Bon appetit to our furry friends

For animals and pets in the care of the Rustenburg SPCA, Monday, 9 March was a wonderful day with literally loads of pet food and essentials delivered to the SPCA by a group of enthusiastic kids from Platinum Stars Nursery School. The learners and their parents responded with untold enthusiasm to a call on the Rustenburg community to contribute towards the plight of animals which are increasingly on the receiving end of hard times. The Rustenburg SPCA and animals in its care say a big "thank you" to Platinum Stars for bringing children up with the responsibility of caring for the animals which make our lives a lot of fun. From left at the back in the picture above are Alexi Erasmus, Clarissa Küsel, Skyler Hopley, Katelyn Grochowina, Afomia Boku, Elikiah Bota, Daniel Xie, Jaco Du Toit, Evan Fourie, Ronewa Chaka, Yafkal Teshome, Lihan de Wet, Morné van der Westhuizen, Juan de Villiers, Milan Vogt, Obakeng Langeni, Lanah van Staden, Miané Swanepoel, Elri-Rose Moore, Kourtney Beyers, Eduan Muller, Minke Vogt, Nicko Prinsloo, Lohan Oosthuizen, Warona Montsho, Reneilwe Huma, Lihan van der Riet, Miané Ekkerd, Jené Nortje, Nicolaas Opperman, Kabo Moseki, Arefa Mapeka, Linké Dos Santos, Tlotli Motiang, Allison Poggenpoel and Oabile Chitiyo. Mboweni's budget lenient on taxation

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Finance Minister Tito Mboweni has delivered his annual budget speech in the National Assembly on Thursday, 26 February and to the surprise of most South Africans who are used to bad news by this time, quite a consumer friendly Budget 2020 was proposed by the Minister. Great news for tax payers is that all tax payers will receive tax relieve of more than the inflation rate.

Tax rates and scales of individuals and special trusts will be as follows:

Taxable income/tax rate

* 0 to - R205 900 - 18 % of taxable income;
* R205 901 to R321 600 - R37 062 + 26% of taxable income above R205 900;
* R321 601 to R445 100 - R67 144 + 31% of taxable income above R321 600;
* R445 101 to R584 200 - R105 429 + 36% of taxable income above R445 100;
* R584 201 to R744 800 - R155 505 + 39% of taxable income above R584 200;
* R744 801 to R1 577 300 - R218 139 + 41% of taxable income above R744 800;
* R1 577 301 and more - R559 464 + 45% of taxable income above R1 577 300.

All rebates will be slightly increased. The primary rebate for tax payers younger than 65 is R14 948, secondary rebates for tax payers of 65 years and older is R8 199 and tertiary rebates for tax payers of 75 and older will be an additional R 736. This will mean tax thresholds will increase to R83 100 for persons of 65 and younger, R128 650 for persons of 65 and older and R143 850 for tax payers of 75 and older.

Tax on dividends and exemptions on interest

Tax on dividends will remain unchanged at 20% - so will exemptions of R23 800 for tax payers younger than 65 and R34 500 for tax payers of 65 years and older.

Capital Gains Tax (CGT)

Inclusion rates of capital gains will remain 40% for natural persons and 80% to companies and trusts. This means the maximum CGT will be charged as follows:

Natural persons and special trusts: 18%;

Companies: 22.4%;

Other trusts: 36%;

Annual exclusions will remain R40 000 and exclusions in case of death R300 000.

Transfer duties

Relieve will be granted on transfer duties with regard to property obtained by any person, (companies, closed corporations and trusts included). The new rates are as follows:

Assessment rates

Value of property/tax rate

* 0 - R1000 000 - 0% of property value;
* R1000 001 to R1 375 000 - 3% of value above R1 000 000 but not more than R1 375 000;

* R1 925 001 to R2 475 000 - R44 250 plus 8% of value above R1 925 000 but not more than R2 475 000;
* R2 475 001 to R11 000 000 - R88 250% plus 11% of value above R2 475 000 but not more than R11 000 000;
* R11 000 000 and more - R1 026 000 plus 13% of value above R11 000 000.

A tax payer will be allowed to deduct contributions to retirement funds up to a maximum of 27.5% of reimbursement for tax purposes of taxable income, whichever is larger (excluding retirement fund contributions and severances). Deductions are limited to R350 000.

The changes in foreign exchange will include the review of retirement funds.

Tax free savings accounts: The maximum annual contributions to tax free savings accounts will increase to R36 000 per annum. The rate of Value Added Tax remains unchanged at 15%.

As from 1 March 2020, any South African working abroad for more than 183 days per year, will receive exemption from tax on the first R1 250 000 of their foreign salaries. All other forms of income will be excluded.

