Schools closing earlier

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - The closure of schools has been accelerated for the winter holidays by a few weeks as infections continue to rise throughout South Africa.

The schools were supposed to close on July 9 to 23 for the winter season. However, Ramaphosa - in an address to the nation on Sunday where he announced that the country should move to adjusted alert level 4 of the lockdown - said that schools and other educational will be closing earlier in an effort to assist the curbing of infections.

Teaching will stop on Wednesday.

Thursday and Friday will be used for teachers and managers to have an orderly closure of schools. Parents must make arrangements that by Friday 12:30 there should be no learners in the hostels and facilities. Schools will reopen on July 19.

A "clever" and sophisticated computer room (classroom) was recently opened at Lighthouse Children's Home where no less than 47 children and learners between the ages of 3 months and 14 years are being accommodated and cared for. This wonderful gesture has enabled Lighthouse and its partners to see to it that these children and young learners do not neglect their crucial education due to lack of facilities and proper tuition. Other partners also came on board and this project is now one of the Platinum City's latest success stories. Leading companies and experts who have joined the project include of course Bergsig Academy who has sponsored a classroom with at least five computers and LCS Consensus who has contributed a printer and wifi. Another need that was addressed was that for dependable electricity during current periods of loadshedding and power interruptions. There is limitless gratitude for the donation of a electricity generator which will definitely see to this. Lighthouse Children's Home owners Elsa Doubell, Gaylen Coelho and Amorie Nortjé wish to express their heartfelt gratitude towards Rustenburg and its people for this wonderful gift! Pictured above Bergsig Academy's popular mascot "Garuda" here emphasizing that knowledge makes you strong!

People older than 50 can now register for vaccine

BONUS - RUSTENBURG HERALD - Government will be opening up Covid-19 vaccine registrations to more age groups nationally from this week.

The acting health minister Mammoloko Kubayi-Ngubane has made the announcement last week.

Kubayi-Ngubane said that registration will open on the electronic vaccination data system (EVDS) from July 1. Vaccinations for this age group - 50-59 - are scheduled to begin on July 15.

"New wave devastating" - President Ramaphosa

BONUS - RUSTENBURG HERALD - On Sunday night President Cyril Ramaphosa took South Africa to alert Level 4.

This adjustments will be in place, for now until July 11. The drastic steps became necessary after the dreaded Covid-19 third wave hit five of the country's nine provinces - specially Gauteng - with might. On Sunday, statistics showed that Gauteng contributed to 60% of the national infections. In his speech the president said that the new Delta variant proofed much more infectious than the Beta variant previously prevalent. Even though the adjusted regulations are a lot more stringent, many people sighed a sigh of relief that the country did not move back to a total lockdown. The regulations now in place include:

* The sale of alcohol is prohibited - on and off site.

* The curfew is between 21:00 - 04:00. In effect this means any business operating at night must close at 20:00.

* Gatherings: All gatherings are prohibited. This include political, cultural, social and religious gatherings

* Funerals and cremations will be allowed, but no more than 50 people may attend. All after funeral gatherings, as well as night vigils before funerals are prohibited.

* Restaurants and other eateries may only sell take-aways or deliveries.

* Schools must be closed no later than Friday (July 2).

* Universities and all other tertiary institutions must close from Wednesday (June 30). University residences may stay open.

* Travel: Travel, for leisure purposes, to and out of Gauteng is prohibited. But there are exceptions for businesses, and the transport of goods.

* All businesses must attempt to let their employees work from home and postpone all travel and trips.

* Masks: wearing of a mask is compulsory and not wearing it in public is a criminal offence.

Sars close offices

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - The South African Revenue Service (SARS) have announced that they will close their offices temporarily.

"With the rising case numbers and the onset of the third wave peak of the pandemic, we have decided to close our tax branches temporarily for physical visits as from Thursday (July 1). We are able to do so because the SARS digital platforms, as demonstrated during the peak of the second wave, allows taxpayers to continue to fulfil their obligations online," SARS said in a statement. The temporary closure of the tax branches will not affect the start of the Filing Season for individuals who traditionally file via eFiling or the SARS MobiApp. These taxpayers are encouraged to continue doing so digitally, starting from July 1, 2021. "Branch filing will NOT commence on July 1, 2021. At this stage, we plan to commence physical branch visits on 16 August 2021, but will review this continuously. Taxpayers are advised not to come to a SARS branch," SARS said.

During the branch closures, taxpayers who require assistance to file online will be assisted telephonically with the support of dedicated SARS staff.

All Customs Ports of Entry will be open for frontline customs operations, but not for face-to-face client engagement other than for clearance and inspection purposes.

The public must note the following:

- Bookings for virtual appointments may be made via the SARS website by following the link below: <https://www.sars.gov.za/contact-us/make-an-appointment/>; and sending an SMS to 47277 with the word "Booking" and your passport/ID No/Asylum permit No. and a SARS agent will contact you to arrange a booking on your behalf.
- Taxpayers can make use of the SARS digital platforms by visiting www.sars.gov.za
- The SARS Contact Centre (0800 00 7277) will continue to service any queries from members of the public.
