Trein wat ystererts vervoer versper Rutgersweg oorgang

BRITS POS – BRITS – Vroeg Maandagoggend het ‘n trein wat ystererts vervoer het onklaar geraak en die treinoorgang in Rutgersweg, Brits en dit heeltemal versper.

Heelwat later het dit aan die lig gekom dat die lokomotief onklaar geraak het en dat ‘n vervangingslokomotief van Pretoria gestuur sou word.

Bo en behalwe dat die verkeer ontwrig was, kon verkeer die ander oorgang in Spoorweglaan na Tomstraat gebruik.

Die gevaar was egter dat voetgangers van beide kante af, óf onder die trein moes deurklim óf bo-oor die treinwa-koppelings moes klim, wat verskriklik gevaarlik is. Omdat gebruikers nie ingelig is wanneer die vervangingslokomotief sou kom en die trein weer sou beweeg nie, is talle voetgangers se lewens in gevaar gestel.

Die pad is weer teen 15:00 Maandag-middag oopgestel. ‘n Klompie jare gelede is ‘n skoolkind wat onder die treinwa deurgeklim het dood, toe die trein skielik weggetrek het.

‘n Trein het Maandagoggend die oorgang in Rutgersweg, Brits vir ure versper nadat dit onklaar geraak het.

Voetgangers soos die vrou se lewens is in gevaar gestel omdat hulle óf onder die trein moes deurklim of bo-oor die treinwa-koppelings moes klim, sonder om te weet wanneer die trein weer sou beweeg.

Nine NW municipalities lose more than R 460 million in service delivery grant funding - Madibeng biggest loser with a cut of R 145 408 million BRITS POS – BRITS - The DA notes National Treasury’s decision to withhold conditional grant funding from nine North West municipalities, one being Madibeng Local Municipality.

“This decision has been communicated by the Minister of Finance, Mr Enoch Godongwana, to the North West MEC of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs, Mr Nono Maloyi, and regrettably, it will have far-reaching consequences for infrastructure development, maintenance, and service delivery in the province’s worst performing municipalities,” says Freddy Sonakile MPL - DA North West Spokesperson on Cooperative Governance, Human Settlements and Traditional Affairs.

According to National Treasury, the decision to withhold conditional grant funding was informed by the poor performance of municipalities against the requirements of each grant allocated to the province. The conditional grants affected are the Municipal Infrastructure Grant, Energy Efficiency and Demand-Side Management Grant, and Water Services Infrastructure Grant, amongst others. See letter here.

The Dr Ruth Segomotsi Mompoti District Municipality, the City of Matlosana, and the Rustenburg, Moses Kotane, JB Marks, Madibeng, Ratlou, Ditsobotla, and Mamusa local municipalities will accumulatively lose R460 million in conditional grant funding.

Madibeng is the biggest loser with a cut of R145,408 million, followed by Dr Ruth Segomotsi Mompoti at R119,453 million and Rustenburg at R65,341 million. JB Marks and Matlosana are also in the top 5 worst affected municipalities losing R59 million and R26 million respectively.

This is a heavy blow to service delivery in North West.

ANC-governed municipalities not only fail to invest in infrastructure development and maintenance but when they receive funding, fail to spend the money on projects it is intended for. North West suffers a massive infrastructure backlog, National Treasury’s decision, although understandable, will put additional strain on the already limited cashflow of municipalities, who mostly adopted unfunded budgets.

The little revenue collected by municipalities will be utilised for operational and wage bill expenses, and as municipalities struggle with the infrastructure backlog, the withholding of conditional grant funding will contribute to an increase in the already ballooning Eskom and Water bulk services debt, third-party payments such as PAYE, VAT, and pension and medical aid fund contributions, but worse of all, it will further collapse basic service delivery to residents.

The DA demands the Provincial Public Accounts Committee (SCOPA) to urgently summon all the affected municipalities to account for their failures to spend conditional grant funding, which is an injustice committed against the residents of this province. Each municipality must also explain how they intend to fund their service delivery programmes and infrastructure development projects which this conditional grant funding was meant to bankroll.

