SAWV Krokodilrivier Jeugdag 'n groot sukses

BRITS POS - BRITS - André Steenkamp en Frans du Randt was aan die stuur van sake by die SAWV Krokodilrivier Jeugdag by The Veterans in De Kroon.

Albei is oud-SAW-soldate en dien op die bestuur van dié Eenheid. Isabel Kirchner sê dit was 'n klein begin, maar half gewin.

Daar was ook kos- en geskenk-stalletjies en aanstaande jaar beoog dié tak om 'n opwindende aanbieding te hê. "Ons het 'n wonderlike oggend saam met die jong mense gehad," vertel Kirchner en eerskomende Saterdag, 'n groot verrassing by dieselfde venue om 10 uur met 'n Kaplyn Musiekblaspel akteur en sanger by OPS Kolgans. Bywoning moet bevestig word.

SARS Filing season coming

BRITS POS - BRITS - The 2023 Tax Season for individuals and non-provisional taxpayers is upon us, with the dates now announced as from 7 July (after 8pm) until 23 October.

The previous introduction of auto-assessments, among other improvements, was in line with SARS' journey to build a smart, modern revenue service with unquestionable integrity, trusted and admired by all. Improved technology, the use of data, artificial intelligence and algorithms have enabled SARS to make it easier for taxpayers to comply with their tax obligations.

SARS anticipates that there will be a mad rush to submit as soon as Filing Season opens. To reduce the number of walk-ins and long queues, SARS will again issue auto-assessed tax returns to numerous non-provisional individual taxpayers with less complicated tax matters.

Employers, medical aid schemes and financial institutions, among others, who submitted correct information and data on time, enabled the effective implementation of the SARS Auto-Assessment programme.

Importantly, the use of technology and data has made it easy for SARS to refine and improve its resources to detect non-compliance. This, then, makes non-compliance hard and costly.

As a result, SARS will impose penalties on taxpayers who intentionally attempt to claim impermissible expenses or underestimate their income. In addition, there will be administrative non-compliance penalties for those taxpayers who do not

Twee toeriste van Singapoer verdrink tragies tydens kano-avontuur

BRITS POS – HARTBEESPOORT – Noordwes polisievoerder, kaptein Aafje Botma het aan Brits Pos bevestig dat twee geregtelike doodsondersoek aangevra is by Hartbeespoortdam polisiestasie, na die vermeende verdrink van twee Singapoer landsburgers, ‘n 34-jarige man en een 39-jarige vrou, wat op ‘n kano-avontuurrit op die Krokkidilrivier, suid van Hartbeespoortdam was, Sondag, 18 Junie.

Botma sê dat die name van die oorledenes nie bekend gemaak sal word, totdat hulle naasbestandies in kennis gestel is nie.

