

Rustenburg Herald's Bonus

01 JUNE 2020

25 500 FREE

For more than 67 days we drove our Chevys - and all other makes of vehicles - to the levee, but that levee was dry. On Monday (1 June) the restrictions on the sale of off-site alcohol were lifted - and South Africans could once again go and stock up on whisky and rye, or with whatever it may be you prefer to wet your whistle with. Elsewhere in the country long queues were expected outside liquor stores - but in Rustenburg it seems people were much more chilled. This small group, consisting of Tiaan van Staden, Anne Finnegan, Netta de Beer, Dirkina Graham, Zenda Gokatcti, Daan Jonker, Vic Gerber, Enslin Beette and JJ Engelbrecht were some of the first customers at a liquor store in Safari Gardens wanting to break the drought. Under Level 3 restrictions alcohol may be sold only Mondays to Thursdays between 9am and 5pm. No alcohol sales are permitted on Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays or public holidays.