Losing these critical funds meant to improve service delivery in a province that suffers severe water challenges, poor roads, and no solution to deal with the electricity crisis, the rising cost of living, unemployment, and poverty is an indictment of the inability of the ANC to govern in the interest of the people.

“Residents of North West need to take note and vote for a DA government in 2024 because where we govern, we spend money to improve people’s lives,” Sonakile concludes.

BRITS POS – BRITS - A 39-year-old Sergeant handed himself over to Brits Police on Wednesday morning, 5 April 2023, for the alleged murder of his 35-year-old pregnant ex-wife. It is alleged that the police officer who is stationed at Rapid Rail in Silverton, Pretoria and residing at Ga-Rankuwa went to Brits hospital where his ex-wife was working.

The suspect who handed himself over to the police after the incident, is expected to appear soon before the Brits Magistrates’ Court. The motive of the incident is unknown at this stage and investigations by the Independent Police Investigative Directorate (IPID) are underway.

Meanwhile, the Provincial Police Commissioner, Lieutenant General Sello Kwenza condemned the incident and conveyed his deepest condolences to the victim’s family, friends and colleagues.

GBV related attempted murder accused gets fifteen years imprisonment

BRITS POS – MORETELE – The 24-year-old Thapelo Mabelane was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment on Wednesday, 29 March 2023, by the Moretele Magistrates' Court for attempted murder of his girlfriend in a gender-based violence (GBV) case.

The sentence emanates from a case in which Mabelane stabbed his girlfriend, Deliwe Motlolatshipi (19) with a knife on Friday, 18 March 2022, at her parental home in Mathibestad village, close to Makapanstad. According to evidence led in court, on the said day, at about 23:00, the accused who was in the company of a male friend went to see the victim at her parental home. Upon arrival, he knocked on the door and the victim opened it for him. Thapelo then accused her of cheating and assaulted her with open hands. He further drew a knife out of his pocket and tried to stab their child who was sleeping on the bed. She (victim) blocked the knife and was stabbed on her hand and then stabbed numerous times on her upper body and the convict then fled the scene while the victim was transported to the local clinic for medical help. She was later transferred to Jubilee hospital in Hammanskraal and later to George Mukhari hospital in Ga-Rankuwa.

Following investigations into the matter, police received information that Mabelane was hiding somewhere in Limpopo Province. With the assistance of the police in Limpopo, Mabelane was eventually arrested on Monday, 28 March 2022 and charged with attempted murder wherein he was found guilty as charged and sentenced. The Provincial Commissioner of North West, Lieutenant General Sello Kwena expressed his appreciation to the Investigating Officer, Detective Sergeant Joel Tlou of Makapanstad Detectives and the entire team for leaving no stone unturned in ensuring that those perpetrating gender-based violence related offences are facing the full might of the law.

Small businesses in the Township Economy struggling to stay afloat

BRITS POS- BRITS - Township business owners say they're struggling to stay afloat amid constant and crippling rolling blackouts. This is according to a Nedbank insights report conducted in partnership with the Township Entrepreneurs Alliance (TEA) titled 'Impact of load-shedding on small businesses in the township economy', which surveyed over 200 businesses across South Africa.

The intent of the survey was to quantify the impact of load-shedding on small businesses in township communities, unpack the drivers behind the impact and finally draw insights to help develop alternate solutions.

