libraries, upgrading existing libraries, and “the purchase of library materials” will now instead be spent decontaminating libraries.

The total spending on libraries has also been cut by R312 million.

- R78 million for the migration to digital television: Just over R78 million less will be spent on vouchers due to be handed to households to prepare them for the switchover to digital television, which means old analogue sets will no longer work.

See also: Up to 3.2 million SA households could be in line for free (or at least subsidised) TVs

- R90 million on military veterans: Transfers to households of military veterans have been reduced by R90 million, with an “expected reduction in houses to be built and bursaries required” for those veterans and their dependents.
- R284 million for better court buildings: A court infrastructure project, for both new buildings and upgrading existing ones, has been pushed out, with a budget reduction of R284 million for the year.
- R161 million to improve overcrowding in prisons: A “buildings and other fixed structures” budget for the department of correctional services, intended to help deal with overcrowded prisons, has had projects worth R161 million pushed out beyond the current financial year.
- R870 million for universities and TVET colleges: Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) colleges, and universities, have been put on essential maintenance only. Between that and a delay in new projects, their infrastructure budgets are down by R370 million and R500 million respectively.
- R780 million for land redistribution and restitution – and R1.1 billion for food security and production: Projects to buy land for redistribution will be suspended, saving R444 million, while the budget for payments in lieu of restitution of land has been reduced by R336 million, for a total of R780 million less across such projects.

Meanwhile a long list of projects to support farmers, expand agro-processing, and help increase food security will be reduced by a combined R1.1 billion.

- R500 million to connect more people to the power grid: The Integrated National Electrification Programme will get half a billion rand less to connect households to the electricity system in municipal areas, and for the rollout of bulk infrastructure to get electricity to more people.
- R200 million on spies: Transfers to SA's secret service agencies will be down R200 million due to what is described only as the “suspension of some activities”.

Electricity interruptions averted

Waldie Volschenk

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The Rustenburg community reeled with shock after an advertisement published by Eskom in Rustenburg Herald of 19 June 2020 wherein consumers were warned to brace themselves for power interruptions which were apparently inevitable as a result of the Rustenburg Municipality's alleged non-payment of its obligations to Eskom.

In the advertisement Eskom went to such extremes to include schedules of possible interruptions similar to load shedding schedules which were to be implemented shortly. In a statement released by the Rustenburg Municipality almost immediately, the RLM argued that it will be disputing the allegations of non-payment and that it is 100% convinced that its obligations toward the national electricity provider have been fully met.

It is with relief that Rustenburg Herald can announce this week that the two parties (Eskom and RLM) have met and agreed that the municipality will submit a payment arrangement and lodge a new dispute as what they have disputed was not exactly clear to Eskom's new General Manager. “Furthermore the two parties were also scheduled to meet on Wednesday, 1 July 2020 to deliberate the matters further. In the meantime disconnections will be suspended when the submission of the payment arrangement is received”, Khaya Mnyandu from Eskom North West Communications told Waldie Volschenk of Rustenburg Herald.

RRT technical demonstration

The leadership of Rustenburg Local Municipality was thoroughly impressed with the technical demonstration.

As per regulations, the Yarona bus will get sanitised to reduce the spread of COVID-19 as demonstrated.

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The Rustenburg Local Municipality on Monday (29 June) welcomed their first Yarona Bus to kick-off the technical demonstration and testing phase of the project at a session held at the Rustenburg Civic Centre.

Welcomed by the Executive Mayor of the Rustenburg Local Municipality, Councillor Mpho Khunou, accompanied by members of the Mayoral committee (MMC's) for Roads and Transport Councillor Lucky Kgaladi, former MMC for portfolio Councillor Joyce Mashini-Ntsime currently MMC for Corporate Support Services as well as the City's stakeholder on the project, said the Municipality had reached an important milestone of the project.

The Municipality's leadership approved the bus and gave the technical demonstration a thumbs-up. The Taxi Negotiating Forum, which was represented by Mr Cornelius Mogau, the forum's Chairperson, said the industry was overjoyed, that a significant achievement has been recorded, which can only mean the operation of the project is near.

The municipality further announced that it would be working together with the local taxi industry to integrate the public transport services- particularly taxis and buses. These services would be co-branded and use a single fare system once fully rolled out.

According to Mr David Magae, spokesperson of the Rustenburg Local Municipality, they plan to roll-out 10 buses for phase 1A of the system before the end of the year with a further 30 buses planned in the coming 24 months. In total 40 buses and 150 taxis would form phase of the first phase of the system.

