RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - After much anticipation and excitement Mountain View Square finally opened on 13 December 2022 following a lengthy redevelopment of the entire complex.

Shoppers can rest assured that they will be treated to a safe, friendly, and clean shopping experience at the newly renovated complex.

Previously known as Wall Street Mall, the complex struggled to attract customers with its tenant mixture and complex layout. The new renovations included an additional vehicle entrance from Line Road, a much-needed facelift to the entire complex with new composite cladding and signage, a redesigned entrance to welcome shoppers to the Checkers, Local Choice Pharmacy and King Pie situated at the heart of the complex.

Other improvements include planting of trees in the parking area, new planter boxes with benches and bins coming soon to allow shoppers to relax and enjoy their shopping experience.

Security has been significantly improved to ensure shoppers are safe, the complex has added contactless boom gates, additional security guards, lighting for all walkways and parking areas to ensure shoppers can have peace of mind when shopping at Mountain View Square.

Other developments around Mountain

View Square include the development of a new Waterfall Business Park, with Phase 1 being completed in February 2023 and Phase 2 and 3 to begin construction soon. The neighboring site will also be developed in 2023 with an expansion to the car dealership, a fast food drive thru and a Phase 2 expansion of Mountain View Square to construct an additional 1500m<sup>2</sup> retail Centre on the neighboring stand.

Checkers hosted their first market day on Saturday 28 January which was a huge success where shoppers enjoyed food tastings and live music. If you haven't been to Mountain View Square, don't miss out! Come and see what the fuss is about!

Hospital worried about kids with burns

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - The Job Shimankana Tabane Hospital here expressed their concern regarding the number of children being admitted with burn or burn related injuries.

In the last year, the hospital's children wards have recorded a total of 61 patients (six months – 12-years-old) with burns related cases.

According to the hospital's Sr Hope Banda, the most prevalent causes of burns displayed by children admitted at the ward are thermal and electrical burns. "These are burns from fire, flames, liquid - such as tea - or hot surfaces such as stoves," said Sr. Banda.

Banda indicated that as soon as a child got burnt, parents or caregivers should avoid applying anything non-medical - such as banana peel, toothpaste and fermented mealie meal - to the area as it only aggravate the burn and cause infection.

"Rather gently apply cold water to the affected area. Make sure to use a clean cloth to avoid infection. And thereafter, take the child to the nearest clinic for further treatment or management of burns," she advised. Parents and caregivers can prevent potential burns from children by taking the following precautionary measures;

- * Kettle cords or hot pot handles should be turned away from children's reach.

- * Do not leave children without adult supervision.

- * Avoid placing candles within children's reach.

- * When preparing a bath, pour cold water first and then hot water.

- * In terms of UV radiation, ensure that children wear hats or avoid playing outside when there is a heat wave.

- * Paraffin and other chemicals used for cleaning should be kept in a lockable area to avoid easy access for children.

- * Electrical covers become handy to avoid plugs being poked while they are live.

A child who has suffered burns needs more fluid intake to avoid dehydration, as well as food with more protein for energy and to help in accelerating the process of healing. Burns can take up to three months' stay in hospital, depending on the type of burns the patient has endured.

"Please remember, prevention is always better than cure," Sr Banda concluded.

Wian nie van stryk gebring

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Wian Badenhorst, 'n 2022-matriekleerder van Hoëskool Rustenburg spog, ten spyte van 'n breingewas die grootte van 'n gholfbal en talle breinoperasies, met twee onderskeidings en toelating tot argitektuur aan die Universiteit van die Witwatersrand.

Op 10-jarige ouderdom in 2014 is daar bevestig dat Wian 'n breingewas het en dr Percy Bezuidenhout moes opereer. Die operasie het nege ure geduur en die kans op newe-effekte na die operasie was 80%, maar dit het egter nie gebeur nie en hy was wakker en het gereageer op stemme en aanraking. Die gewas is hoofsaaklik verwijder, maar Wian moes weer leer lees, skryf, loop en praat. Hy is na 'n kwartaal se tuisonderrig terug skool toe. Wian het weer begin sleg voel en is terug teater toe, die gewas was terug en groter. Hy het 'n derde operasie in graad 9 ontvang waartydens die gewas weer verwijder is.