Fibre roll out halted, or has it?

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Evotel contractors, responsible for the roll out of fibre technology in Rustenburg and consumers as well as the Rustenburg Municipality are tied in a standoff of which the outcome will have to be settled in the Mahikeng Court following outcries and complaints by numerous consumers on the procedures followed by contractors.

Several consumers backed by the Rustenburg Municipalilty allege that concerns by the public that proper procedures for the roll out of new age technology in recent weeks did not meet modern standards and at the very least, do not remotely meet expectations that have been created, indeed have merit. The main obstacle behind the standoff between the two entities remains the issue of, as has been called "unsightly" overhead poles and cables to be strung throughout the community.

The make matters worse - there is a clear indication that the Rustenburg community is divided on the issue, with many consumers welcoming the fibre technology by any means and in any way possible, with others objecting to ugly tar poles in intervals of every 30 meters or so along countless Rustenburg roads and street corners. A number of community meetings which have been convened by the contractor, did little to resolve the issue and accusations that the contractor did not follow reasonable protocol in terms of its public participation obligations, continued.

The latest development came on Thursday, when, according to a Councillor of the Rustenburg Municipality, an application for a Court interdict to halt the process, was granted by the Mahikeng High Court. "This renders the entire process followed thus far as illegal, naturally, with the contractor at liberty to oppose the matter". The Rustenburg public was subsequently called upon to report the "illegal" continuation of the fibre roll out to the nearest municipal Councillor, Rustenburg Herald was told. This was vehemently denied by an Evotel spokesperson who told Rustenburg Herald that though the RLM has applied for an interdict, this doesn't mean that it has been granted nor served as yet. As far as the Rustenburg Municipality is concerned, the installation of fibre has been ordered to cease with immediate effect. In addition, the Rustenburg Municipality maintains that there is (at least from within Council ranks) general concensus that the contractor has very little in terms of official approval with way-leave directives provided by Council being the only official documentation.

But Evotel strongly disagrees: "We can confirm that we received an application for an interdict last week and we have responded with an answering affidavit, Mr Albert Oosthuyzen, CEO of Evotel said. "We have furthermore met with the Municipal Manager on 27 February where we tried to find a resolution with him. At the meeting, we suggested several solutions such as a hybrid aerial/trenched solution, but he then suggested that we meet with the Ward Councillors and find a resolution with them first. The MM and Ward Councillors then had a meeting set for 3 March and Evotel requested permission to attend. However, our request was ignored. We were not invited and thus not present at all. Though there are allegations that we have attended, the attendance register clearly shows otherwise. Due to the lack of communication and opportunities to find resolutions and since we had permission from the municipality in hand, we continued to build, at all times within the ambit of the law and per the way-leaves granted by the Municipality", he continued.

"Though we continued to press for an opportunity to meet, all our requests were ignored. We are of the view that it was not necessary for this matter to go to court, as we have always been and still are open for constructive consultation with the municipality. We still very much hope to find an amicable resolution, but sadly the Rustenburg Municipalilty informed us that it would rather approach the court", Oosthuyzen concluded.

Giannacopoulos Group heads to the Labour Court

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The Giannacopoulos family group, which owns more than 40 stores in Spar Group Limited, has filed review applications in the Labour Court against the Commission for Conciliation Mediation and Arbitration (CCMA). The Commission recently issued eight arbitration awards of almost R12 million against the group.

The awards were issued on 13 February but the Giannacopoulos group only became aware of this event eleven days later by way of a press release published on the website of the Department of Employment and Labour.

The Commissioner of the CCMA, Segokodi Thoka, is the first respondent in the review application. The CCMA and the Director General of the Department of Employment and Labour are the second and third respondents respectively. In the notice of motion to the court the Giannacopoulos group's attorney, Mary Erlank, calls upon the CCMA to show cause why the awards should not be reviewed and corrected, or set aside.

Christos Giannacopoulos, who owns the eight stores in question, states in an affidavit that various items of correspondence regarding the matter were exchanged between Erlank and the CCMA, the last being a letter confirming in detail that all the requirements had been met. No reply was received.

Giannacopoulos says Commissioner Thoka disregarded current legislation by not referring the matter to an arbitration hearing, especially as there are massive disputes of fact in the compliance orders.

The Department of Employment and Labour was given until 10:00 on Thursday, 3 March, to indicate whether it agreed to stay the execution of the awards. They did not respond and the Giannacopoulos group will soon launch an urgent application in the Labour Court, the group said in a statement.

Unity is Chamber's 2020 focus

RUSTENBURG HERALD - POTCHEFSTROOM - The NW Chamber of Commerce and Industry (NWCoCI) has, at the Annual General Meeting that was held last week, decided to prioritise unity amongst all business people in the province as the only way to improve growth in the North West Province.

