leat prices could rise even more

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - South Africa's growing foot and mouth disease (FMD) outbreak, and the government's subsequent ban on cattle movement, will likely not significantly impact red meat prices now. Consumers will also not be paying up more to 'braai' during the consumer." he said next three months. But by the end of the year, if things go wrong, meat

Last week, South Africa's agriculture minister, Thoko Didiza, instated a countrywide ban on the movement of live cattle to curb the spread of FMD. During the ban, intended to last 21 days, live cattle may not be moved for any reason, excluding slaughtering.

According to the Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development, South Africa currently has 116 outbreaks of FMD across KwaZulu-Natal, Limpopo, North West, Free State, Gauteng,

The head of a major bank's division for agriculture information and marketing said the impact of the ban and the outbreak will not result in significant price increases for red meat.

"For consumers, it won't necessarily have a major impact at this stage because the ban is only on the movement of animals between premises, except if it's from a feedlot to an abattoir," he said.

"We might in the next month or two when the feedlots need to stock up again, then we may see an uptick, but I don't think it will be a needle mover, and I don't think it will have a substantial impact on the

He added that consumer perceptions around FMD tend to drive prices down, despite the fact that meat remains safe for consumption.

"Although there's not a health risk linked to FMD (for consumers), the perceptions that there might be something, normally drives down prices a bit. There might actually be a bit of a pressure downwards,'

He added that it can be expected that meat prices, which are already at an elevated level, will pick up during the festive season, with demand for the protein also expected to increase.

"From September onwards, the demand for red meat picks up, up to December when we have braais, and then we normally see an uptick in prices due to the demand," he said.

"With the current levels, we won't see a substantial uptick in prices because it's already high," he said.

Experts have warned that much will depend on when, exactly, the movement ban is lifted. Prices should drop when cattle may be moved again, and will likely increase if the cattle lockdown is extended. But should it be lifted too soon and foot and mouth spreads further, pricespiking shortages of beef would be possible.

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Onlangs het bekroonde akteur en filmvervaardiger, Jacques Gombault, 'n film -en TVspel-werkswinkel aangebied vir 'n groep Rustenbugers. Dit is regtig merkwaardig wat die studente in twee dae (15 ure) vermag. Jacques gebruik al sy jare se ervaring om juis vir die student, tussen al die speel heen, te laat ontdek wat hulle sterkpunte is en wat hulle vertolking negatief beïnvloed. 'n Byproduk van sy opleiding is dat hy dan ook vir die studente rolle kry in verskeie produksies. Die afgelope 11 maande het hy al vir meer as 170 akteurs rolle gekry in verskeie sepies en films. Op die foto van links agter verskyn Marianna Paul, Lara de Villiers, Charné Malan, Margot Naude, Kaitlin Kruger, Marizaan van der Walt, Boitumelo Makua, Kagiso Phasha en voor van links Liam Naude, Zachary Wangra, Jacques Gombault, Eduan Naude, Rethabile Masango, Clairese Williams, Keira Kalan en Chrisna Venter.

Boshoek Smelter Continues to supportlocal SMIMEs

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSENBURG - In their latest bid to develop local businesses from their host communities, Glencore Ferroalloys' Boshoek Smelter operation has donated a 16 000-litre water bozer and a skid steer worth over R2 million to Rustenburg based business, Radinku Construction Transparent and Allied.

The relationship between Boshoek Smelter and Radinku Construction Transparent and Allied, a local black-owned SMME, started 10 years ago when the business had a contractual agreement with the smelter to deliver the smelter's slag within the Macharora community. The handover of the donated equipment which forms part of Glencore's Enterprise Supplier Development (ESD) programme, was held at Boshoek Smelter and attended by the Radinku Construction Transparent and Allied team, Royal Bafokeng Nation Representative Kgosana Thabo Diale, Traditional Councillor Thabo Phatswane, as well as the Ferroalloys' group CSR team and the Boshoek Smelter Management team.

In addition to the machinery donation, Boshoek Smelter also supported the business with office equipment and furniture. Through the support given by Glencore, the business will now be able to employ two more drivers thus creating more job opportunities and improving the lives of community members.

Loterybaas betaal glo huis met "skoolgeld"

RUSTENBUR HERALD – RUSTENBURG – Thabang Charlotte Mampane, die kommissaris van Suid-Afrika se lotery-kommisie, het op 15 Augustus met onmiddellike effek bedank en haar kantoor ontruim.