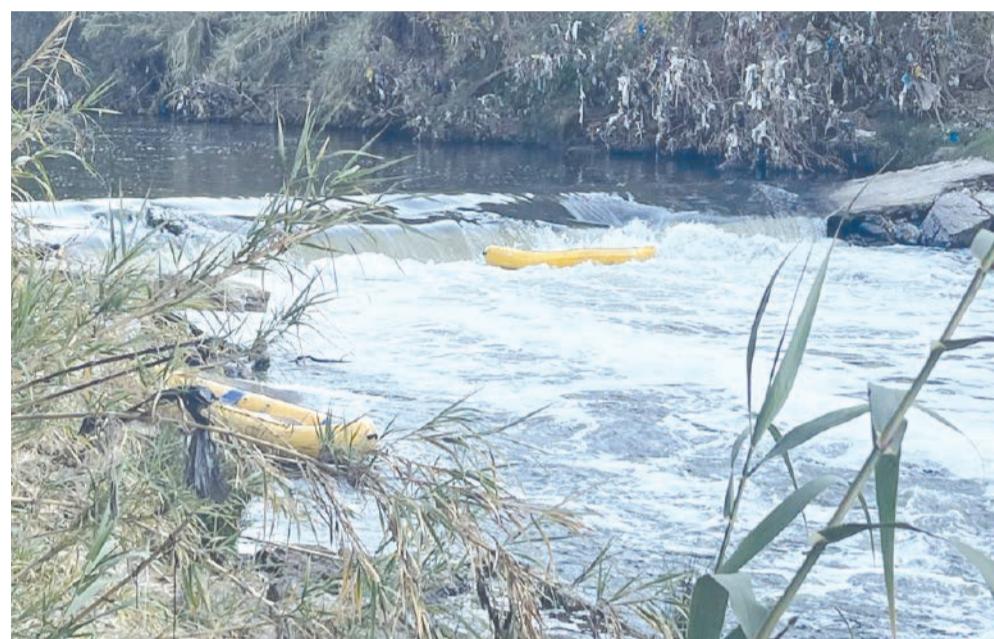

Volgens Arthur Crew van SRU Strategic Response Rescue Unit in Hartbeespoort, was die toeriste deel van ‘n groep van 20 roeiers in 13 kano’s. Hulle het ‘n noodroep om 14:40 ontvang en hulle na die toneel gehaas waar een van die kano’s aan die onderkant van ‘n stroomversnelling in die rivier vasgesit en omgeslaan het en die saak vererger is toe nog drie kano’s op dieselfde plek vasgeval het.

Volgens Crew het die toergidse in die rivier gesprong en ses van die toeriste gered. “Ons het met ons aankoms onmiddellik met KPR begin, maar ongelukkig is twee van die toeriste oorlede. Twee van die toergidse wat die toeriste te hulp gesnel het, het ook amper verdrink en was bewusteloos toe hulle aan wal gebring is.” “Hierdie gebeure is tragies,” vertel Crew, “en al die nodige noodprosedure is gevolg en aan die groep verduidelik voordat hulle in die kano’s geklim en uitgegaan het op die rivier. Elkeen het ook ‘n veiligheidshoed en reddingsbaadjie aangehad en ons kan die toergidse net lof toeswai vir alles wat hulle gedoen het om die toeriste te red.”

Plaaslike skilder vereer by VTM

BRITS POS – BRITS - Die Kundramus-kunsgallery in samewerking met die Federasie vir Afrikaanse Kultuurvereniginge (FAK) is op 2 Junie 2023, amptelik by die Voortrekkermonument (VTM) tydens ‘n glansgeleentheid geopen.

“Kundramus staan vir die samekoms van kuns, drama en musiek. Die Voortrekkermonument is nie ‘n dooie gebou nie, maar ‘n plek waar kuns gevier word,” sê dr Danie Langner, besturende direkteur van die FAK en die Voortrekkermonument.

Groot kunstenaars soos plaaslike skilder, Kobus Möller van Brits, stal onder andere ook sy spogwerke in die Voortrekkermonument se Senotaafsaal uit. Kobus het aan Brits Pos vertel dat dr Danie Langner, ook voorsitter van die Erfenisstigting eendag saam met hom deur die monument gestap het en die volgende vraag aan Kobus gevra het: “As daar van jou kunswerke in die monument gehang sou word, wat sou die tema wees?”

“Nou ja, my tema oor die jare was maar dierestudies,” vertel Kobus, “maar dr Langner het gesê hy hou van my boomstudies en gevra of ek nie ‘n klompie bomme wil skilder waarmee die Voortrekkers op hulle onderskeie roetes in aanraking gekom het nie?”

Volgens Kobus gee dit hom nuwe motivering om by die Voortrekkermonument uit te stal. “Dit is seker die mees fenomenale gebou om by uit te stal in Suid-Afrika.”

“Hierdie het ‘n saadjie in my binneste geplant. Ek het gedink aan die diepe voorreg om my werke binne in die ikoon van die Afrikaner as deel van ‘n permanente uitstalling te hé. Die tyd wat dit my geneem het om hierdie werke te voltooi, weeg geensins op teen die eer om my werk te sien

Kobus Möller, plaaslike skilder van Brits het aan Brits Pos gesê: “Dit is ‘n diepe voorreg om my werke in die mees fenomenale Senotaafsaal by die Voortrekkermonument uit te stal.”