The key findings were as follows:

- 64% of township small businesses cease operations during load-shedding
- Almost 66% of business owners have shed jobs because of load-shedding
- Load-shedding has led to increased operating costs, lost revenue and declining margins, therefore affecting profitability
- Solar is the most preferred alternative energy option (although generators are the most used), but most businesses don't know where or how to start looking for this solution
- Business challenges caused by power cuts are having an impact on mental health, resilience and the entrepreneurial ability to hustle. The findings were discussed by a panel that was facilitated by Lungile Mashele, Energy Economist, and included Dayalan Govender, Nedbank Managing Executive Solution Innovation; Bulelani Balabala, Founder of Township Entrepreneur Alliance (TEA); Masopha Moshoeshe: Green Economy Specialist & Green Hydrogen Lead in the IIO in the Presidency; and Franc Gray, Chief Lending Officer at Hohm Energy. While the survey revealed that more than 60% of township small businesses cease operations during load-shedding, it also showed the resilience of small businesses in the township, with 19% turning to alternative energy sources and 17% improvising in other ways. Generators were the most prevalent alternative energy source but, although cheaper than an equivalent battery backup, the cost to run them can be quite high depending on load-shedding intensity.

"Given that spaza shops contribute around 6% of South Africa's GDP, employ 2.6 million people and represent an economy of around R600 million, the results are troubling and require a response from both the private and public sectors," said Govender.

On the subject of solar power, Gray said it was clear that most business owners did not know where to start looking for solutions. "Collectively, we need to devise a strategy for educating cash-strapped businesses about solar solutions, including how to calculate power needs, and where to find reputable installers.

Generators are the cheaper short-term solution but in the long term, solar is more cost-effective. The aim must be to demystify how it works." "Despite the incredible hustling resilience of these business owners, there is a sense that people are starting to give up because it feels as though they are fighting a losing battle," said Mogale. "When resources such as electricity and water become unavailable, deprivation can lead to hopelessness. This points to the need to support small business in dealing with mental health." Survey participants made several suggestions around how some of this impact could be curtailed. These included reducing the length of load-shedding to one hour, making more affordable alternative power solutions available, making solutions more accessible, and finding external funding to help to ease the challenges they are being forced to confront. Mooiweer vir Paasfees

BRITS POS – BRITS – Vir die lesers wat die Paasnaweek met Jan Tuisbly se karretjie ry, kan mooi weer, met oorgenoeg sonskyn verwag word.

Daar word geen reën die naweek verwag nie, maar vanaf Maandag voorspel die Suid-Afrikaanse Weerdiens baie swaar reën.

Dié reën sal tot Donderdag voortduur en die moontlikheid van donderstorms word nie uitgesluit nie.

Volgens weerkenner is daar afwykings ten opsigte van normale weer tydens die oorgaan van somer na winter en dit sluit in: die Polêre Vortex is ‘n strook koue, roterende lug wat beide die aarde se poolstreke omring. Die rotering is in die rigting waarin die aarde draai en verswak gedurende die somer, maar versterk tydens die winter. Sterker rotering is voordelig vir die winterreënvalstreek, maar sodra dit verswak, word straalstrome by die tropopouse (Die tropopouse dit is ‘n tussenoorgangstreek tussen twee lae van die aarde se atmosfeer. Dit is geleë tussen die onderste laag van die atmosfeer, die troposfeer genoem, en die laag daarbo, die stratosfeer) meer golwend. Die afwykings in die stratosfeer reflekteer ook tot afwykings in die troposfeer (die deel van die atmosfeer waarin ons weer ontwikkel) met kouefronte wat verder noord, en hoogdrukke wat verder suid dring. Dit het hierdie jaar ‘n groot invloed gehad op oes-weer in die Weskaap met parstyd wat ‘n paar dae vroeër begin het en tafeldruif wat as gevolg van te veel reën in die slag gebly het. Hierdie afwykings sal in die Weskaap ongelukkig tot die einde Mei voortduur. Die departement van water en sanitasie in Hartbeespoort het die nuuste statistieke oor die watervlak van damme in die omgewing deurgegee en daar was Maandag, 3 April nog sewe damme vol.

