Domestic workers urged to report non compliant employers

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - The Department of Employment and Labour has called on domestic workers, who continue to be paid below the national minimum wage (NMW), to report such violations to the department.

The department's Deputy Director: Advocacy and Stakeholder Relations, Caroline Kwetepane, said three years since the introduction of the NMW, some employers are still exploiting and violating the law by underpaying domestic workers.

In addition to being underpaid, domestic workers are still not given contracts of Gender Based Violence and femicide march held.

Women in law enforcement march against GBV

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - On Friday (26 August) the Bojanala District Sub 2 led by the Acting Commander Brigadier Regina Ntoagae in partnership with various government departments, Rustenburg Local Municipality, Royal Bafokeng Reaction Unit, Road Traffic Infringement Agency, Transnet, Women in Mining and local Pastors Forum amongst others joined hands in marching against gender based violence and femicide by handing a memorandum at the Rustenburg Magistrates Court. The memorandum was handed and accepted by the Rustenburg Senior Magistrate.

FREE advertisements

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - By now it should be old hat that Rustenburg Herald's website smalls is a success story and a valuable service to the community...

The smalls service has been lauded by a surprising number of advertisers who all attest to the smooth operation and effectiveness of the service. "Payment is briskly and trouble-free while the "forum" also seems to have more than the expected number of users per day. One of many clients reported that her unwanted household goods were sold within the first week of advertising. "I was somewhat sceptical at first but surprisingly everything went as smooth as a feather and my unused items were sold in just a day or two". The website smalls is very convenient considering the price of fuel lately". Items such as unused cycling shoes, golf clubs, other sporting equipment, bicycles, motor spares and camping equipments have find happy new owners with minimum effort. "Keep it up - "I will remain a customer provided advertising fees remain reasonable" a happy client said.

The first 15 words are free with a small fee of R1.50 per word charged once you exceed the 15 words. Go ahead, make money by booking a small's advert now! Visit our website www.northwestnewspapers.co.za and follow the instructions. You can also come to our offices to place your add.

Hijacking trends, methods to look out for

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - While some hijackings are meticulously planned, others are opportunistic, with hijackers taking advantage of being at the right place, at the right time, according to a well-known insurer

Quarterly data published by the South African Police Service (SAPS) earlier in August showed that they are struggling to deal with violent crimes - including murder and hijackings across the country.

The data showed that a total of 5,866 hijackings were reported across the country between April and June 2022 – a 14% increase from the 5,146 hijackings reported over the same period the previous year.

Be vigilant
People on their way back from shopping malls make for ideal targets, as they usually carry cash or cards that could be an added “bonus”.

Hijackers will often force their victim to share the PIN to their bank card, sometimes holding them hostage to ensure that the PIN provided is correct, and/or to make multiple withdrawals.

Hijackers will follow a target at a distance, later moving closer and striking at a traffic light. They often use the strategy of bumping into their victim and making them think that it is an accident to get them to exit their car.

Driveways are also a prime hijacking hotspot, where hijackers typically box in a victim before the access gate is completely open.

The most common hijacking trends in the country:

* The blockage method – pouncing on victims when deliveries are made, keeping security gates open and forcing those inside the property to comply with their demands.

This tactic is also used on narrow roads, where there’s little or no space for the victim to escape.

* The imposter method – on the road, at homes and at businesses – posing as officials to get people to pull over or grant access to their properties.

* The Good Samaritan method – convincing targets that something is wrong with their vehicles or taking a vehicle’s number plate or another accessory when the vehicle is stationary, and then driving next to and showing it to their targets – as if they picked it up and simply want to return it – to get them to pull over.

* The test drive method – posing as a potential buyer who wants to test drive the vehicle but with no intention of returning it.

* The bumper bashing method – bumping into their victim’s vehicle, making them think that it’s an accident.

* The breakdown method – acting as if their vehicle has broken down, getting victims to pull over to help or to slow down to drive around them.

* Driveway hijackings – boxing in victims when entering or exiting their properties.

* The follow-me-home method – identifying a high-value target in a public space and then following them to a more opportune pouncing spot.

* The slow-moving traffic method – staking out a spot where traffic is moving slowly or following a target at a distance, later moving closer and striking at a traffic light.

Brian Molefe, Anoj Singh arrested

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - Former Transnet chief executive officer Brian Molefe and the parastatal’s former finance boss, Anoj Singh, were arrested Monday morning (29 August) in connection with a R93-million corruption and fraud case linked to the procurement of 1 064 locomotives in 2015.

Two other people were also arrested.

Five people, including former Transnet group CEO Siyabonga Gama, have already been charged in the case.

The matter stems from a payment of R93-million to Trillian Capital, a Gupta-linked proxy company, to secure funding for the purchase of the locomotives. The transaction advisory contract was initially awarded to global investment bank JP Morgan before the deal was cancelled. It was subsequently awarded to Trillian. The estimated cost of the project ballooned from around R38-billion in 2012 to more than R50-billion. In its report, the Zondo Commission recommended that the police investigate Molefe, Gama and Singh for their alleged roles in siphoning money from Transnet to the Gupta family. A 2018 forensic report found that Molefe had misled the state-owned entity’s board about its obligation to inform then-public enterprises minister Malusi Gigaba about the spike in the project’s costs.

