

In these times of having our hands full with Covid-19, can you imagine there are people out there who are actually worse off? It's no secret that the South African farming community in the Eastern and Northern Cape and large areas of the Karoo are fighting a desperate battle against probably the worst drought in living memory. Thanks to Samaritan organisation Boere Droogtehulp SA NPC donations of food, water, cash, everyday essentials, grazing for sheep, pet food and the like are raised to assist affected farmers and their families to keep afloat until the summer rains. A special campaign by Boeredroogtehulp SA at the BP Waterfall on Saturday, clients were encouraged to "sponsor" diesel to make it easier for trucks and transport to reach drought-stricken areas around the country. Pictured from left at the back above are: Janu Venter in the arms of his dad Reinhardt Venter, André Grobbelaar - owner of BP Waterfall, Duane Louw, PJ Snyman, Lizanne Louw, Mary-ann Venter and Marelou Snyman. Be on the lookout for similar campaigns by Boeredroogtehulp SA.

Lower fuel prices, except for 93

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - A reprieve might be on the horizon for motorists, as the Automobile Association has predicted fuel prices may drop in September.

The Association points out that as a result of a decrease in oil prices, 95 octane petrol is expected to dip by roughly four cents, with diesel expected to decrease by 19 cents and illuminating paraffin by 24 cents.

“The only fuel type set for an increase is 93 octane petrol, which will climb by about six cents a litre,” the AA comments.

“The bad news for the month was the Rand, which pulled back from testing the R16.80 mark against the US dollar last month and headed towards R17.40 at mid-month, with a slight firming trend since. On average, exchange rate losses added around 17 cents a litre to next month’s petrol price. The good news is that a steady performance from international oil prices has offset the Rand’s weakness,” notes the AA.

The AA says failings in investor confidence has affected the Rand’s strength which has pushed fuel prices higher. As time passes this will hopefully return to a reasonable level.

“As the country comes to terms with the economic damage caused by the COVID-19 lockdown, there is also concern about government’s ongoing policy uncertainty and levels of corruption as highlighted by the President,” the Association says.

Four convicted for Mooinooi murders

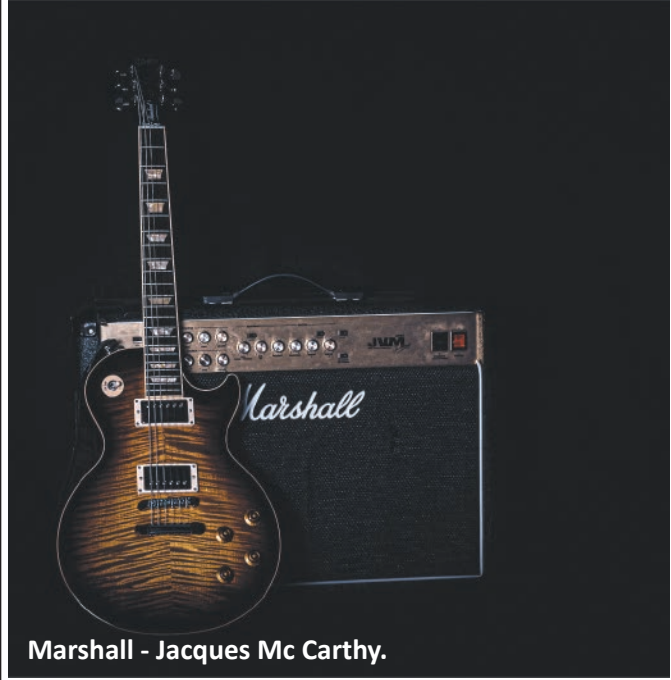

BONUS - MOOINOOI - Four people suspected of murdering Joey and Anisha van Niekerk in 2017 were convicted last week.

Mercia Strydom (23), Aaron James Sithole (26), Jack Sithole (20) and Alex Modau (36) were found guilty on charges including abduction, robbery, theft and murder. Strydom has been convicted on an additional charge of the possession of an unlicensed firearm, while the Sithole brothers were also found guilty of rape.

Koos Strydom, the man believed to have planned the abduction and subsequent murder of the couple, died last year while in custody. It is believed he took his own life. The four will be sentenced on 15/16 October.