What does Good Friday mean to you

The Editor,
Is it just a day to hunt down Easter specials or just a day away from work to chill and party? Do we even know why there is a Good Friday holiday? Just over 2000 years ago, someone died in our place to save us from hell. That someone is Jesus Christ, the son of the living God, creator of heaven and earth and all that exists. Jesus died a horrific death so we can live forever in heaven. John 3:16 says that God so loved the world that he gave His only begotten son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish, but have eternal life. During this Easter Weekend, let us rethink what Jesus has done for us and let us all live with abundant gratitude. Thank you
Hendrik Botha

End of e-toll gantries still a major challenge

BRITS POS – BRITS – According to Hanno Labuschagne, My Broadband Journalist, Gauteng's 43 e-toll gantries might not be the boon to law enforcement that some hope, although they could still be used for traffic enforcement once the e-toll system finally gets shut down.

What South Africa can do with its e-toll gantries — including making R14.9 million per day from speeding fines.

About two months before finance minister Enoch Godongwana and Gauteng Premier Panyaza Lesufi confirmed that e-tolls would be scrapped, the South African National Roads Agency (Sanral) published a tender for a contractor to take over the system.

Among the possible services that bidders could implement was an average speed-over-distance system.

The road agency said its e-toll gantries were already capable of limited average speed enforcement.

"The [average speed over distance] system will interface with the Sanral accounting system to raise any potential invoices for payment of the part of the fine that is agreed to be due to Sanral," the agency stated.

Sanral has been collecting average speed data since 3 April 2020, and had recorded nearly 12.6 million infringements by the time of the tender publication.

That worked out to roughly 14,858 infringements per day if measured up until the end of July 2022.

With a minimum speeding fine of R1,000 in Gauteng, not accounting for early payment discounts, the system could not only help curb speeding incidents but also generate revenue of R14.9 million per day or R5.7 billion per year.

That could have paid for the original R20 billion cost of the e-toll system within four years.

On a single day in July 2022, it noted 16,225 speeding infringements, Sanral stated.

Gauteng E-toll gantry at night
Some organisations, including the Automobile Association of South Africa (AA), have asked whether the system could have more elaborate use cases, like assisting in proactive crime fighting.

But the AA contends the fact that the e-toll system could capture vehicle licence plates meant they could likely be used in combatting crime.

In addition to reading e-tags with transponders, e-toll gantries were fitted with specialised cameras to read the licence plates of cars without tags.

In theory, that data could be used by law enforcement agencies to track down vehicles of interest that might have been hijacked, stolen, or otherwise used in criminal activity.

However, capturing and quickly sending information to a control room would not have been a required use case when the e-toll system was designed. According to FirstCar Rental, it currently takes Sanral three days to process e-toll transactions, suggesting a much slower turnaround in information delivery.

The fact that e-toll cameras are not known to have been used for crime-fighting in the past suggests that the system does not currently support this. However, it could still be used for police investigations at a later stage as evidence in court.

Beard said it would be a shame if the e-toll gantries could not be repurposed beyond what they were originally intended to do.

Outa's executive director of accountability, Stefanie Fick, says that she was unsure whether the e-toll cameras were suitable for crime fighting.

No funds have been allocated to settle the e-toll debt in Gauteng's latest annual budget. It is also unclear where the province will get the money for this.

Gauteng is expected to take on 30% of the e-toll debt of R47 billion, while the national government will foot the bill for the remaining amount.

Gauteng finance MEC Jacob Mamabolo said that a memorandum of understanding between Sanral and the provincial government was still being drawn up.

Unless there is an unusual intervention, it is unlikely e-tolls will be scrapped until the next financial year, starting in April 2024.

Hare waai vir rugbytoer

Groot opwinding het by Hoërskool Brits geheers toe die skool se eerste rugbyspan se hare onlangs gesny is met die doel om fondse vir die span se rugbytoer gedurende die vakansie in te samel. Die span het behoorlik deurgeloop terwyl die leerling die knippers laat brul het.

Laerskool Olienpark se netbaldogters, o.10 tot o.13, het onlangs 'n baie opwindende en leer-same netbaltoer by Camp Discovery net buite Pretoria meegemaak. Daar was hard gewerk, baie geleer en die spelers het behoorlik spangees gebou. Na afloop van die toer is die Parkies slag-gereed vir die netbalseisoen wat voorlê.

