Jabulani dances troubles away...

In recent weeks this "puppet master" (Jabulani Simango) has been performing at Sun City entertaining crowds and dozens of fans with his amazing talent and brought his popular "Pantsula Puppets" to the stage. The puppets are styled and perform the Pantsula dance to perfection. Jabulani invariably manages to draw large crowds and keep them entertained for hours. Kids in particular interact with the puppets and just love their act. Jabulani is performing at Sun Central, Sun City every Friday and Saturday. Great news is that Jabulani and his puppets are available for events at nursery schools, birthday parties, year-end functions or the like. Interested parties who can't make it to the Pilanesberg in the weeks to come, are invited to contact: bookingpuppets@gmail.com. (See Rustenburg Herald's/Bonus' website www.rustenburgherald.co.za to witness Jabulani's amazing talent).

Cash robbery foiled

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - A section of the city turned into a warzone when police and security guards battled a gang of Cash-in-transit robbers in the early evening of Thursday (8 October).

Five members from the Rustenburg Flying Squad and K9 Unit, as well as two Fidelity security guards are being treated in hospital for gunshot wounds following the botched cash-in-transit robbery. One of the suspects were fatally wounded during the gun battle. According to Col Brenda Muridili, five vehicles that were used by the suspects have since been recovered around the Tlhabane area. The province has instituted a 72-

Hour Activation Plan to search for the perpetrators that managed to flee the scene. The National Commissioner of the South African Police Service, Genl Khehla John Sitole, has commended the members' bravery and he has also wished them, as well as the injured security guards, a speedy recovery. The police are appealing to anyone with information that can lead to the arrest of the suspects to call Crime Stop number 08600 10111 or to send tip-offs on MySAPS App.

Final opportunity for artists to make it to grand finale

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - Artists who are on the look-out for an opportunity to earn "easy" money before the end of this year, have one more opportunity in Rustenburg Herald/Bonus' Blank Space Art competition to make it to the final round and the overall judging at the end of this year.

This year's competition at Pick n Pay Greystone Crossing and Pick n Pay Lifestyle Square in Beyers Naudé Avenue has produced six quarterly winners/finalists at each store. In December this year, all quarterly winners of the two respective stores will compete against the other finalists of each store for two overall grand prizes to the value of R10 000 each. So if you haven't entered for the Bonus/Rustenburg Herald's Blank Space Art competition yet, you are advised to do your utmost best if you wish to end as this year's final quarterly winner and to advance to the final overall judging in December this year.

Entries could the "posted" in the entry boxes at the two Pick n Pay Stores and at reception of Rustenburg Herald/Bonus in 13 Coetzer Street. Remember, you can use literally any medium, pen or pencil, chalk, charcoal, paint, glass, wood, ceramic or whatever you prefer for your art. The closing date for this final quarterly competition will be announced in due course. Keep watching Rustenburg Herald/Bonus for all the information you might need.

After weeks of struggling to locate one of our quarterly winners in this year's Blank Space art competition, our artist was finally located. Ezekiel Chiloane was die artist responsible for the rather controversial drawing of Jesus Christ and his disciples during the early months of Covid-19. The artist is from Kanana, is unemployed and does his artwork in Kanana and sells it in the village in order to put food on the table. His artwork was inspired by the fact that it was the month of Easter and Coronavirus also made its way to South Africa, Ezekiel says. Like the other winners, Ezekiel has won a cash prize of R1 000. Pictured above, he is congratulated by Jolene Fourie of Rustenburg Herald/Bonus.

A brilliant entry by an upcoming young artist.

We appreciate your understanding during this period on inconvenience," Rustenburg Local Municipality said in a statement.

Stolen chrome recovered

BONUS – RUSTENBURG - The Hawks in Northwest have seized a truck here that was carrying 36 tons of presumably stolen chrome.

Information was received regarding a truck that was loading chrome in Rustenburg. The investigative team followed up on the information and intercepted the truck at a washer plant in Boshoeck. The truck was searched and the chrome, with an approximate value of R120 000, was discovered.

According to Capt Tlangelani Rikhotso, spokesperson for the NW Hawks, both the truck and the chrome have been seized for further investigation.

The damage is irreversible. 6 Million South Africans are affected by Foetal Alcohol Syndrome. FAS is 100% preventable. Think before you drink.

Cyclists competing at this weekend’s “Cycle for Cansa” at Sun City rose with great expectations but also concern about heavy rains predicted throughout the country on Sunday morning, though fears of a dripping wet race were soon forgotten. Pictured from left in the photograph above shortly before the start of the 103/70 km races were Morne du Plessis, Gregg Taylor, Henry de Kock, Adriaan du Plooy, Johan Hattingh, Paul Grobler, Johan Roos, Herman de Bruin, Jason Hydon and Marlene Human. Bafana:
Fancy new

BONUS - RUSTENBURG -
Rustenburg has been playing host for the SA national men soccer team for the past week.
Bafana Bafana showed off their new soccer kit, but unfortunately their skills to turn opportunity into points were not upgraded. The team drew one-all with Namibia on Thursday at the Royal Bafokeng Sports Palace. They played Zambia on Sunday at the same venue and managed to throw away a 1-0 lead to finally lose the match lost 2-1.