Speaking after the meeting, the new Chairman, Nick Setsetse from Mahikeng Chamber of Commerce and Industry, said that unity amongst all business people is the only way to achieve growth in the economy of the NW Province and by doing so, much needed jobs can be created. "The economy of the North West Province is dominated by mining (more than 30% of the provincial economy) followed by manufacturing with 5%, agriculture with between 2-3% and construction also between 2-3%. On the national scale, only the provincial mining and agriculture industries made significant contributions. Yet, the agro-processing industries, tourism, general manufacturing, mineral beneficiation, renewable energy sources, recycling in a green economy, research and development as well as technology are all part of the 9 economic sectors that can contribute significantly to "job-hunger" provincial communities", Setsetse said. "In this regard a conducive environment, in which small concerns can do business, needs to be created. We need to grow the economies of townships and small dorpies as the past number of years' economic growth in the province was way below an idealistic 6% target required to start addressing the concerning unemployment".

"But for both the Provincial - and Local government needs to engage successfully with businesses in the Province. They also need to be knowledgeable regarding the state of the economies in the townships and small dorpies in the Province", he said. In this regard the NWCoCI is also in the process of setting up Chambers in all of the 18 Municipalities in the Province. "For this to happen speedily, the Chamber would need help from Government at all levels", he said.

The new management for the next two years is:

TANS GEEN BEVESTIGDE GEVALLE IN NW NIE

Koronavirus: Feite en fiksie

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Al doen tientalle gerugte die rondte, is daar nie 'n enkele geval van iemand wat positief getoets is vir die Koronavirus in Rustenburg nie - en ook nie in die héle Noordwes nie.

'n 26-jarige vrou van Vryburg is vroeër die week na die Tshepong Hospitaal in Klerksdorp oorgeplaas vir toetsing, maar die toets was negatief.

Teen Dinsdagoggend (10 Maart) was daar sewe bevestigde gevalle in Suid-Afrika - ses van hulle is in Kwa-Zulu Natal, terwyl een in Gauteng. Al sewe dié mense was deel van 'n toergroep wat aan die begin van Maart van Italië af teruggekeer het. Sedert die eerste geval in KZN bekend gemaak is, het 'n boodskap op whatsapp in Rustenburg versprei dat die virus ook nou hier bevestig is. Dit het tot mini-histeria op sosiale media gelei.

"Dit is tragies dat daar mense is wat so desperaat na aandag soek dat hulle bereid is om vrees te saai," het 'n kundige aan Rustenburg Herald gesê en daarop gewys dat 'n vrou wat verlede week sulke gerugte versprei het nou krimineel aangekla word.

Belangrik om te onthou, is dat dié virus geen doodsvonnis is nie; die oorgrote meerderheid wat dit opdoen, herstel vinnig en volkome. Die groot gevaar is vir mense met verswakte immuunstelsels en ander onderliggende siektetoestande.

Die beste raad wat gesondheidskundiges het, is: hande was, hande was, hande was!

Hier is, behalwe handewas, nog 'n paar wenke om die virus op hok te hou:

- Vermy kontak met mense wat lugweginfeksie het.
- Moenie aan jou neus, oë en mond met ongewaste hande vat nie.
- As jy moet hoes, staan so ver as moontlik weg van ander mense. Bedek jou neus en mond met 'n kledingstuk, of jou gebuigde elmboog of 'n sneesdoekie (wat jy daarna onmiddellik weggooi). Was jou hande direk daarna.
- Moenie in die openbaar spoeg nie.
- Maak oppervlakte en voorwerpe wat baie gebruik word gereeld en deeglik skoon.
- Moenie rou, of halfgaar kos van dierlike oorsprong eet nie.Hanteer rou vleis, melk of dierlike organe met sorg om kruisbesmetting te voorkom. Gebruik verskillende snyborde en messe vir rou vleis en ander voedsel. Was jou hande wanneer jy klaar met rou vleis gewerk het en voor jy dan weer aan ander kos raak.
- Moenie vleis eet van diere wat vermoedelik aan 'n siekte dood is nie.

JST Hospital CEO hits the ground running

Rustenburg residents are introduced to the new CEO of Job Shimankana Tabane Hospital Mr A.P. Mvula. Mvula has been in office since 1 April 2019. With a little less than a year since his appointment Mvula has put many plans in place to turn the hospital around especially on issues of capacity and other issues that the community has been complaining about in the past. The Rustenburg Herald had an exclusive interview with the CEO on issues facing the hospital. Please read next week's edition of the Rustenburg Herald and Bonus for more information on the interview that was conducted by Jabulani Senyatso of the Rustenburg Herald.

