

Millions of litres to waste

While parts of the city have been without water for long periods, millions of litres of water were gushing from a burst pipe at the corner of Hibiscus Avenue and Flamboyant Avenue in Cashan. A mini river was flowing down Helen Joseph Drive, even turning up Arend Avenue. The leak was eventually repaired. Enquiries were sent to the Rustenburg local Municipality, but at the time of going to press no feedback was received yet. (Photo: Philip Wessels)

Second man shot during housebreaking

BONUS -RUSTENBURG - In a matter of two days two men were shot and seriously injured by an armed intruder.

In the latest incident Abel Pienaar (42) was shot around 02:30 on Saturday morning (8 February). According to police the shooting occurred at the Albatros residential complex in Safari Gardens. Pienaar allegedly went outside to fetch the family's budgie. On his return to the living room, he was accosted by an armed intruder. The intruder fired a shot at Pienaar, but missed. The robber then fled outside, with Pienaar in pursuit. The gunman turned and fired a second shot at Pienaar, hitting him in the stomach. His wife transported him to a hospital in the city. He was operated on to treat injuries to his small intestine, as well as his pelvis. Pienaar was set to undergo a second operation on Monday (10 February), but at the time of going to press new information as to his condition was not available. Capt Elsabé Augoustides, Rustenburg Police spokesperson, said that the events at the Pienaars followed a break-in at their neighbour's house. It is believed that three robbers broke into another unit in for shootings?

the complex, but fled when they accidentally woke up one of the children in the house. "We are of opinion that one of the robbers jumped over the wall to the Pienaar's residence, saw the sliding door standing open and thought he could hide in the house. The previous incident occurred at around 03:00 on Thursday morning (6 February) when Gerhard Spalding (54) confronted a robber in his house in Wilgeriver Avenue, Cashan. The intruder fired several shots at Spalding, hitting him in the stomach and chest. According to capt Augoustides, the possibility that the armed intruder could be linked to both shootings are not excluded. It could be possible that the man was also responsible for a shooting at a house in Safari Gardens where a dog was hit when he charged the robbers. Rustenburg police are investigating cases of housebreaking, robbery and attempted murder. They are requesting people with information to please contact D/W/O Jannie van der Walt from the Rustenburg Detectives op 082 772 9226.

Help find missing child

Your assistance is requested in finding a missing child, Paida George Chiwunya (14) who was last seen on 28 November 2019 at around 18:00. According to information received his parents sent him to Rainbow Shop in Tlhabane. The business's CCTV cameras showed him entering, purchasing goods, then leaving, however he never returned home. He was last seen wearing a white short, green t-shirt and sandals (pushes). He has a distinctive mark on his bottom lip. Anyone with information is encouraged to call the investigating officer Mr Mosweu on 074 146 1194 or Mike Venter: 067 371 3564, Steven King: 082 920 5799, Maureen Scheepers: 082 565 6770 or email: missing.saccw@gmail.com.

Robbery at Exact store, Midtown Mall

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - On Wednesday morning, shortly after 09:30, seven African males, speaking Zulu and English, entered the Exact Store in the "Midtown Mall" in the Rustenburg CBD.

According to Captain Elsabé Augoustides, police spokesperson in Rustenburg, the men had three bags with them, they made enquiries about where the mobile phones were kept. They demanded the clients and workers to hand over their phones, threatening that they would shoot them if they did not cooperate. One of the workers who observed what was happening, fled to a nearby clothing store and requested them to phone the Police as they was a robbery in progress at Exact. The robbers according to Augoustides, then saw the worker fleeing the scene and realised that he was going to make alarm. Subsequently, they fled the scene with only five mobile phones of the employees and clients.

No shots were fired and nobody was injured. The police are investigating cases of common robbery.

Collect a shoe campaign in Tlhabane

BONUS - TLHABANE - The Executive Mayor of Rustenburg Local Municipality, Councillor Mpho Khunou, was in Tlhabane, Ward 9, where ward councillor, Malinga donated school shoes to children in the ward on Friday (7 February). The Executive Mayor was accompanied by Speaker of Council, Councillor Sheila Mabale-Huma, Member of Mayoral Committee (MMC) for Human Settlements and Housing, Councillor Victoria Makhaula and Councillors Mokotedi and Patlama.

The Executive Mayor said, it was important to promote the culture of giving back. “We acknowledge the role and efforts of Councillor Malinga, to see to it that children in his ward benefit,” Mayor Khunou emphasised.

Water shortages in Koster

BONUS - KOSTER - The municipality of Kgetlengrivier is experiencing water shortages due to aged infrastructure that leads to frequent breakdowns. The matter is indeed receiving the utmost attention according to spokesperson, Omphemetse Sannah Magakgala.