Ondanks elke terugslag, elke operasie en elke bestralingsessie is Wian nie van stryk gebring nie en hy wou sy droom om argitek te word, bewaarheid. En nou is hy ingeskryf as Argitek-student by die Universiteit van Witwatersrand met twee onderskeidings agter sy naam. Merkwaardig!

Nog nooit het 'n jaar só gevlieg nie! Sedert Desember 2021 was Sammy en Anise - u gashere by die Melkstal@Green Leaves - so hard besig om "opregte familie" van nuwe vriende aan Melkstal se tafels te maak dat dié twee somtyds nie die son behoorlik sien opkom of ondergaan het nie. Boonop was daar soveel "lig" in ons vriende se harte dat ons nie oor son- of maanskyn bekommerd was nie - daarom dat ons nooit sal vergeet van die nuwe vriendskapsbande wat gesmee is nie. Melkstal@ Green Leaves was in Desember 2022 boonop 'n volle een jaar oud en ons voetevind-jaar in Hartebeespoort was vir ons 'n onvergeetlike ondervinding. ## Rowers skiet pa

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Dit is een van 'n mens se grootste vrese: om wakker te skrik met die besef dat vreemdelinge jou huis, jou plek van veiligheid, binnekgedring het.

JP Weideman (31) het Maandagoggend so omstreeks 03:00 wakker geword toe hy geluide in die kombuis van hul blyplek in Kroondal hoor. Hy het onmiddellik besef daar is fout. Hy het versigtig opgestaan om te gaan ondersoek instel, baie bewus daarvan dat hy en sy vrou, Jackie se vier jong kinders, asook die kleingoed se ouma, op die boonste vloer slaap.

In die kombuis is sy vrese bewaarheid - vier vreemde mans was in die proses om by een van die vensters in te breek. Hy het op hul geskree om hul te verjaag en toe die kombuisdeur oopgedruk om seker te maak hul maak hul uit die voete.

Toe JP buite kom, het een van die inbrekers op hom gevuur en hy is in die regterskouer gewond. Die inbrekers het toe gevlug, waarskynlik te voet.

Jackie het dadelik hulp ontbied en nooddienste was vinnig op die toneel om JP na 'n hospitaal af te voer.

"Dit gaan beter. Hy is by die huis, maar die trauma van die oggend gaan ons as gesin nog baie lank byby," het Jackie in 'n onderhoud met Rustenburg Herald gesê.

Noordwes Polisiewoordvoerder, kol Adéle Myburgh, het die voorval bevestig.

Die Polisie ondersoek klagte van poging tot moord en huisbraak.

Consumers to brace themselves for water interruptions

Waldie Volschenk

"Where has all our water gone?" - Rustenburg, Pretoria and Johannesburg left high and dry

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - South Africa and Rustenburg indeed seem to be experiencing what the holiday movie makers have dubbed "the year of living dangerously".

After an almost unthinkable season with the most rain falling in at least two individual months as well as for the entire year (2022) in 20 years following on a period of the most devastating drought in the country in living memory, some areas of the country - including Rustenburg - once again find itself in a dry spell.

This time while some dams still overflowing and damages after the recent unprecedented downpours not even properly repaired, as a result of a so-called heat wave which has Rand Water unable to cope with the water demand. In Rustenburg consumers were in despair after a warning to the community by the Rustenburg Municipality's Water Services Unit. According to the notice Rand Water installations were unexpectedly forced to reduce water demand by at least 40% with large areas of Rustenburg to be affected on Tuesday, 24 January. Judged by the frustration of consumers in their response on social media, the extent of water interruptions was not only "wide" but to make matters worse - often way outside scheduled interruptions as "advertised" by the Rustenburg Municipality. But the latest spate of water interruptions had in fact had a poor start much earlier this year than is often realised.