CORONAVIRUS

DO NOT spread panic

In response to clamping down on the spread of the Novel Coronavirus (Covid-19), a screening station has been placed at the entrance to Job Shimankana Tibane Hospital in Rustenburg. The protocol is also in place to isolate any patient that presents with COVID-19 symptoms. These patients will be directed to an isolation ward where their history will be taken and relevant tests will be carried out. The patient will be kept in isolation until the test results are available. If the tests are positive for COVID-19, the patient will be transported under quarantine to the designated hospital in Klerksdorp. Training of the general staff is ongoing.

Border post screening a concern

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Conflicting reports and the social media monster have led to concerns among the public and travellers especially that it is not entirely a given that the South African government is doing all in its power (as has been declared by the National Department of Health and President Cyril Ramaphosa) to maintain absolute vigilance and strict measures to fight the spread of the Coronavirus which is threatening society.

In an alarming incident reported to Rustenburg Herald by a group of travellers between South Africa and neighbouring Botswana, the issue of alleged little Coronavirus screening on the South African side of the Kopfontein/Tlhokweng Border post is a matter of grave concern.

According to a spokesperson of the group, screening measures were duly followed by Boswana officials on entering Botswana, only to experience exactly the opposite by South African officials on the group's return to South Africa.

Whereas the Botswana officials were properly briefed and exemplary in their conduct, the same however, according to the source, couldn't be said on the South African side - where officials were reported to be rather lacklustered in officiating their duties.

Enquiries to the Department of Home Affairs and SARS, only served to notify us that the issue is handled by the Department of Health. This department has acknowledge receipt and said that it would respond to our enquiries in due time.

At the time of our going to print, no such feedback was yet received.

30-year sentence for rapist, robber

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The Rustenburg CBD is now a better place after the Rustenburg Regional Magistrates Court sentenced Bog Boy "Biggy" Molefe (28) to 30 years imprisonment on Tuesday (3 March) for robbery with aggravating circumstances, robbery and rape.

According to Sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi, police spokesperson in Rustenburg, on Sunday (12 August 2018) a 27-year-old lady was walking towards the Rustenburg Taxi Rank along Bethlehem Street in the early hours of the morning when Molefe approached her, forced her to walk with him. He then forced her to a secluded place where a fight ensued. Once she could not fight anymore Molefe raped her and also robbed her of her cellphone and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Witnesses who were terrified of Molefe assisted the lady after the incident and helped her identify Molefe to the police. She managed to open a case and it was assigned to Captain Mokgatlhe Mokgatlhe of the Rustenburg FCS who through his hard work and dedication managed to secure a sentence. On another separate incident Molefe gave his victim a soft drink which was spiked. He then took her to a nearby bush at the taxi rank and repeatedly raped her. The victim also managed to open a case against Molefe.

Suspected dagga dealers arrested

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - On Thursday evening (5 March) at around 19:00 Traffic officials were on duty when they spotted a silver VW Polo sedan with a Botswana registration number, driven by two occupants on the R24 between Rudan and the Shell Garage.

According to Rustenburg Cluster police spokesperson, Captain Elsabé Augoustides, the traffic officials indicated to the driver that he had to stop. The driver did not comply and members of the SAPS were requested to assist. K9 and VCIU members assisted and the vehicle was intercepted and searched.

The suspects, two Botswana citizens, aged 26 and 32 were detained on charges of dealing with dagga. The suspects appeared in the Rustenburg Magistrate's Court on Monday (9 March). The vehicle was rented from a private company and was seized during the arrest of the two suspects.

Warning to men at nightclubs

RUSTENBURG HERALD - PHOKENG - The police would like to warn men, especially those going to nightclubs, taverns and pubs in and around Phokeng to be careful when offering ladies lifts to their places of residence.

This warning comes after it has been reported numerous times about women pretending that they are in need and once you offer your assistance you get robbed.

In a recent incident that happened in Phokeng, a man was sitting in the pub late at night and was approached by two ladies who claimed that they needed accommodation and were not familiar with the area. The man felt sorry for them and offered to take them to his house, in Phokeng. The following day the man to his shock, discovered that he was a victim of a crime when the two ladies were nowhere to be found in the morning and they stole some of his household items as well as his vehicle. A white Hyundai H1.

"We urge men to be on high alert and refrain from taking strangers to their houses," said Rustenburg police spokesperson, Sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi.

Burglary suspect sentenced

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - In a continued effort to clamp down of property related crimes, the Rustenburg Regional Magistrates Court on Tuesday (2 March) sentenced Danny Maruma (22) to five years direct imprisonment for housebreaking with intent to steal and theft.