Een van die vyf boomstudies, die breëblaar rotsvy, van Kobus Möller, wat tans by die Voortrekkermonument uitgestal word.

Koue tref veral soggens

BRITS POS – BRITS – Baie koue weer, veral vroeoggend, word vir die komende week verwag en die temperatuur kan die week tot 3°C in die omgewing daal.

Volgens die weerwebwerf www.accuweather.com is die voorspelling dat die temperature teen einde van Junie en begin Julie, baie laag gaan daal met 'n minimum van 0°C en 'n maksimum van net 15°C.

Die koue kan moontlik toegeskryf word aan nog koue fronte en reën in die suide met 'n kombers van koue wat oor die suidelike deel van die land span. Buitendat dit daar reënerig is, sal vriesvlakte laag genoeg daal vir sneeu oor die suidelike bergerekse asook hoër liggende plekke.

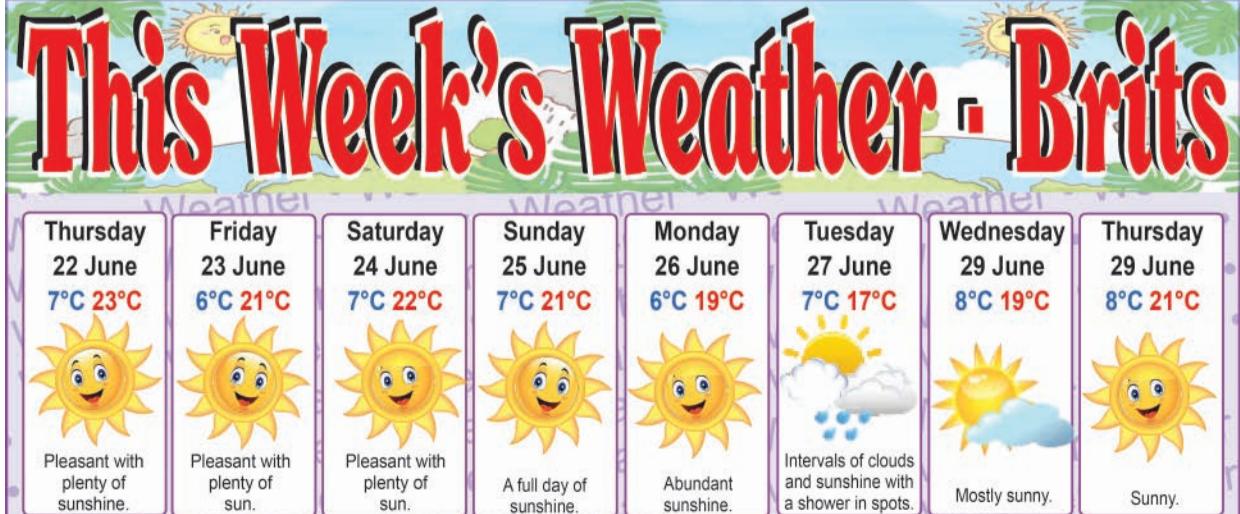

In Brits en die omgewing word daar geen reën voorspel nie en die departement van water en sanitasie in Hartbeespoort het op 19 Junie bevestig dat 12 damme in die omgewing steeds propvol is.

Die volgende statistiek van damvlakke is deur die departement deurgegee:

Hartbeespoort	98,1%	Lindleyspoort	98,8%	Roodekopjes	105,3%	Madikwe	60,2%
Bon Accord	106,6%	Roodeplaat	100,5%	Marico-Bosveld	99,0%	Pella	73,0%

Buffelspoort	100,5%	Swartruggens	101,6%	Molatedi	64,3%	Setumo	102,6%
Bospoort	101,9%	Vaalkop	97,0%	Sehujwane	88,6%	Lotlamoreng	100,0%

Vir die geesdriftige kampeerders en voëlkrykers, wat meer as 200km, rigting Lepalale, wil reis om by die pragtige Molokodam uit te span, kan verseker wees dat dit 'n onvergeetlike ervaring sal wees. Die area het 'n ryk voëllewe, met 'n verskeidenheid spesies soos reiers, visvangers, eende, ganse en nog vele meer. Die Molokodam is tans 100,3% vol. (Foto: Facebook)

Another carjacking near Damdoryn

BRITS – DAMDORYN - As a motorist was driving in a white Toyota bakkie, which is a company vehicle on the R104 towards Damdoryn on Wednesday, 14 June around 12:00, he was blocked in on the road by a Nissan Almera and Ford Figo and was suddenly held at gunpoint by one of the suspects and ordered to open the door and to move to the middle seat, as one suspect got in behind the steering wheel and the other in the passenger seat and drove off with the victim.