World Health Day – Listen to Your Gut

BRITS POS – BRITS - CANSA emphasises the importance of colorectal health on World Health Day (7 April). Colorectal cancer, is among the top three for men and women in South Africa according to the National Cancer Register (2019). Previously colorectal cancer was associated with older adults, however younger adults are being diagnosed more frequently.

CANSA promotes regular cancer screening, especially if there is a family history of colorectal cancer, or if any warning signs present to investigate this by making an appointment with a medical health practitioner and take steps to lower the personal cancer risk. #CANSAColorectalCancer #ColorectalCancerAwareness #ActiveBalancedLifestyle

Colorectal cancer in its early stages shows no symptoms and in younger people may be misdiagnosed. For this reason, it's often diagnosed late when at a more advanced stage or it has spread to other parts of the body. It's therefore important to know what is normal for one's body, know the warning signs and to be aware of family history. Equally important is to take advantage of screening for colorectal cancer preventatively, before symptoms are experienced, and not to wait until experiencing discomfort. View infographic...

Carima Adams, cancer survivor, explains that her symptoms were not diagnosed correctly, "I was diagnosed at 28, late stage 3. I experienced symptoms, but the doctors kept misdiagnosing me. Eventually I went straight to a specialist who picked it up."

Lorraine Govender, CANSA's National Manager: Health Promotion shares highlights of CANSA's colorectal campaign: "CANSA in partnership with The South African Colorectal Society (SACRS) continues to educate providing the facts in a fun, interactive way. In partnership with Medtronic, CANSA released a colorectal awareness video featuring 'Sizwe and Crystal' who discover how their lifestyle choices have affected their colorectal health, and what symptoms they should not ignore. The 'Colin the Colon' Tunnel, was also created to teach about colorectal cancer in a visual and tactile manner. The public can walk through a 2x3m inflatable tunnel representing the colorectal tract and get educated about colorectal cancer and may even be requested to be on display at employee wellness events by the public."

Dr Vuyo Soldati, Colorectal Fellow at the Groote Schuur Hospital adds, "Colorectal cancer can be cured with surgery if detected early enough. Patients with a change in bowel habit showing looser stools, rectal bleeding or iron deficiency anaemia, should be investigated with a colonoscopy."

CANSA encourages early detection and screening by means of a colonoscopy, starting at age 50 and repeated every 10 years depending on the individual's risk factors. A colonoscopy may also be requested if abnormal symptoms are experienced and if there is a family history of colorectal cancer a colonoscopy may be requested at a younger age. CANSA provides Faecal Occult at home stool tests (R100), which can be done at home. If the test is positive (visible red line on test strip) for the presence of blood in the stool, CANSA provides a referral letter to request a colonoscopy. The latest report on colorectal cancer by the American Institute for Cancer Research (AICR), found that eating fiber-rich foods, exercising regularly and maintaining a healthy weight can lower your risk. Eating high amounts of red and processed meat, drinking excess alcohol and carrying extra body fat were all linked to a higher risk.

A side effect of colorectal cancer may include having a colostomy. Many colorectal cancer patients have a portion of their bowel and / or colon removed and end up with a permanent stoma.

A stoma is an opening on the abdomen that can be connected to the digestive or urinary system to allow waste to be diverted from the body. It can take a while for a patient to adapt to living with a stoma, so it's important to seek support from CANSA. The CANSA Tele Stoma Support Service offers online consultations for stoma patients and their families to assist with challenges or stoma queries including professional pre- and post-operative counselling and support groups at Stoma Clinics as well as stoma bags and linen savers that can be purchased at reduced prices at most local CANSA Care Centres. CANSA also continues to advocate with policy makers for a National Colorectal Cancer Policy to promote the rights of colorectal cancer patients, guide population based screening and public health services related to risk reduction, treatment, care, support and control of colorectal cancer.