In Geelhout Park water interruptions were not limited to the events of recent weeks. A frustrated consumer told Rustenburg Herald that after a glorious first few weeks of this year, the trouble kicked in shortly after 12 January when interruptions became a daily, weekly occurrence. On inquiring residents were told that the interruptions were caused by load shedding as water services units were unable to pump and distribute water. The claims of "Geelhout Park" being affected more than once proved to be true since Rustenburg Herald had received numerous calls from frustrated members of the public who were unable to renew their vehicles licenses at the premises of the Rustenburg Traffic and Licensing Department (Directorate of Public Safety).

Here, queuing members of the public were told to return later repeatedly as load shedding practices have rendered toilet facilities useless. Hence, water delivery in our area has been an on and off issue for weeks on end, Rustenburg Herald was told. By far the most calls from frustrated consumers were received by the Rustenburg Municipality. Sadly, however, consumers furthermore complained about what seemed to have been contrasting explanations which often pointed at a lack of honesty and/or transparency as illustrated by the complaint of Ms Hermina du Plessis: Since January 2023 we have been experiencing very low water pressure if not total cuts for almost two weeks in Boschdal. On enquiring we have been given conflicting explanations - first continuing load shedding was offered as an excuse and then it was Rand Water who was blamed for extreme low levels in all our reservoirs. So which of the two stories should be believed? At the same time, we have received several notices on water restrictions explaining that we will have supply during the day but will have cuts at night. For some reason the municipality couldn't stick to these resolutions and often deviated, especially during the heat wave of the past two weeks. Just last night (Monday) we have received another memo from Rand Water to inform us that power outages have caused our reservoirs to run empty because water supplies were interrupted. Though I am fortunate to have a Jojo at my property, I am left high and dry during power cuts. I can't help to ask: Will we ever have normal services again? Du Plessis concluded. What is disheartening is that many consumers are afraid to openly voice their concerns in fear of victimisation. Scrutiny by some officials, in particular some Municipal Councillors, are not entirely uncommon. As another Geelhout Park resident explains: "We are so sick of the water problems affecting Old Geelhout Park, Tlhabane West, Zinniaville and Rustenburg North. This happens virtually every week. What a disgrace! And then there's always a different excuse - empty reservoirs, water levels must be adjusted/raised, problems at the pump station, challenges at the purification plant and many more. Drawing up a service delivery chart of the past year will leave you miserable - it is absolutely shocking to see the number of days that consumers have had to go without water or electricity - but we have to fork out more and more for services. What a sad state our country is in". We can't even imagine the situation of residents in Platinum Village, Freedom Park however. Here consumers have gone without water for longer than three weeks - a community meeting was held on Thursday, 26 January, "We decided that nobody is listening to us, we will have to undertake a march. Maybe the municipality will take notice then," a spokesperson for the residents there said. They have been trying to meet with RLM from the beginning of December. A meeting was scheduled, but the municipality did not show up.

Another Rustenburg resident commented on our social media: "We live in such a beautiful area quite close to the iconic Rustenburg Kloof and we have been extremely happy here. Sadly over the past 14 years service delivery levels have gone to the dogs. It's been ages since we've had working street lights. One sees the decline of our country and our town everywhere, it's such a shame." In addition to quite a number of memos and notices we have received from the Rustenburg Municipality's Water Services Unit - we also spoke to Cllr Gert du Plessis of the DA in Ward 14.

"It must be emphasized that the current Rand Water problems have nothing to do with the Vaal Dam's 102% water level. Rustenburg is not the only town that is affected - Johannesburg and Pretoria have similar issues.

As a result the Barnardsvlei reservoir which is Rustenburg's main supply reservoir from Rand water, is currently dangerously low at 10%" Du Plessis said.

Disgruntled residents of Platinum Village in Freedom Park met on Friday, 26 January to discuss their way forward. They did try to engage with RLM, but only received a WhatsApp with a promise that a water tanker was dispatched.