He was instructed to keep his head down and the suspects drove off to a place unknown to the victim.

He was then transferred to the Almera and his head was covered and the suspects drove around with him. They were pulled off the road by police members who told them to exit the vehicle. The victim informed the police that he had been hijacked and two suspects were arrested and detained at the Muldersdrift police station and then transferred to SAPS Hartbeespoortdam.

Police nab suspects when caught red-handed

BRITS POS - BETHANIE – On Saturday, 17 June around 22:50 a SAPS member of Bethanie police station was flagged down by an EMS member, notifying him that he is transporting a victim to a hospital in Brits after sustaining numerous stab wounds and that another victim was declared dead at Tshwaraganang, Barseba.

Police went to the hospital where they found the unconscious victim, but his sister, who was present, told police that before her brother fell unconscious, he gave her directions to where the suspects stay.

Two males were found at the address and when searching the premises, police members found a knife, bloodstained clothes and shoes.

Two suspects were arrested and an attempted murder case was opened at Bethanie police station.

Carjacking of company vehicle in Majakaneng

BRITS POS – MAJAKANENG - A staff member went to his employer, a civil construction company at Safropo Section, Majakaneng in his company vehicle, an Isuzu LDV, accompanied by a co-worker on Friday, 16 June around 19:00.

He left the vehicle idling with his colleague inside and proceeded to the premises on his own. That's when he saw a vehicle parked behind his vehicle and the passenger of that vehicle got into his vehicle, on the driver's side. When he approached, his colleague was nowhere to be found.

The suspect bluntly refused to leave the LDV and then his colleague returned to assist him. The suspect then fired two shots at them through the window and the victims fled the scene while the suspect drove off.

A carjacking case was opened at Mooienooi police station.

Armed robbery and carjacking on R566

BRITS POS - BRITS - A Madibeng employee was on his way in a Renault Kwid on the R566 near Casa Grande, when he was pulled off the road by a vehicle with SAPS insignia on Friday, 16 June.

The incident occurred at around 22:00 when two males, wearing SAPS uniforms, requested his driver's license.

All of a sudden, a white Toyota Etios with three occupants stopped behind his vehicle.

That's when the bogus policeman held the victim at gunpoint and ordered him into the rear seat of his vehicle where he was tied up and drove off with him in his vehicle, followed by the Toyota Etios.

Upon arrival at a bushy place, unknown to the victim, they demanded his bank card and pin number and drove off and withdrew money from his bank account and took two cellphones and the suspects fled the scene in the two vehicles.

The victim managed to free himself and an armed robbery/carjacking case was opened at Brits police station.

Sondag was "nag" op die paaie

BRITS POS – BRITS – Sondag, 18 Junie was daar nie minder nie as vyf ongelukke in die Brits-omgewing, met een noodlottige besering en talle ander mense wat beserings opgedoen het.

Die paramedici van Hartbeespoort Emergency Medical Service (HEMS) was op al die tonele. Die oorsaak van al die ongelukke word nog ondersoek, maar die HEMS-span doen 'n beroep op motoriste om ten alle tye paraat te wees, veiligheidsgordels te dra en die padreëls te gehoorsaam.

Op die R511 net buite Brits op die Thabazimbi-pad was daar Sondag 'n kettingbotsing tussen 'n taxi en drie bakkies waarvan een 'n woonwa gesleep het. Niemand is in die botsing besoer nie.

Drie mense is Sondag besoer in 'n ongeluk tussen twee voertuie by Village Mall se verkeerslig in Hartbeespoort.