The Mayor, Councillor A.A. Selaledi together with Councillors and management conducted a site visit to examine Koster Water treatment plant and pump stations.

It was found that Koster water treatment plant systems and some machinery were in a bad condition. These challenges are affecting operations in the treatment works:

Koster dam pump station, the water pump with motor is broken; Widrand pump station broken, two water pump with motor is broken and Koster treatment plant, treatment works system and some machinery are in bad condition. "The municipality is doing its best to provide community with water despite this unfortunate situation. We plea to residents to be patient and cooperate during this time while our technical team and service provider are working tirelessly to fully restore water supply. We are engaging Office of the MEC: Cooperative Governance, Human Settlement and Traditional Affairs, Mothibedi Kegakilwe and other key stakeholders to assist us," said the Mayor.

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - The North West Housing Corporation has embarked on a journey of collaboration with various municipalities across the province to transfer all properties that are registered in the names of these municipalities back to the NWHC.

The NWHC and the municipalities have signed Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) in terms of which the affected municipalities undertake to transfer the properties back to the NWHC. A significant number of the NWHC properties owned by the NWHC are still registered in the name of the municipalities, and in some instances, the North West Provincial Government. As a background, upon the introduction of the democratic government in 1994, properties that belonged to the NWHC were temporarily transferred to various municipalities for the purpose of registering new townships after the creation of new provinces. It has always been expected that the municipalities would transfer these properties back to the NWHC once the townships were opened and registered. The NWHC is delighted to announce that the following municipalities have now signed MOA's with the Entity - Moses Kotane, Greater Taung, Mahikeng, Tswaing and recently Mangaung Metro. These properties will soon be registered in the name of NWHC.

The process to conclude the MOA is still on going with Ramotshere Moiloa, Rustenburg, Ditsobotla, Madibeng, and cross-border municipalities (Ga-Segonyana and Phokwane) to sign the MOA.

The NWHC remains fully committed to the promotion of home ownership and continues to do everything possible to facilitate the transfer of ownership to beneficiaries.

Brand new 2020 Blank Space Art competition kicks off

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - Bonus invites all art enthusiasts to take part in this year's Blank Space Art competition which is presented by Rustenburg Herald/Bonus in collaboration with Pick 'n Pay Beyers Naudé and Greystone Crossing.

Once again prize-money of R1 000 is up for grabs at each of the two stores every month with an additional grand prize of shopping vouchers to the tune of R10 000 at each of the participating stores towards the end of this year. To stand a chance in the competition, all you have to do is to use the blank space provided every week in Rustenburg Herald and attach your art work. Remember - no photo copies are allowed. ONLY ORIGINAL WORKS WILL BE ELIGIBLE FOR PRIZE-MONEY. You can use virtually any medium, chalk, pen or pencil, paint, glass, ceramic, wood, plastic or whatever you can think of. The only requirement is that you use the original blank space for your entry.

There is no entry fee and you can post/enter your art at any participating store of Pick n Pay (Greystone Crossing or Lifestyle Square in Beyers Naudé Avenue).

You may enter as many art works as you wish. A closing date for the competition will

5 600km Charity Motorbike ride "Ride for a Child"

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - Pediatric Care Africa is a non-profit organisation who raises funds to help and support children who do not have access to medical treatment and surgeries.

They are therefore planning a very exciting charity bike ride of +5600km starting on 15 February 2020 perusal. They will be in Rustenburg on 17 and 18 February 2020.

It is official that Dr Andre Hattingh will ride his road king Harley Davidson all around South Africa, for an approximate distance of 5600km visiting the most Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western point accessible by road bike during this epic trip.

The purpose of this mega "ride for a child" charity ride, is to generate funds for their 1000 Surgeries for 1000 children Campaign #HELPMYOP and to raise awareness of the plight of children that requires surgeries and medical treatment, and simply can't get help because their parents are too poor or they have no parents.

Dr Andre accompanied by a support vehicle will depart from White River Crossings in White River, Mpumalanga on 15 February 2020 at 09:00 and will arrive back there on Thursday 5 March. Give or take a day or two. They are making an appeal to companies and private persons to sponsor the rider for R1 per kilometer he completes and sponsor documents for companies and guest riders are available on the website: www.pediatriccareafrika.org.

Dr Andre is also challenging every doctor, hospital or person involved in the health industry, to sponsor him for R1 or R2 per kilometer he completes. Sponsorship per kilometer will no doubt assist them at Pediatric Care Africa to arrange surgeries and medical treatment for poor children.

Every motorbike rider and motorbike club in South Africa is invited to join them for any part of the route they are going to follow, or by being a sponsored guest rider that is also sponsored for R1 per kilometer they travel with their Dr Andre, to raise funds for children that requires surgeries ranging from grommets in their ears, cleft palates to heart valve replacement and everything in between.