His sentence comes after he was arrested on 26 October 2019 for breaking into a house in upper town Rustenburg. According to Sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi, Police Spokesperson in Rustenburg Maruma, who also stays in the vicinity of the area where the crime was committed, saw the owner of the property leaving the premises, he then took advantage of the fact that the property in question was not locked. He went into the house and started looting items ranging from cell phones, and jewellery as well as clothes to name a few. While inside the house, he noticed that the lady staying there was still in the house, they crossed eyes and the lady ran to her room and locked herself for safety. Maruma then ran away but came back for the other items that he left behind. He was arrested and linked to the crime through the investigative efforts of Warrant Officer Joseph Modise and his team. Bail was successfully opposed until Maruma's sentence.

Beware of fake online motor dealers

RUSTENBURG HERALD - MASOSOBANE - Are you considering purchasing a vehicle from an online dealer? well if that is the case, the police in Rustenburg would like to warn potential vehicle buyers to be very careful when considering purchasing vehicles from online dealers. According to Sergeant Ofentse Mokgadi, police spokesperson in Rustenburg buying vehicles online could mean if you are not careful you might end up falling victim to scams.

In a recent incident which took place in Masosobane, Phokeng, a lady saw a pamphlet where a Toyota Quantum was advertised. She got in contact with the dealer on Whatsapp and telephonically and enquired about the vehicle. The dealer told her in order for her to secure the vehicle she would have to transfer a certain amount of money. Which she did.

The dealer then told her that in order for them to deliver the vehicle to her she would have to pay the balance. Which she also did. but upon paying the rest of the money, the dealer's phone stopped working and that is when she realised that she was a victim of a crime. A case was opened with the police. "We urge our residents to be very careful when coming to online purchases and make sure that the dealer is legit before depositing any money," Mokgadi said.

Why aerial fibre?

Aerial fibre allows for a faster build time, therefore services will be available sooner. Aerial installations carry less risk of damaging municipal services. Alows for quicker repair times, creating consistent service.

Won't aerial fibre affect the suburbs aesthetic?

Evotel aims to use as much of the exisiting infrastructure as possible. Extra poles are only planted to supplement where needed and are as close to the trees where possible, to further blend in.

Won't the fibre rollout increase cable theft?

Our fibre cables contain no copper or metals. Due to the materials used to construct the fibre, it holds no steet resale value. Therefore reducing the risk of cable theft.

How does Evotel get the community involved?

Evotel has employed over 174 local labourers and contractors when deploying our fibre rollout. Evotel will be giving free fibre to each school that falls within our fibre build.

Will Evotel cut down the trees in your suburb to string fibre?

No.

Who pays to have Evotel fibre built in their area?

Evotel is a private company investing its own money on the risk that service is taken up by the community.

Veseltegnologie en Rustenburg nog nie maats nie

Die Rustenburg-gemeenskap is in sy jong bestaan (goed, ons weet dit is die tweede oudste dorp in die ou Zuid-Afrikaanse Republiek) vir die soveelste keer nie net op die agterpote nie, maar skynbaar erg verdeeld oor die sogenaamde "roll out" van veseltegnologie wat in die afgelope net meer as 'n maand vir groot ongelukkigheid gesorg het. Nadat veseltegnologie nou al vir seker 'n goeie vyf jaar indien nie langer nie, die nuwe gonswoord in ons land geword het waarna almal ongetwyfeld uitgesien het, is die jongste stukkie kommunikasietegnologie besig om die gemeenskap te verdeel en woed daar etlike weke reeds 'n storm van protes in sommige gemeenskappe oor die metode van installasie waarop die kontrakteurs besluit het, terwyl daar in ander geledere weer blyk dat sommige mense so desperaat vir vinniger Internet en kommunikasie is dat die presiese wyse van installasie nie regtig saak maak nie, net solank die tegnologie beskikbaar is.

'n Prominente kontrakteur wat etlike weke gelede plaaslik die voortou geneem het met die "uitrol" van veseltegnologie, het in die laaste week of wat die spreekwoordelike wind van voor gekry met protesgroepe aan die een kant wat luidkeels beswaar maak oor die oorhoofse bedrading en onaansienlike teerpaal-infrastruktuur wat in die proses gebruik word en ander wat blykbaar meen dat daar trouens soveel ander gebreke soos slaggate, swak paaie, gebrekkige waterinfrastruktuur en eindelose kragonderbrekings is, wat veel meer aandag regverdig as 'n paar ou teerpaaltjies wat netjies geplant is maar tog sonder voortdurende onderbrekings 'n vinnige en betroubare diens kan lewer. In laasgenoemde kringe is daar natuurlik ook baie mense wat reken dat die praatjies oor onooglike teerpale en oorhoofse bedrading erg oordrewe is terwyl Rustenburg nou al lankal gewoond geraak het aan dienslewering wat meestal allermins as derde wêrelds beskryf kan word.