Onduidelikheid oor privaat kleuterskole groot kopseer

RUSTENBURG HERALD - Rustenburg - Solidariteit se Beroepsgilde vir Maatskaplike Werkers en die Solidariteit Skole-ondersteuningsentrum (SOS) se saak teen die departement van maatskaplike ontwikkeling oor die heropening van kleuterskole wat op Dinsdag 23 Junie 2020 sou plaasvind, is uitgestel en sou vroeër die week voorgekom het.

Die beroepsgilde en die SOS het hulself tot die hof gewend oor die onduidelikheid wat tans deur die departement veroorsaak word omdat dié departement geen datums vir die heropening van privaat kleuterskole en dagsorgsentrums bekendmaak nie.

Datums vir die heropening van departementele kleuterskole is reeds deur die departement van onderwys bekend gemaak, maar privaat kleuterskole en dagsorgsentrums is nie daarby ingesluit nie.

"Talle kinders in departementele kleuterskole keer eersdaags terug skool toe terwyl duisende ander in privaat kleuterskole deur die staat van hierdie basiese reg ontnem word," sê Marisa Engelbrecht, sektorhoof by Solidariteit se Beroepsgilde vir Maatskaplike Werkers.

Leerders sal voorlopig soos volg terugkeer skool toe: 6 Julie 2020 - Graad RR, Graad R, Graad 1, Graad 2, Graad 3, Graad 6, Graad 10 en Graad 11; 3 Augustus 2020 - Graad 4, Graad 5 en Graad 8.

Só lyk die "groot" suurlemoen van Jolene Fourie in vergelyking met 'n standaard-suurlemoen en ja, werklik 'n kleinerige appeltjie. Dink net watter lekker suurlemoen-kaaskoek jy met hierdie knewel kan maak?

Jolene Fourie van Rustenburg Herald het vandeeweek 'n yslike suurlemoen by 'n vriendin present gekry en dit saam met haar werk toe gebring om 'n bietjie te kom spog. Die suurlemoen het 'n hele 600 g geweeg maar darem nie veroorsaak dat Jolene vir die hele week "suur" was nie. Sy het darem ook vir die kamera geglimlag.

Alice Hattingh van Sering-oord vier op 5 Julie 2020 haar 94ste verjaardag. "Verjaarsdae is altyd spesiaal en kosbaar. Ons kinders herdenk nie net mammy se geboortedag nie, ons herdenk ook die rede hoekom mammy geskape is. Baie geluk met hierdie groot mylpaal". Baie liefde, kinders, kleinkinders en agterkleinkinders.

Prasa volstoom op sous

Die jongste onthullings oor verskeie en blykbaar jarelange ongerymdhede by die Passasierspooragentskap van Suid-Afrika (Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa - PRASA) deur die voormalige Noordwes-premier en voorsitter van die raad wat dié beweerde ongerymdhede moes ondersoek - Popo Molefe - is veral ontstellend. Die jongste reeks onthullings het weereens die kollig op die wydverspreide voorkoms van gruwelike korrupsie by feitlik alle semi-staatsinstellings in die land ontbloot. Oudergewoonte laat dit die wenkbroue hoog lig oor die gewetenlose gestropery van openbare instellings en die politieke leierskap wat korrupsie nie net probeer toesmeer het nie, maar skynbaar ook gekondoneer het.

Die vraag moet weer gevra word hoe die ANC-leierskap dit moreel gesproke reggekry het om 'n land in die oë van sy onderdrukte massas uit die juk van sy politieke onderdrukkers te bevry, terwyl hy inderwaarheid net besig was om een korrupte bedeling ter wille van 'n ander te verruil, maar nog erger, deur homself, of die uitverkose groepie in sy topgelede, onmeetbaar te verryk deur die land en sy instellings van soveel as moontlik van sy hulpbronne te stroop. Die vryheidstryd van die afgelope 50 of 60 jaar dus, was bloot net om die juk van sy politieke onderdrukkers af te skud ten einde dié van sy ekonomiese onderdrukkers - boonop uit eie gelede - op te neem.