Dit volg nadat me Mampane glo betrap is dat sy sowat R3.6 miljoen wat die nasionale lottery vir die bou van 'n skool opsy gesit het, gebruik het om haar luukse huis op die oewer van die Hartebeespoortdam te betaal. Daar is blykbaar 'n hele string bewerings van wanadministrasie teen Mampane en sommige van haar kollegas. Me Mampane se termyn sou teen die einde September 2022 ten einde loop, is verneem. Me Mampane se bedanking en skielike vertrek volg teen die agtergrond van nog 'n ondersoek deur die Spesiale Ondersoekeenheid na die bedrywighede van mnr Philemon Letwaba, die lotterykommissie se geskorste bedryfshoof. Me Mampane het blykbaar meer as R2.2 miljoen per jaar verdien.

SPCA to host kennel sleepover in special fundraising initiative

RUSTENBURG HERALD RUSTENBURG - Spring is around the corner and warmer temperatures will indeed be welcomed by people and animals everywhere.

At the Rustenburg SPCA excitement is mounting for the society's annual "kennel sleepover" on 3 September wherein patrons can demonstrate their support for animals by being sponsored to spend a night in a kennel in a special fundraising initiative organised by the SPCA.

The aim of the sleepover initiative this year is to raise funds to buy a reliable bakkie for the SPCA. "We hope to raise very close to R200 000 said committee member Charnelle de Beer and organiser of the event. Sponsor forms will be available at the SPCA with which patrons can approach friends, family members and/or businesses to sponsor them and by means of which these people could also demonstrate their support of the SPCA. Please do not hesitate to contact Charnelle de Beer if you and a few friends would like to partake in this - in the end it's all a lot of fun and love for animals and an excellent cause.

But keep your eyes peeled for other fundraising initiatives of the Rustenburg SPCA. Among these are a "blikskud" on 27 August, Rustenburg High School's "Evergreen Year" stall on 28 October this year. Please contact Charnelle on 060 547 8753 or Deputy Chairperson Debbie du Toit on 082 920 4658 for more information on how your and your family could make a contribution.

solution exhibit to see the added service one can offer customers. As we suffer from a lack of electricity, the gas company will be there showing how best to offer gas as an alternative. Local manufacturers will be present who manufacture pipes and fitting with demos on fusion welding and other fitting methods. Storage of water and waste will be shown as will innovative cistern mechanisms and waste fittings. Also on display is a new commercial and domestic hot water system as well as metering which is becoming more and more necessary as we need to keep checks on water usage. Injury insurance will be present as safety becomes absolute requirement. A few merchants will be present as well. Also important will be a display for a disabled bathroom showing some good innovative developments. A wide array of tools and tooling will be on display including demonstrations as will pipe refurbishment also essential as we watch water usage.

Several SANS approved water saving devices will be represented as well as demand taps for general and industrial use. All exhibitors comply with SANS accreditation as required in the compulsory standards, critical for plumbers.

Competition Commission. "We have regular engagement maintained with relevant government ministries, remaining RBPlat shareholders and other key stakeholders, to outline and explain our approach to and rationale for our acquisition and are vigorously pursuing regulatory approval, despite a series of legal challenges."The acquisition proposed compelling strategic, operational and financial benefits for all Implats and RBPlat stakeholders. It secures a Western Limb production base that enhances the region's position as the current most significant source of global primary PGM production.

The proposed transaction will deliver significant and tangible socio-economic benefits for the Rustenburg region, its communities, and South Africa as a whole. This includes extended employment security for more than 40 000 people and sustained economic support for the more than 450 000 people who benefit from Impala Rustenburg's and RBPlat's mining activities and social contributions in the greater-Rustenburg region. The transaction improves South Africa's competitiveness as a stable and reliable PGM producer at a time when geopolitical conflict related to Russia's invasion of Ukraine has created increased uncertainty. Creating a larger, more competitive regional producer on the Western Limb provides compelling benefits for South Africa, not only securing sustainable employment in the North West province, but ensuring meaningful extensions to expected life-of-mine of both Impala Rustenburg and RBPlat's contiguous assets of Boschkoppie and Styldrift. TimelineOn 29 November 2021, Implats announced its general offer, in cash and shares, to acquire a majority shareholding in RBPlat. The offer comprises a cash amount of R90 and 0.30 ordinary shares in Implats.

Implats' announcement offer circular of 17 January 2022 outline the conditions of the offer. In February 2002, both the independent expert and the Independent Board appointed by RBPlat endorsed the Implats offer, agreed it was fair and reasonable, and recommended it to RBPlat shareholders to accept the Implats offer. On 29 April, Implats and RBPlat jointly announced that the Competition Commission had recommended the transaction be approved by the Competition Tribunal, subject to certain agreed conditions. On 27 May 2022, Implats, announced an amended timeline for its offer, after Northam Platinum intervened in the Competition Tribunal process. On 15 July 2022, Implats announced a further extension to the timeline for its offer, after the Competition Tribunal's order regarding the scope of Northam's participation in its processes was challenged by Northam Platinum in the Competition Appeal Court, Implats' offer is currently expected to become wholly unconditional following the approval of the Competition Tribunal. At 23 August 2022, Implats owned c.37.93% of the outstanding shares in RBPlat.