Terwyl die stryd tussen die verskillende partye pas in die Mahikengse Hoogeregshof gedraai het, is hierdie dalk net weer vir Rustenburgse verbruikers 'n duidelike teken of waarskuwing dat aktiewe openbare deelname deur gemeenskappe nie net 'n proses vir die wetboeke is nie. Maak seker dat jy weet wat in jou gemeenskap aangaan, hoe dit gedoen word, wie die rolspelers is en bowenal, of jy uiteindelik die diens kry waarop jy geregtig is - kortom - laat jou stem hoor - woon openbare deelname-vergaderings by - dit is in jou eie belang!

Fibre technology and Rustenburg not friends yet

In its young age (yes, yes, we know it's the second oldest town in the "old Transvaal") the Rustenburg Community is once again not only up in arms, but apparently profoundly divided over the roll out of fibre technology of recent months. After fibre technology became the latest buzz word of the past five years if not longer, "fibre" has since become a term very likely to elicit a number of swear words in describing the community's divided interest or disgust with the latest technology which is now available in Rustenburg for practically the first time.

Anyone with high hopes of enjoying the fibre age in our little town will tell you that to date all that fibre technology has brought, was clear proof that there are two sides to any issue. At public meetings convened in the hope of clearing misconceptions and encouraging involvement in what was about to happen, contractors had to deal with strong opposition from consumers (and the Rustenburg Municipality) who are objecting to the roll out of "unsightly" tar poles and overhead cabling throughout the city. Others on the other hand, argue that Rustenburg City became such a battlefield of poor service delivery and flawed infrastructure in recent years, that First World sophistication with regard to the installation of new tegnology (that is in fact super efficient and trouble free) wouldn't make much difference anyway. Few residents of our wonderful city could be unaware of numerous municipal challenges facing Rustenburg.

While the conflict between the contractor and the Rustenburg Municipality and its supporters is mounting, the latest issue clearly provides proof of a deeply divided city and people who are ignorant towards an important issue on home turf. And which is more - why events such as public participating meetings should be regarded as so much more than a nuisance, but an invitation to be part of crucial developments in your city and one of the few opportunities to let yourself be heard - come on - it's in your own interest, attend those meetings!

Ouers: Wees verantwoordelik!

Geagte redakteur

Hier is 'n tendens in Rustenburg wat my baie ontstel. Oral waar mens ry, sien jy klein kindertjies op sitplekke staan, voor op ma se skoot of wat by vensters uit hang terwyl die voertuig beweeg. Nêrens 'n teken van dié kinders vasgegespe in veiligheidstoestelle - soos wat deur die WET VEREIS word nie.

Verlede week was ek op pad huis toe toe ek by die verkeerslig naby Bergsig Akademie stilhou. Voor my het 'n voertuig ook gewag, 'n klein blondekop dogtertjie het halflyf by die agtervenster uitgehang. Die twee mense voor in die motor het vrede met die kind gehad.

Behalwe dat sy kan uitval, is dit ook ewe maklik vir iemand om verby die voertuig te loop, die kind te gryp en met haar te verdwyn. Ek is self 'n ma, en nee, ek is ook nie perfek nie - maar al wat ek kan vra is dat ouers alles in hul vermoë moet doen om die veiligheid van hul kinders te verseker. Dis nie net jou plig nie, dis die wet.

Good hygiene is the only prevention

Dear Editor

This message to you is in connection with the Coronavirus.

My concern is that in my opinion, without any negative reflections, sufficient and drastic action is not being taken in the protection of the population against the virus. During April this year I will be 92-years-old. My mother used to tell me of the devastating flu pandemic in 1918 when she was a young girl. Her father, naturally most concerned with the protection of his family, ensured that each member of the family had to sniff through the nose and out through the mouth at least a full 'kommietjiie' of luke warm water mixed with salt. And not one of them fell ill!

My mother instilled this in her own children as well. I later added sugar and bicarbonate of soda - this is to soften the saltwater in the nose. I can declare that it has served me well in more than nine decades.

Thus, my answer to people scared of contracting the disease is, in my opinion, is to clear oneself of viruses, germs and undesirable matter by this method. Twice a day - mornings and before going to bed at night - sniff your mixture and keep this virus, and any other, away.

Mike Jonker, Rustenburg, via email.

How to protect our children

The editor

How do we protect our children in a society filled with violence, specifically Gender Based Violence in the household?

Children may experience violence in many settings, including at home, in school, online or in neighbourhoods, and in many forms, such as bullying or harassment by peers, domestic violence, child maltreatment and community violence.