BRITS POS – BRITS - Water remains an essential yet elusive resource for many communities.

The Roots Community, which is home to 3000 households, has been grappling with the daily struggle of accessing clean water. A local community builder, Gloria Shokane, decided to try and help find a solution to alleviate this struggle.

Gloria, the dedicated owner of the Thuto Ke Lesedi Day Care Centre, has an unwavering devotion to care for the community's young children and completely understands the detrimental effect limited access to water has.

She reached out to a leading importer and distributor of pumps in South Africa to see how a partnership with them can benefit the Roots Community. "We saw how this project will be beneficial. Water's role in health, prosperity, and growth is vital. By investing in water infrastructure, the project aims to empower and uplift the households residing in the Roots Community," said a spokesperson for AxFlow AQS Liquid Transfer about the company's decision to join forces with other local stakeholders to get involved with the project. "This venture aims to alleviate the burden of water scarcity and empower the community through sustainable solutions," the spokesperson added. By actively involving community members, the Roots Community Project ensures that their specific needs and struggles are addressed effectively, forging a path towards lasting change. In 2022, the Roots Community Project embarked on its initial phase, marking a significant milestone in the quest for accessible clean water. AxFlow/AQS oversaw the construction of a durable cement platform to house two 5000-liter JoJo tanks. These tanks have become a lifeline for the community, offering a reliable water storage solution that eliminates the need for arduous journeys in search of water.

Moreover, the project set roots by establishing a community garden, symbolising self-sustainability and resilience. The idea with the garden was not only to provide nourishment but also to serve as an educational hub, imparting knowledge about agriculture, fostering community pride, and inspiring a brighter future.

Building upon the success of the first phase, the Roots Community Project now enters its second phase. "The scope is to supply water, to drill a borehole so that the community becomes self-sustainable in water supply", says Leon Fourie, Managing Director of AxFlow/AQS.

With the invaluable support of stakeholders such as Storge Petroleum, Water Pump Services, Crystal Sun Drilling Projects, Mason Distributors, GEO Asset Management and Quality Drilling Supplies, AxFlow AQS Liquid Transfer takes the lead in installing a solar borehole system in the community. Powered by the sun's radiant energy, this innovative solution extracts water from the ground, ensuring a continuous and reliable source of clean water for the Roots Community. "It means a lot to us because we've been struggling with the water. We normally walk far for clean water. Some ladies use a wheelbarrow to carry water containers, others carry the container on their heads.

To be able to have access to clean water nearby will be a dream come true," says Gloria, owner and teacher at Thuto Ke Lesedi Day Care Centre. This collective effort and tireless dedication to securing clean water access will liberate community members from the shackles of long-distance walks, enabling them to channel their energy toward vital aspects of life, such as education, employment, and personal growth. In the spirit of unity and progress, the Roots Community Project demonstrates that by coming together, we can transform the lives of those in need, one drop at a time. As the Roots Community embraces a future brimming with accessible clean water, hope flourishes, and the path to a brighter tomorrow becomes ever clearer.

The Roots Community Project aims to supply water, to drill a borehole so that the community becomes self-sustainable in water supply.

Where does the buck stop?

~Paul Esterhuizen, School-Days CEO

BRITS POS – BRITS - Amidst plummeting temperatures as winter approaches, warnings of stage 8 load shedding, yet another interest rate hike, and failing water infrastructure resulting in a deadly outbreak of cholera - to mention just a few recent calamities - South Africans are in desperate need of some good news.

But this is South Africa and good news appears to be in short supply right now. The country's citizenry greeted the news of the recently released Progress in International Reading Literacy Study (PIRLS) with

Bekkige Lijah deur na ATKV-finaal

Dié bekkige gr.2-leerling van Laerskool Olienpark, Lijah du Plessis, is nie bang om haar sê te sê nie en het daarin geslaag om na die nasionale finale rondte van die ATKV-redenaarskompetisie deur te dring. Die kompetisie vind op 17 Augustus by die ATKV-Goudini Spa in die Wes-Kaap plaas. Sy word alle sterkte toegewens.