'n Oorlewende van een van die destydse vryheidsaktiviste - of die sogenaamde Cradock Vier soos hulle bekend staan (en vandeeweke presies 37 jaar gelede spoorloos verdwyn het en vermoedelik deur die destydse veiligheidspolisie ontvoer en nooit weer lewendig gesien is nie) het op 'n prominente radioprogram gesê die totale vryheidstryd van meer as 50 jaar het vir die meeste brandarm mense uit hoofsaaklik swart gemeenskappe tot absoluut niks gekom nie. Al wat in die proses gebeur het, is dat die swartman in Suid-Afrika gesien het en ironies genoeg, 'n groot rol daarin gespeel het dat die politieke en ekonomiese mag van 'n onderdrukkende apartheidsregering in die hande van 'n uitverkose groepie mense van hul sogenaamde bevridders oorgedra is.

Terloops - die getuie van Popo Molefe voor die Zondo-kommissie en sy vasberadenheid om die skuldiges te laat boet, laat uiteraard as ideale illustrasie van bogenoemde, die wenkbroue lig (of sak) oor die morele agteruitgang van die politieke leierskap van die regerende party oor die afgelope bykans 27 jaar.

Prasa steams ahead on gravy

The latest series of disclosures on decades of corruption at the Passenger Rail Agency of South Africa (PRASA) by the former North West Premier and Chairperson of the Board tasked to investigate the allegations of corruption - Popo Molefe - is indeed disturbing.

These disclosures have once again highlighted the need for urgent intervention into the widespread occurrence of corruption at virtually all government parastatals and have raised the eyebrows over the scandalous looting of public institutions and a political leadership of late who has not only endeavored to cover up corruption, but apparently also condoned it. The question must be asked again how the ANC leadership managed to morally justify what was called "liberating the country from its oppressors" in the eyes of the masses while in fact, it was only facilitating a swap of one corrupt dispensation for another by scandalously enriching a chosen few in its midst to beyond imagination. The goal of the freedom struggle of the past 50 or 60 years thus - to throw down the yoke of your political oppressors only to take up that of your economical oppressors, but even worse - from people within your very own ranks!

A survivor of one of the so-called Cradock Four as they were known and who disappeared without a trace this week exactly 37 years ago (they were presumably kidnapped and murdered by the then Security Police), told a prominent radio station on Tuesday that the Freedom Struggle of more than 50 years came to absolutely nothing for most desperately poor communities in South Africa - especially in rural communities. All that has happened was that the black man in South Africa saw, and ironically played a strategic role therein, how the political and economical powers of an oppressing apartheid government changed hands to that of a few chosen "leaders" among their liberators. Incidentally, the testimony of Popo Molefe at the Zondo Commission and his determination to see the guilty brought to book, also serves as perfect illustration of the tragic moral decline of the leadership in the country over the past 27 years!

Great start to SA-NZ group

Dear Editor

Thank you for publishing my letter regarding a local branch of the SA - NZ Club last week. The response was very favourable. To recap for those that might have missed my letter: Over the past few years, I have met numerous Rustenburg residents with family and other ties in New Zealand. I was going to take small gifts on my trip in September to visit my daughter and grandchildren in Auckland - however on hold due to the Corona Virus. I am in touch with the SA - NZ Club in Auckland and I really feel that we can reach out to each other and facilitate a number of creative ways to send our gifts and other letters. I would thus like to get in contact with other people in Rustenburg that have loved ones in the Land of the Silver Fern. People who would like to get in contact with me with regards to this can call or message/whatsapp me on 078 606 8250 or send an email to zandraemmanuel@gmail.com.

Rustenburg tennis on the ball again

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The global outbreak of COVID-19 has resulted in closure of schools, gyms, stadiums, pools, dance and fitness studios, parks and all school sport.

Under such conditions, many children tend to be less physically active and have longer screen time. Tennis is a powerful means to foster physical fitness, motor development and mental well-being while school sport and many other contact sports are not operating. Norval Tennis in Rustenburg, with former Olympic medal winner, Pietie

Norval, has the necessary Covid Tennis License to coach youngsters at Rustenburg Tennis Club. Here we comply with all the Covid sanitizing protocols and permits needed to coach at the Club and Pietie is also a Covid Official to ensure the safety of all participants. We are geared with a hands-free sanitizing stand proudly sponsored by De Wet De Villiers Brokers for easy sanitation. After Pietie's tennis career, he invested his knowledge, experience and love for the sport into the development of young tennis players.

Norval Tennis has options for small group lessons, individual and just fun lessons for kids and adults to help keep them healthy and active. Players of all ages are welcome to contact Norval Tennis at 066 287 6060 for more information.