Grace Help Centre is committed to easing the plight of abuse that affects our most vulnerable and we are currently home to 50 children. Thus our mission is to share as much information as we can to educate. The World Health Organisation distinguishes four types of child maltreatment: physical abuse; sexual abuse; emotional (or psychological) abuse; and neglect.

If you or someone close to you is going through any of these forms of abuse, please feel free to contact Grace Help Centre. Our crisis line: 072 348 6526, feel free to view our Facebook page: Grace Help Centre and post a message or connect with us.

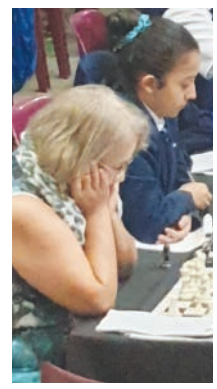
Rustenburg Chess Club makes smart moves

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Rustenburg Chess Club (RCC) members took part in the Annual Chess Tournament hosted by Laerskool Proteapark on 29 February 2020. Coach Martin Nkuna was especially excited about the diverse group of members playing in the tournament ranging from four-year old Roche Aysen to Bulgarian grandmother, Lidiya Guinelieva (65 years old) playing in the tournament with her two grandsons, Adriaan and Andrey.

More than fifty players from RCC played in the tournament with top placements across seven sections. What makes this tournament unique is the allocation of players in sections, which is based on CHESSA ratings, rather than age groups. With the South African Closed Chess Championship (SAJCCC) around the corner this provides an ideal opportunity for younger players making strategic moves against much older players to prepare them for this prestigious, invitation only tournament. Coach Martin Nkuna has great aspirations for RCC and the future of the club and believes that Chess is not only a game but provides the opportunity to teach life skills and strategic thinking at the same time.

Coach Martin Nkuna and youngest player, Roche Aysen.



Oldest player, Lidiya Guinelieva.

Selly Park Secondary School visited by the Rustenburg Lion's Club

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Rustenburg Lion's Club visited Selly Park Secondary School on Friday (28 February) to teach 150 Grade 9 and Grade 10 learners how to make Lion Snugglers.

The Lions Snuggler is a sleeping bag made from plastic, newspapers and box tape.

The students gathered in the school hall and after a demonstration by members of the Rustenburg Lions Club, the learners were divided into 11 groups where they then applied their new skills in the making of Lion Snugglers.

A total of 44 lions Snugglers were made during the morning. These sleeping bags will be distributed to less fortunate persons as a temporary relief from nature's cold at night.

"Thank you to Mrs Pieterse for facilitating the project, also thank you to the Principal Mrs Heidi Lowe who came to see how her students learned a new skill," said the Rustenburg Lions Club.

Zinniaville Secondary School receives a prize

Zinniaville Secondary School wins prize.

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - On Wednesday (4 March) Zinniaville Secondary School was presented with a R10 000 cash prize. The school came third in the North West province in the 2019 Simama Ranta School Entrepreneurship competition, the Eskom Development Foundation announced.

Simama Ranta, which means " empowering the South African economy", initiated by Eskom Development Foundation in collaboration with the Education with Enterprise Trust (EWET), aims to identify and acknowledge South African Secondary Schools that are leading the way in education initiatives aimed at entrepreneurship. The intention is to enourage learners to become employers rather than employees.

The learners at the school manage a market day where various products are sold. They also organise an annual Fun Run which is open to community members. The club also has a successful gardening project.

As part of their project, Zinniaville aims to make a valuable contribution to their immediate community. They provide food and clothing to fellow learners who are in need as well as a local orphanage. "Among the many lessons we learnt throughout the competition, the most important was that becoming a successful entrepreneur takes time. It was great to meet all of the other finalists from around the country. Their passion for changing their environment was very inspiring," said an overjoyed Stuart Leseane, learner at Zinniaville.

Eskom's Customer Relations Manager in the North West, Ezekiel Baruti, extended his congratulations and inspired the learners to keep pushing: "Growth starts with that first step taken, the first product made and sold, the first market day. This is a cause for celebration. Your third-place finish will hopefully inspire you to go for the big one this year- you can do it."

The competition is open to South African intermediate and secondary schools that run entrepreneurship clubs that teach learners the basics of starting and running a business while also responding to their community's social and economic needs.

Hoërskool Frikkie Meyer wen!

RUSTENBURG HERALD - THABAZIMBI - Tydens die Interhoër Atletiekbyeenkoms op 29 Februarie 2020 het Hoërskool Frikkie Meyer met hul tema: "Top Gun" skoonskip gemaak.