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - Consumers are to brace themselves for widespread water interruptions/restrictions during the next couple of days in all areas supplied by the Vaal Dam water system according to urgent notices sent by the Rustenburg Municipality.

According to the notice Rand Water installations are forced to reduce water demand by at least 40%. The areas affected include: Kroondal, Bokamoso, Marikana, Cashan (all extinctions), Rustenburg CBD, Bodorp, Boschdal, East End, Protea Park and some areas of Geelhout Park. The restrictions will continue until the rand water system has fully recovered, according to the notice. "We again urge consumers to use water sparingly during this period as the heat exacerbates the current high demand of water. The municipality committed itself to regular communication with consumers with regard to restriction schedules, affected areas and time frames.

Movie night at Timbati Market

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG
- This year the Timbati Veld Market's Valentine edition will be in a totally different "colour".

On Saturday, 11 February, the Timbati Veld Market will be in pure Valentine style with a little shopping from not too early, a few snacks to keep you going throughout the day, new and old friends to meet for a chat or two, a wine and paired cheese tasting, and finally a romantic Movie - the iconic "Grease" - under the stars with a snack box to round off the picture, so to speak.

The Valentine Market will kick off at 14:00 and continue until dusk when preparations for the 19:00 movie will begin.

Remember that your snack box and movie ticket will cost you R250 per couple and that pre-bookings are essential for the Movie under the stars. Please book on or before Monday, 6 February, with Irma on 0743834899.

Please also support our exhibitors at their stalls who are trying their best to keep the Rustenburg public entertained and to offer something out of the ordinary. This will obviously be the perfect opportunity for a very special Valentine present for your loved one - come early and don't be disappointed - see you all there on Saturday, 11 February at 14:00 - why not stay until late?

In liefdevolle herinnering aan Jaunco van der Merwe 18/2/2003-22/01/2023: "Ons geliefde seun is van ons weggeene in 'n motorongeluk. Ons gesin wil net graag aan elke persoon wat Jaunco finaal kom groet het, vir al die boodskappe, omgee en gebede sê baie dankie, dit beteken vir ons baie. Dit het ons opgeval dat Jaunco 'n plek in so baie mense se harte het. Die dood los 'n hartseer wat niemand kan beter maak nie, maar liefde los herinnering wat niemand kan wegvat nie. Rus in vrede" - Dad's, Mamma en Minks. (224953)

Rustenburg Herald Kook

By Waldie Volschenk

Hier so teen die begin van Februarie is baie mense nog maar steeds versigtig vir enigets wat soos lekker eetgoed of 'n resep lyk – ja, die oordadigheid tydens die feesgety het veroorsaak dat baie van ons nou nog op dieet is.

Maar 'n mens moet eet al is dit net klein en lig. Veral oor naweke is dit maklik om so 'n bietjie op die kosmaak af te skeep en met liger eetgoed oor die weg te kom. Maar dit beteken nie dit moet verbeeldingloos of smaakloos wees nie. 'n Ou gunsteling van ons – Mariana Paul – wys in hierdie uitgawe vir ons hoe om sommer baie gemaklik met die immergewilde botterbroodjies oor die weg te kom.

Sy maak dit so: (Daar is twee weergawes vir die wat van 'n groter verskeidenheid hou, of diegene wat alternatiewe bestanddele verkieks).

Mariana Paul – 'n ou bekende baasbakster in Rustenburg Herald se "Raak die 'klits' kwyt".

Tradisionele botterbroodjies (scones)

Botterbroodjies

Bestanddele:

2 koppies meel
4 teelepels bakpoeier
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teelepel sout
4 eetlepels strooisuiker
4 eetlepels botter
145 ml melk of suurroom of vars room

Metode:

Sif koekmeel, bakpoeier en sout saam. Voeg die strooisuiker by. Vryf die botter in meelmengsel – dit moet min of meer lyk soos broodkrummels. Voeg nou die melk/vars room/suurroom by en meng met 'n slaplemmes. Rol lekker dik uit – minstens so 25 mm sodat jou botterbroodjies lekker "hoog" is. Dit is mos maar geneig om baie bros te wees. Onthou om jou botterbroodjies met 'n lagie gekliste eier te "verf" voor dit oond toe gaan - stel jou oond op 200°C en bak vir 12 tot 15 minute.