Thomo Tlhabane (16), a former head girl of Thornhill Primary School successfully secured a place in the top 10 among 100 talented young women in the Miss Teen World SA 2023 competition. The event took place at the State Theatre in Pretoria on Saturday, 10 June. This remarkable accomplishment is a testament to her hard work, dedication and the potential she possesses for future success.

weary resignation. The global study assesses the literacy rate of grade four learners in 42 countries. In South Africa, the test was administered in all 11 languages.

*The results are, frankly, appalling. In 2021, 81% of grade 4's could not read for meaning or answer basic questions on the content they had read, even though the content was in their home language. While South Africa's literacy rate has never been good, we have sunk to new lows in this latest study, ranking the lowest out of all the countries assessed. In 2016, the last time the study was conducted, 78% of children in grade 4 could not read for meaning, indicating that our literacy rates have declined since then.

*Interestingly, the test results varied depending on the language. English and Afrikaans scored above the global average while African languages scored lower than the global area. English and Afrikaans schools are typically fee-paying schools while African language schools typically do not pay fees. The worst-performing language was Setswana. The results also varied depending on the province: the Western Cape, Gauteng, and KwaZulu-Natal all scored significantly better than Limpopo and North-West.

*How did we get here when South Africa spends around the same amount relative to GDP on education, equivalent even to some developed countries?

The Department of Basic Education (DBE) blames the dismal PIRLS results on the lost teaching time suffered by learners during the pandemic. That's a disingenuous response, ignoring the fact that most countries in the study also lost teaching time. Around the world, many countries including Brazil, Colombia, Chile, and India implemented catch-up programmes in schools post the pandemic.

The DBE also blames the reading crisis on overcrowded classrooms and teacher shortages. Ironic, because these latter issues are problems of the department's own making.

*Advocacy organisation Equal Education says the PIRLS results confirm a school system in crisis and the failure of government to adequately address the deep cracks in a system that continues to let learners down. In a statement released by the Equal Education Law Centre, the two organisations said, “This lack of political will has undoubtedly contributed to South Africa consistently being the worst performing of the participating countries.”

*The statement goes on to say that “the pandemic alone cannot explain the decline in reading outcomes in the country” and that the ongoing crisis “shows how poorly the government and education departments have recognised the multiple challenges in the sector and have failed to muster the necessary political will to address them.”

*A failure to address the gaps will mean that a large number of learners will struggle throughout their school careers – and beyond. To date, only the Western Cape has announced any kind of catch-up education and teaching programme to catch learners up from missed schooling during the pandemic. Not only has the province implemented a reading strategy to strengthen reading performance across all grades, but it has also allocated R118 million for a foundation phase reading programme in three languages and allocated additional time each week to reading during the school day. In total, the Western Cape has allocated R1.2 billion into its #BackOnTrack programme over a three-year period to improve learner outcomes across all phases.

*South Africa's dismal educational outcomes are not helped by the fact that 80% of teachers in public or government schools don't have sufficient content knowledge or pedagogical skills. Their proficiency levels are typically less than half of that of teachers in Zimbabwe.

*Strong teacher unions, some of which act with impunity, and systemic corruption in the hiring of teachers have done little to address poor proficiency levels. Policy research and advocacy organisation, the Centre for Development and Enterprise (CDE) has recommended that the dominance of the SA Democratic Teachers Union (SADTU) – the dominant teacher union – is reduced to stop it from blocking measures to improve accountability.

The fact that English and Afrikaans schools – the majority of which are fee-paying schools in quintiles 4 and 5 – did not decline in reading outcomes, reveals the significant inequality that remains in our schooling system. Despite the existence of a framework to support under-performing schools, they are clearly not receiving the level of support they require to improve learning outcomes, including teaching learners to read for meaning.

*Alarming, more than 70% of public schools don't have libraries, and of those that do have a library, more than a third are not stocked with any books. This is despite a public school's infrastructure deadline for 2023 that required that all schools have a library.