New winners to be announced shortly

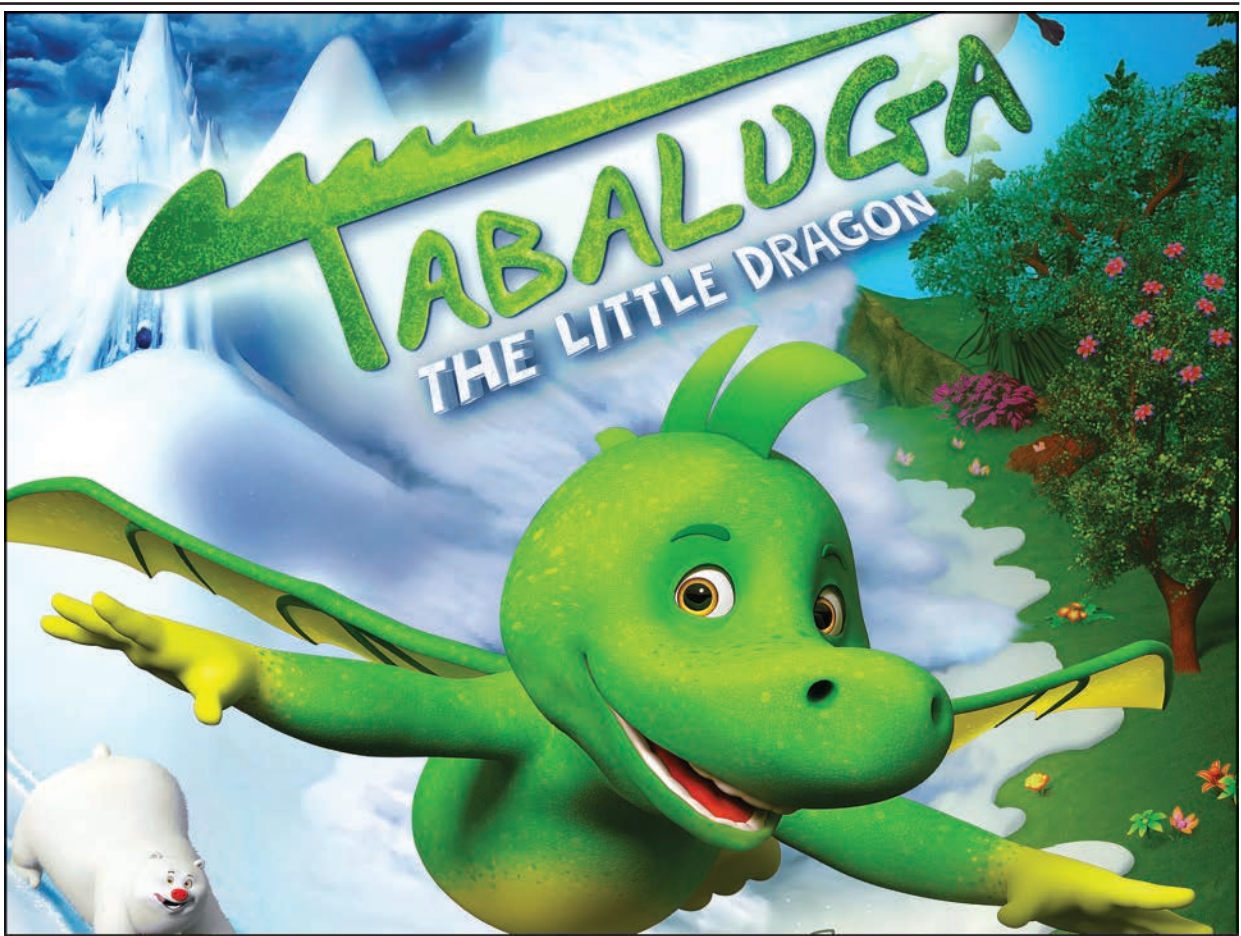

BONUS- RUSTENBURG - Bonus/Rustenburg Herald's Blank Space Art competition has reached the closing of the second "season" of the Covid-19 year.

Prize-money of R2 000 (2 x R1 000) is up for grabs and artists must remember to use the blank space in Rustenburg Herald to mount, paint or fix their art entries. Also remember that no photo copies of the blank space entry form will be accepted. Artists advancing to the final round of the competition towards the end of the year, stand a chance to walk away with prize-money of R20 000 (2 x R10 000) at both Pick n Pay stores at Greystone Crossing or Beyers Naudé at Rustenburg's Lifestyle Square. This prize-money is sponsored by Pick n Pay Greystone Crossing and Beyers Naudé - we thank Pick n Pay Rustenburg for encouraging artists to enter the competition. The next closing date in our Blank Space Art competition will be Wednesday, 9 September and the judging will take place on Thursday, 10 September. The two new winners will be announced in Bonus and Rustenburg Herald in the week of 14 September. Look out for your copy.

Puma welcomes six future stars as ambassadors
after 2020
Puma School of Speed Series

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - After an exciting 2020 Puma School of Speed Series, leading sports brand Puma South Africa has welcomed six junior track and field stars, Banele Shabangu (18), Hannah van Niekerk (15), Precious Molepo (15), Robinn Thorburn (17), Vuyo Ndhlovu (18) and Breyten Connoway (15) as Puma Future Stars for the upcoming season.

“We are excited to welcome these six exceptional young athletes as Puma Future Stars,” says Puma Marketing Director Brett Bellinger.

“The Puma School of Speed delivered spectacular results in 2020, making the selection process a difficult one. These six athletes really impressed us. We look forward to being with them every step of the way as they continue to excel in the exciting sport of track and field.”

What is the PUMA School of Speed:

Launched in 2016 and Headed by the World’s Fastest Man, Usain Bolt, the PUMA School of Speed Series is committed to the development of athletics talent in South Africa by identifying exceptional young South African athletes who believe that their future is #ForeverFaster.

In addition to representing the brand, the six Puma contract winners, aka Future Stars, will have access to Puma’s elite running ambassadors who will offer guidance on and off the track.