Só moet jou botterbroodjies lyk – en dan sal daar beslis nie veel oorbly na middagete se kant toe nie.

Sif bruismeel, bakpoeier en sout saam. Voeg strooisuiker by.

Vryf botter met die hand in meelmengsel dat dit soos broodkrummels lyk. Maak 'n holte in die middel van die meel en gooi melk daar in. Meng met 'n slaplemmes. Rol of druk so 25 mm dik uit. Druk broodjies met koekiedrukker uit. Verf die scones met 'n lagie gekliste eier voor dit oond toe gaan. Bak teen 200°C vir 12 tot 15 minute – bedien met room, kaas lekker konfy of as dit goed gaan met jou – gerasperde biltong!

Alternatiewe resep met bruismeel (self raising flour):

2½ koppies bruismeel
1 teelepel bakpoeier
Knippie sout
1 eetlepel suiker of strooisuiker
40 g koue botter of margarien
1 kopje melk of karringmelk
1 gekliste eier

Metode:

Vir hierdie botterbroodjies kan jy kies tussen melk, suurroom of vars room.

Mariana is in haar element wanneer sy in die kombuis met 'n tradisionele lekkerny besig is. Hierdie week is dit tyd vir botterbroodjies of "scones" soos Suid-Afrikaners dit dalk beter ken.

Vryf die botter met jou hande in die meelmengsel in – dit moet lyk soos broodkrummels sê Mariana.

Rol minstens 25 mm dik uit en druk scones uit met 'n glas of 'n koekiedrukker.

“Why is Education department punishing my child?”

Dear Editor

I'm a resident of Rustenburg, but it seems my child is not welcome in a proper school here.

I am a single parent who lives in town and I have been trying to get my child into a school with a good academic record close to where we live now for more than two years - to no avail.

Two years ago, when my child was in grade seven, I applied for a high school in town. I applied well in time. But my child was refused at the school of her choice, because she was attending primary school in Mahikeng.

Finally she was placed in a high school here, but far from where we live and transport cost was extremely high.

So, last year - again in time - I again applied for the high school closest to where we live for grade nine. And again she was refused. The Education department did "do their jobs" by finding a school for my child; a school where she now has to start taking Setswana for the first time in her life. Up until this year, this child learned English and Afrikaans as First language and Second Additional language.

Is this fare? It cannot be! They are ruining my child's education and her academic performance. To top it off, they placed her in a school known around here for no discipline and low achievement levels.

But to quote the person from the Education department: "You are making your problems, my problem." Shouldn't the Education department take more responsibility to ensure that:

1: Schools are up to standard,

2: Learners' needs are utmost

I am a very unhappy parent. I feel I'm failing my child because the Education department is failing me.

Rustenburg verdrink in watertekorte

Nog skaars is die nuwe jaar na 'n bykans ongekende reënseisoen volspoed aan die rol van die stad is behoorlik van die wal af in die sloop, maar nie hierdie keer soos net meer as 'n maand gelede weens 'n oorvloed water nie, maar heeltemal die teenoorgestelde. Met feitlik al die land se opgaardamme steeds besig om oor te loop - veral dié wat Rustenburg van water voorsien soos die Vaaldam (102%) sou 'n mens dink dat watertekorte nie iets is waarmee Rustenburgers gou weer rekening sou moes hou nie. Maar ons lewe in 'n deurmekaar wêreld vol kontraste en verrassings. Kyk nou maar na ons reënsyfers van die afgelope tyd.