*As a country, we are failing our youth if we can't teach them to read for meaning because those who can't read for meaning may well be destined to join the ranks of the unemployed in adulthood. Rather than set them up for failure, we urgently need more accountability in our education system. *We need ideology and vested interests to be put aside in favour of ensuring our youth have a future that they can look forward to. Teaching them to read for meaning will be an excellent first step.

This is why we believe it is so important that parents do everything in their power to pay school fees so that we can keep our teachers teaching and work to improve the country's literacy levels. As the PIRLS study reveals, fee-paying schools have better reading outcomes. This means we need to be focusing more attention on providing non-fee-paying schools with the tools and strategies to improve reading outcomes. We can't allow this generation of children to suffer the consequences of a failed system.

Future Founder's Fair

The Commerce Department at Mountain Cambridge School changed the format of their entrepreneur's day to enable the learners to think creatively and to be more innovative. The learners had to come up with a new name for this new initiative. Congratulations goes to Khumo Dikobe who came up with the name "Future Founder's Fair!" Learners were given recyclable items like Coke bottles and egg cartons to repurpose it into something that the teachers and senior high school learners would be willing to invest in. The gr.8's didn't disappoint with their creativity and innovative ideas. Pictured is Oratile Komape and Kgolagano Ramatlo.

DAMONSVILLE

Damonsville Masters vs Lucky Lekwathi F14

Real Sundowns legend, Katlego 'Mahoota' Mashego and teammates being escorted to the field by children from Hope, a Home for Homeless kids.

Outstanding Youth Day sports event hosted

BRITS POS – DAMONSVILLE - On 16 June Damonsville hosted a successful Youth Day sports event at the Damonsville Internationale.

The event was attended by a large crowd, with the venue packed to capacity. Spectators were treated to an exciting display of soccer skills as former PSL soccer players took to the field.

One of the highlights of the event was the launch of HOPE, a new NGO aimed at helping the homeless and underprivileged. Christina Matjila and her team did a wonderful job in organising the launch, which was well-received by the community. Although donations for underprivileged kids will be given at a later stage, the launch was a great success and generated a lot of positive feedback.

The Brits community played a significant role in making the event a success by attending.

It is heartening to hear that HOPE, a Home for the Hopeless, is making a positive impact in the community by helping the underprivileged. It is also encouraging to see that there are individuals and organizations willing to support this noble cause.

HOPE is in need of donations such as toys, clothes, toiletries, blankets, and school uniforms. Business organisations or individuals who wish to support this cause can contact Christina Matjila at 071 109 7327 between 09h00-18h00. HOPE is also aiming to set up a soup kitchen in the near future to provide food for those in need.

It is heartening to hear that HOPE's goal is to see that Brits will be free from drugs and homelessness. It is a noble cause, and we encourage everyone to support it in any way they can. It takes a community effort to make a positive change, and it is inspiring to see HOPE and its supporters taking up this challenge.

Jong ruiters gerat vir oefenskou

BRITS POS – BRITS – Academy of Horsemanship, onder die bekwame leiding van Soné Terblanche, bied Sondag, 25 Junie die eerste "Training Show Jumping" skou vir 2023 aan.

Dié skou word in samewerking met die Jagkamp @ Stokkiesdraai Equestrian Centre in Rutgerweg, Brits aangebied.

Die eerste perde en ruiters begin stiptelik om 09:00 en met meer as 70 ruiters en hul perde wat gaan deelneem, beloof die dag om nie teleur te stel nie.

Volgens die organiseerders het dié "Training Show" ten doel om die jonger en minder ervare ruiters en perde die geleentheid te bied om te kom oefen met baie aanmoediging en hul ontluikende talente te kom vertoon.

"Perdry, soos enige ander sport vereis tyd, geduld en harde werk. Ruiters en perde vorm 'n span wat sonder woerde met lyftaal mekaar moet ken en vertrou, daarom is die oefenskoue baie belangrik om ruiters en perde selfvertroue te gee," sê Soné.

Belangstellendes is welkom om die dag by Stokkiesdraai Equestrian Centre te kom geniet.

Alexandri Terblanche begelei Jessie van der Linde en haar perd, Angel, tydens 'n onlangse oefening by Academy of Horsemanship.