Gierigheid en uit foute leer ons niks

Suid-Afrikaners het nou maar eenmaal 'n fyn kuns daarvan gemaak om ons land se politieke probleme (dit word deesdae genoem) glas-in-die-hand rondom die braaivleisvure op te los, of minstens darem te identifiseer. As 'n mens nou al so 'n bietjie ondervinding van braaivleispraatjies het en daaraan herkou, is dit nogal verstommend om te dink hoeveel wyshede daar elke naweek uit hierdie tipe van byeenkomste spruit. Terselfdertyd is dit tragies dat daar uiteindelik so min, indien enige van hierdie weldeurdagte strategieë deur die regering geïmplimenteer word ten einde dinge in ons land 'n bietjie meer vaartbelyn te maak. As hierdie vir jou klink na 'n grap, wel dit is dalk tong-in-die-kies, maar beslis nie 'n grap nie!

Kom ons wees nou eerlik - vir elke leser wat Sondae moedeloos die Sondagkoerant neersit en liewers 'n middagslapie gaan opsoek of gaan kyk wat daar op die TV is, blyk dit by tye of daar geen salf te smeer aan Suid-Afrika se uiteenlopende probleme nie. Maar nee, dink 'n bietjie, Suid-Afrika het nie 'n Einstein, 'n Newton of 'n Mandela nodig om ons probleme op te los nie. Al wat skort - ja, al wat kortkom, is die wil om vir ons land en ons mense 'n nuwe toekoms te bied! Om dit reg te kry moet ons besef dat ons land grondliggend en oorhoofs (hoe slim jy dit ook al wil laat klink) slegs twee probleme het - naamlik gierigheid, en tweedens, die geneigheid (hardnekkigheid) om nie uit ons foute te Gierigheid is loshande die grootste enkele probleem in Suid-Afrika. Ons kan kwalik meer as raai, maar dit is maklik om te meen dat minstens 65% van al Suid-Afrika se probleme die gevolg van gierigheid is. Dit is wat veroorsaak dat korrupsie in haas elke regeringsektor en staatsdiensdepartement, hoogty vier sodat dit wat die betrokke departement of sektor veronderstel is om te doen, nie gedoen kan word nie omdat daar eenvoudig nie geld is nie. Gierigheid is eenvoudig die rede waarom instansies soos Eskom, Transnet, die Suid-Afrikaanse Lugdiens, Denel, Prasa, en in 'n stadium amper ons inkomstediens (daar is hordes ander voorbeelde) prakties gesproke in duie gestort het en nie die mas kan opkom nie. Ons hoef nie verder hieroor voort te borduur nie. Suid-Afrikaners se skynbare onvermoë om uit ons foute te leer, is ons land se tweede grootste probleem en is niks anders as die gevolg van gierigheid nie. Die verskynsel hiervan is dat dit polities so moeilik is om van mense soos Supra Mahumapelo, Nomvula Makonyane, Zandile Gumede (daar is hordes ander voorbeelde) ontslae te raak. Mense soos hierdie het met verloop van jare reggekry om vir hulself 'n ondeurdringbare ondersteunersbasis op die been te kry waarvan die hoeksteen natuurlik geld/beloning is. Dus is ons terug by gierigheid. Natuurlik ontbreek die wil om 'n verskil te maak by almal/die meeste, omdat almal/die meeste gierig is. Afrikapolitiek - elkeen vir homself!

Greed and nothing to learn from mistakes

Over time South Africans have developed into a fine art the skill of solving the country's problems glass in hand around the braai fire. For anyone with reasonable experience of these type of discussions, it is often amazing to consider ideas nothing short of pure wisdom which were raised at the latest meeting of the A team. One could smile about these, but often the question remains why some of these ideas or solutions have never been adopted by government. Surely government could benefit from a few ideas from the ranks of ordinary men. Hasn't "collectively" been a popular buzz word of government in recent years? If this sounds like a joke to you, perhaps this is tongue in the cheek, but no, it's not really a joke!