Frikkie Meyer wen die beste dirigente-opkoms asook die sangbeker. HFM wen die sangbeker vir die vyfde agtereenvolgende jaar. Die opkoms van die dirigente was iets uit 'n ander klas, soos die Engelse sê "next level". Die pawiljoen, dirigente, sangers, atlete, personeel en selfs die ouers het so mooi gelyk. Dit was 'n dag om te onthou. Die dirigente en die personeel betrokke en hul tegniese span saam die sangers het baie hard gewerk, hulle allerbeste gegee. Mnr Campbell is baie trots op Frikkie Meyer se Opkoms en Sangbeker. Hy is ook trots op elke sesde en sewende plek atleet. "Saam is ons 'n span, die wit, die rooi, die blou".

Haaie kook teen Jaguares

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Die Cell C Sharks ry nou behoorlik die SuperRugby-golf.

Na 'n baie suksesvolle toer was hulle verlede Saterdag (7 Maart) terug op eie bodem en het dadelik vir die Jaguares gasheer gespeel. Maar, anders in die verlede, het die Sharks nie weer gevou voor hul tuisskare nie. Nee, dié keer het hull vlymskerp rugby met finesse gespeel wat die Jaguares - verlede jaar se wenners van die Suid-Afrikaanse konferensie - heeltemal op die verkeerde voet betrap het en hul met 33-19 geklop.

In die ander wedstryde het die Bulls uiteindelik 'n wen onder die belt nadat hul die Highlanders oortuigend met 38-13 geklop het. Die treurmare hou egter vir die Lions aan wat blykbaar nie sonder Malcolm Marx se krag en spoed die mas kan opkom nie. Hulle verloor 17-37 teen 'n baie gemiddelde Rebels span.

Komende naweek is die Lions in aksie - hopelik - teen die Blues. Hulle speel op Eden Park in Auckland en die wedstryd skop Saterdagoggend (14 Maart) om 05:25 Suid-Afrikaanse tyd af.

Die Bulls is ook op reis en hulle pak die Reds op die Suncorp Stadion Saterdag om 10:15. Daarna verwelkom die Sharks die Stormers in Durban. Dié wedstryd begin om 15:05

Rustenburg Herald Sport & Wheels

Professionele liggewig bokser van Rustenburg maak opslae

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Shone van Schalkwyk, Rustenburg se eie professionele liggewig bokser, het groot opslae gemaak met sy laaste geveg op 1 Maart 2020 teen Sando Jackson van Malawi. Met hul konferensie-gesprek het Jackson gereken hy gaan Van Schalkwyk stilmaak, maar in die begin van die tweede rondte is Jackson uitgeslaan en stap Van Schalkwyk weg met sy wenprys.

Van Schalkwyk het 'n paar jaar boksondervinding en sy afrigter, Gert Strydom van No Mercy Gym in North Cliff het 'n groot bydrae tot sy oorwinning gehad. Van Schalkwyk se toekoms lyk belowend en sy motto in die lewe is, hard werk, dissipline, verbintenis en respek vir jou afrigter, dit als is in sy pakkie vir die jare wat nog kom. Maak seker julle hou die datums dop en mis nie uit op sy volgende gevegte nie, want hierdie bokser, Shone van Schalkwyk, gaan dit nog ver bring.

Christo weer die kampioen

Christo Malan van Rustenburg, wenner in die meestersklas in Eduro standaard- en ope klas van die 2019 SA Jetski-reeks .

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Die 2019 jetski-seisoen het vir plaaslike ryer, Christo Malan, puik verloop nadat hy goud verwerf het in drie afdelings van die nasionale kampioenskap.

Ten spyte van ekonomiese redes dat hy nie in 2018 deel kon wees van die SA-reeks nie, het hy teruggeveg om na tien jaar weer die gesogte nasionale titels te kon verower. Die finale wedren van die 2019-seisoen het op Saterdag, 29 Februarie, in Ballitoville, KwaZulu-Natal, plaasgevind nadat die finaal wat teen die einde verlede jaar in Port Elizabeth moes plaasvind, twee keer uitgestel is weens politieke onenigheid in die stadsraad wat as borge sou optree.

Christo wen die meestersklas nadat hy 'n blitsige Maureen Smith in die tweede plek en 'n ervare Claude Newbarry in die derde plek klop. Die drie ryers het regdeur die jaar met redelike gemak vir die res van deelnemers in die klas weggery. In die Enduro-afdeling van die SA reeks het 'n interessante mededinging ontstaan tussen Christo en die voormalige wêreldkampioen, Jarred Moore, wat na die afloop van die seisoen gelykop geëindig het in die standaard en ope klas. Om dié rede word goud gedeel tussen die deelnemers. 'n Vol en opwindende 2020-seisoen lê egter weer voor met die eerste wedren in April wat in Port Alfred sal plaasvind.