Skaars 'n maand gelede - trouens - so onlangs soos 14 dae gelede - het Rustenburg Herald gespog dat die dorpie (ai, gaan dit dan altyd 'n dorpie bly?) hier aan die voetenent van die Magaliesburg nie net met 'n splinternuwe jaarlikse neerslag-rekord oor die afgelope 20 jaar kon spog nie, maar boonop met twee maande - November en Desember 2022 wat beide vir nuwe inskrywings in ons reënvalstatistieke oor die afgelope 20 jaar gesorg het. En sommer met die intrapslag van die nuwe jaar kyk ons weer op ons neuse met die swakste Januariemaand wat reënval betref (34.4 mm) sedert 2003.

Dit is amper skouer-aan-skouer met hierdie "onderskeiding" dat Rustenburg, of moet ons liewers sê Rand Water, die nuus bring dat die land se grootste waterverskaffer probleme met sy waterverskaffing ondervind en dat watertekorte in die meeste sentra van sy bedieningsnetwerk te midde van hittegolftoestande die ongerief van watertekorte te wagte moet wees. In 'n verklaring het Rand Water aangekondig dat voortdurende beurtkrag en natuurlik 'n landswyre hittegolf dit vir die instansie onmoontlik maak om grootmaat-reservoirs soos Barnardsvlei digby Buffelspoort en Mooi Nooit op aanvaarbare en veilige vlakke te hou.

Net so ondervind Magalies Water probleme met sy verskaffing vanaf die Vaalkop-waterskema via Bospoortdam.

Hierdie gebeure toon weer eens hoe kwesbaar (feitlik onsinng) elke greintjie infrastruktuur en bykans alle dienste in die land is, des te meer worstel Eskom (of faal soos hy oor die afgelope agt jaar feitlik slegs by hoë uitsondering nie doen nie) om die mas op te kom. 'n Mens kan amper nie help om tot die gevolgtrekking te kom dat ons owerhede (die ANC, die Zumas, Guptas en dosyne ander staatskapers) duidelik nie hieraan gedink het toe hulle beplan het om Eskom leeg te plunder nie. 'n Mens kan nie help om te wonder hoeveel terugslae Rustenburg nog gaan tref sedert die ongelukkige Marikana incident in Augustus 2012 nie.

Rustenburg drowning in water shortages

Barely is the new year up to full speed after an almost unthinkable rain season of the little town at the foothills of the Magalies Mountains is down the drain once again, but this time not as a result of too much water but quite the contrary - as unlikely as it may have seemed a month ago. With the level of the Vaal Dam at 102% and most other dams in the country's water supply network still filled to capacity, water shortages were the last thing on people's minds until Tuesday of last week that is. Aren't we indeed living in dangerous and surprising times. Just over a month ago - in fact as recently as 14 days ago, Rustenburg Herald boasted with the rainfall figures of Charlie Graham which showed that not only did Rustenburg see a brand-new rainfall record for the full year (2022) since 2003, but even two brand-new monthly rainfall records for the months of November and December of 2022.

Barely one month later Rustenburg has set yet another rainfall record, this time however one for the poorest January (34.4 mm) in just as many years - a contrast of almost frightening scale?

Apparently not to be outdone in setting poor records, follows the news that Rustenburg and in particular its bulk water supplier Rand Water, is experiencing problems in keeping up with Rustenburg, Pretoria and Johannesburg's water demands during a period of excessive heat and is in danger of running out of steam (and water) in maintaining its proud service record. In memos and notices sent out by Rand Water, the bulk supplier claimed that continuing load shedding practices have jeopardized its operations up to an alarming extent and that increased demand of the past two to three weeks have made it impossible to keep up.

The result is that Rand Water was unable to keep Rustenburg's main supply reservoir (Barnardsvlei at Buffelspoort just outside Mooi Nooit) at a safe level - likewise Magalies Water has been experiencing problems with its water supply from the Vaalkop Water Scheme via Bospoort Dam - problems that has been ongoing for many years, according to informed sources. The events of the past few weeks have clearly shown just how fragile and crucially affected the country's infrastructure and services network will be every time that Eskom is in danger of running out of steam. One almost cannot help to wonder if the authorities (The ANC, the Zumas, the Guptas and dozens of others behind state capture) have considered this before they have decided to loot Eskom into bankruptcy. One cannot help to wonder just how many setbacks this little town still has to suffer since the unfortunate Marikana incident of August 2012 seemed to have changed its course forever?