Let us be honest for a moment. By far the most readers of the weekend's papers are in despair sooner rather than later and it won't be too long before a nap on the couch or watching TV sounds more inviting. The irony however remains that South Africa doesn't need an Einstein, a Newton or a Mandela to solve our problems - what we need is the political will to steer the country away from a road to destruction. To succeed in this it is important that South Africans realise that in current times, we have in fact only two rather big obstacles/challenges. These are greed and our people's inability to learn from our mistakes. Greed is by far the most threatening because it has deprived millions of citizens from the better life which was promised to all at the dawn of our new dispensation.

Furthermore greed was the common factor that has caused frightening levels of corruption at dozens of state departments and was the primary reason why government departments couldn't do what it was supposed to be doing because of funds being depleted. Greed is the common denominator which has led to the collapse of paramount state entities such as Eskom, the South African Airways, Denel, Transnet, Prasa, and at some stage, even SA's Revenue Services. There are dozens of examples. The inability among the South African community to learn from its mistakes, is another major problem in our country today. That is why it is so difficult for us to rid our country of opportunists such as Supra Mahumapelo, Nomvula Mokonyane and Zandile Gumede - all people who have had their chances but couldn't deliver to the people. (There are countless others). Over years though, these people have managed to drum up massive support in return for - yes - in return for money, which brings us back to greed. This also, is why the will for political change is lacking among our people. African politics - everyone for himself!

Ukrainians - welcome in Rustenburg

The Editor

Over the months since May/June and now also in August we as a family have followed the story in your newspaper of the Rustenburg man whose wife and child were trapped in the Ukraine as a result of the almost eight months long conflict in the Ukraine and was stunned to read in your editions of earlier how the South African immigration authorities have basically snubbed a woman and her child and refused them entry into our country which ironically, is renowned for its hospitality. We are so sorry for this family and are bitterly disappointed that an evil thing such as politics has caused this family untold harm and caused our government and authorities to show very little, in fact, no goodwill to fellow human beings - especially during times of war between two countries that in essence has nothing to do with South Africa. It is a crying shame that South Africans, especially those who have suffered under the apartheid system, today think nothing if it to show exactly the same indifference and lack of any sympathy to our fellow human beings but choose to continue to put some "cultures" above others for no reason at all. Isn't this exactly what the apartheid system has been accused of?

On behalf of myself and my family I wish to welcome Marta and Marat and their husband/father in South Africa and finally back in Rustenburg and know that they will experience a lot of goodwill and love from our people. Welcome "home" to you friend!

Groot dank aan die volgende persone wat die herstelwerk kom doen het: David, Bobsol, Oleboheng, Brain en Rasta en 'n paar dae later die gat kom opvul het met grond wat die "backactor" oopgegrawe het sodat die pyp herstel kon word.

Sportwieleskole To Wallaby, or not to Wallaby....

RUSTENBURG HERALD - ADELAIDE, AUS - Springbok coach Jacques Nienaber has handed Warrick Gelant a start on the right wing and recalled scrumhalf Faf de Klerk in the only two changes to his starting team for their Castle Lager Rugby Championship tour match against Australia in Adelaide this weekend.

Gelant takes over from Jesse Kriel on the wing, while De Klerk is returning to the team after missing the second Test against New Zealand due to concussion. He will be slotting in for Jaden Hendrikse. Nienaber also made three changes to the replacements bench for Saturday's match. The bench features a split of five forwards and three backs, where Hendrikse takes over from Herschel Jantjies, while Elton Jantjies will provide flyhalf cover and Frans Steyn additional cover at the back. Willie le Roux and Jasper Wiese are not in the match-23 this weekend.

"This is a very important clash for us to set the tone for our Castle Lager Rugby Championship tour and we feel that continuity in selection is important to build momentum in our campaign," Nienaber said during a press briefing.

"Warrick was in good form for the DHL Stormers earlier this season and he has been working hard at training, so we thought it would be good to give him a run on the wing. He also combined well with Damian Willemse in the Vodacom United Rugby Championship, so we are excited to see what they offer us in the match. We also feel it is important to give the likes of Ox (Nche), Joseph (Dweba) and Duane (Vermeulen) another opportunity to further build combinations and give them valuable game time as we build toward the Rugby World Cup next year," he added.

Of the decision to switch from a six-two to a five-three split on the bench. Nienaber explained: "We looked at what Australia will bring to the game, and that combined with our need to give Elton and Frans Steyn some vital game time, prompted us to select five forwards and three backs on the bench. With Franco (Mostert) and Kwagga (Smith) on the bench, we will have cover at lock and loose forward, while Frans Steyn's versatility will also be handy as he can cover centre and fullback. These changes obviously mean that Willie, Jasper and Herschel lose out, but we know what we have in them and what they bring to the team."

Springbok record against the Wallabies in Australia:

The two teams played 41 games against each other in Australia. Of these, the Springboks only managed to win 12. Twice they've drawn.