‘n Baas duisend

Geagte redakteur

Hiermee wil ek my oopregte dank uitspreek teenoor mnr Rozano Etsebeth.

Ek het my tweedehandse Ford Ka, wat op 'n stadium my oorlede seun s'n was, laasjaar aan my neef verkoop.

I will pay for service - nothing more nothing less

The Editor

With reference to the countless messages and notices of load shedding, power interruptions, water shortages and rising costs of so-called "services" by our authorities. I think henceforth I will be shedding my electricity bill to Stage 2 for the next 24 months as well, therefore they will not add 18.3% to my tariff because I will pay 100% for a 100% service supply. How's that?

Pound for Pound Brother

Hy en sy werkligkundige het dit na die beste van hulle vermoë weer opgebou. Ek het besluit om dit terug te koop, en het die motor uiteindelik verlede week ontvang.

Maar slegs 15km later het die waaierbond afgekom, en 'n oolielek op die kragstuurpomp ontstaan! Daar staan my nuut-opgeboude Ka by my huis en ek sit sonder vervoer, my ander ryding reeds verkoop.

My baas, mnr Rozano Etsebeth, bied toe aan om met sy eie motor en 'n karsleepwa, my Ka na sy persoonlike werkligkundige te neem. Hy het self my stukkende motortjie by my huis kom ooplaai. Ek werk skofte en vervoer is 'n nagmerrie as jy van ander mense afhanglik is. My vriend het ook gehelp met vervoer, maar werk self ook skofte. Vandag, 30 Januarie, het my baas my weer na die werkligkundige se werkswinkel geneem. Daar het ek die rekening betaal, en my motortjie is pragtig herstel.

Sonder mnr Rozano se hulp sou ek nou nog gesukkel het. In my opinie is hy die beste Baas is Rustenburg.

Mariska Kruger, per e-pos, Rustenburg

Rustenburg Squash Club

RUSTENBURG HERALD - RUSTENBURG - On 28 and 29 January, the Rustenburg Squash Club hosted its annual Rustenburg New Year's Squash tournament, one of the first official squash tournaments on the Squash South Africa calendar. Back in Rustenburg again this year, the club played host to teams and players from the Rustenburg Squash Club, Adelaars (Pretoria), Mittal and Meyerton Squash Clubs (Vaal Triangle), CBC (Pretoria), as well as PCC and the PUK University (Potchefstroom), and featured the current number two and three South African Men's players, JP Brits and Tristen Worth respectively, as well as current South African Girls u/19 number three, Elske Garbers.

The tournament was a huge success with some of the country's top men and women players showcasing their skills, as well as exposing the Rustenburg Squash Club members to some very competitive and enjoyable squash.

The annual Rustenburg New Year's tournament has run for more than 40 years and relies heavily on sponsorship and contributions. This tournament would not have been a success without their generous sponsors - thank you. To all our members who assisted with glasses, tables, catering, and braai skills, and just a general helping hand, which enabled us to host a memorable tournament.

The tournament comprised of an A and B section and showcased some excellent squash, exciting competition, and an amazing social atmosphere. The A section was won by Puk University 1, beating out the Rustenburg A side in the final, and the B section won by Rustenburg B.

Winners B Section: Rustenburg B - Johann Keyter (Club Chairman), Chris Sima, Bronwyn Chandler, Albert Coetzer, Mpho Khunou, Johannes Meyer, as well as Lizzie Saayman (absent).

Winners A-section: PUK University 1 - Johann Keyter (Club Chairman), John T v/d Vyver, Tristen Worth, Johan Venter and Kalib Sima, as well as Elske Garbers (absent).