A woman with long braids, wearing a light pink Nike t-shirt, is shown in a dynamic pose, looking upwards and to the side. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

A man with short hair, wearing a dark grey Nike hoodie and black pants, is sitting on a concrete ledge. He is looking off to the side with a serious expression.

All boerewors isn't

These include various classes of raw processed meat products, specific compositional standards for respective meats, requirements for containers, and appropriate product names. The latest regulations distinguish between raw minced meat, burgers, bangers, grillers, and sizzlers, among others. Compositional standards relate to the fat content, additives, species, and ingredients permitted for use in specific raw processed meat products. Regulations in the APS Act now also deal with boerewors, defining what the South African staple is and what it isn't. Raw boerewors must be "manufactured from the meat of

The difference between boerewors, braaiwors, species and mixed-species wors is also clearly defined within the latest regulations regarding the classification, packing and marking of certain raw processed meat products in South Africa.

Braaiwors or sizzlers must “be manufactured either from the meat of a single domesticated animal, bird or wild game species, or from a mixture of two or more of such species.” It differs from boerewors in several ways, namely that braaiwors is allowed to contain edible offal, mechanically recovered meat, colourants, vegetable protein, and “other foodstuffs”.

Braaiwors is also allowed to have a minimum total meat equivalent of 60% and a minimum total meat content of 40%, with a fat content of no more than 30%.

Rustenburg police visit Grenville High School

Addressing Gender Based Violence (GBV) During Women's Month in August, the Sector Commander Warrant Officer Nkamane, Sgt Dipuo Sebetlele, Captain Augoustides and Sgt Letswete visited learners of Grenville High School, to warn them about the implications of statutory rape emanating from having sexual intercourse with an underage school learner. Learners were encouraged to refrain from embarking on serious relationships while still at school. Read more in this week's edition of the Rustenburg Herald.

Brauhaus Afrika new host of Rustenburg Park Run

In future Rustenburg's Park Run will be privileged to be hosted in the beautiful valley of the Olifantsnek Dam. Brauhaus Afrika will be the new host - remember the launch on Saturday, 3 September!

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - The team of Park Run and Brauhaus Afrika are very excited to announce that the first Park Run in more than two years will be hosted at Brauhaus on 3 September after Brauhaus Afrika has acquired to rights to this popular event.

The Park Run will take start at 08:00. This will be the very first Park Run in Rustenburg since the lockdown as a result of Covid-19 and the organisers believe that this will be the first of many. With a brand new route meandering down towards the Olifantsnek Dam, the crisp and fresh morning air, the beautiful Magaliesberg mountains as backdrop and a pet friendly trail runners are set to enjoy a brand new experience. Please visit <http://www.parkrun.co.za/brauhausafrika/> for more information. Willing volunteers are invited to please contact on Christian 083 800 5410.

You can run, walk, or just stroll along at you own pace to enjoy the beautiful surroundings at Brauhaus Afrika. This weekend, Saturday, 3 September, sees the launch of the Brauhaus Afrika Park Run. The Park Run is scheduled for 08:00. Be among the first to make history!

This group of runners will be among dozens who will be taking part in the launch of the Rustenburg Park Run at Brauhaus Afrika on Saturday.

Thomas Schlotfeldt (Brauhaus Afrika), Claude Johnson (Event director Koster) and Christian Schlotfeldt (Brauhaus Afrika). (Sibusiso Kekana - Park Run director was absent when the photo was taken).

Who will win R1 000?

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - Entries are awaited in our third Rustenburg Herald Bonus Blank Space Art competition for this year.

Two new winners will be announced at the end of the month who will each win a cash prize of R1 000 sponsored by Rustenburg Herald and who will then advance to the final round of Grand Judging towards the end of this year when two overall winners will be announced. These winners will walk home with extremely valuable prizes in the form of two Pick n Pay shopping vouchers of R10 000 each, sponsored by Pick n Pay Greystone Crossing and Pick n Pay Beyers Naudé. Our readers will agree that this would be an excellent Christmas gift for any aspiring artist and his/her family.

Artists may enter art in almost any medium imaginable provided that they can fit into our standard “entry boxes” placed at Pick n Pay Beyers Naudé and Pick n Pay Greystone Crossing. Of course you can also enter at Rustenburg Herald’s offices in 13 Coetzer Street. Please use the standard “Blank Space” page printed in Rustenburg Herald and Bonus regularly for your artwork and make sure that you complete the entry form at the bottom of the Blank Space with all the particulars required. It is important for our judges to have these when judging the entries in the competition.

Also please ensure that we can reach you on your cell (or a designated person) should you be a winner otherwise another winner will be chosen. The closing date for the competition is 31 August 2022. Remember - there is no entry fee and you can enter as many artworks as you wish - good luck with your entries.

The next round of judging in our Blank Space Art competition by our Chief Judge Mollie Moolman is just around the corner with the closing date of the current competition towards the end of August. Aspiring artists still have two weeks to prepare their entries.

Our display boards at Pick ‘n Pay Beyers Naudé and Greystone Crossing clearly show the enthusiasm of our aspiring artists. Perhaps it’s time for you to enter your work?

Dijana dishes up Comrades victory

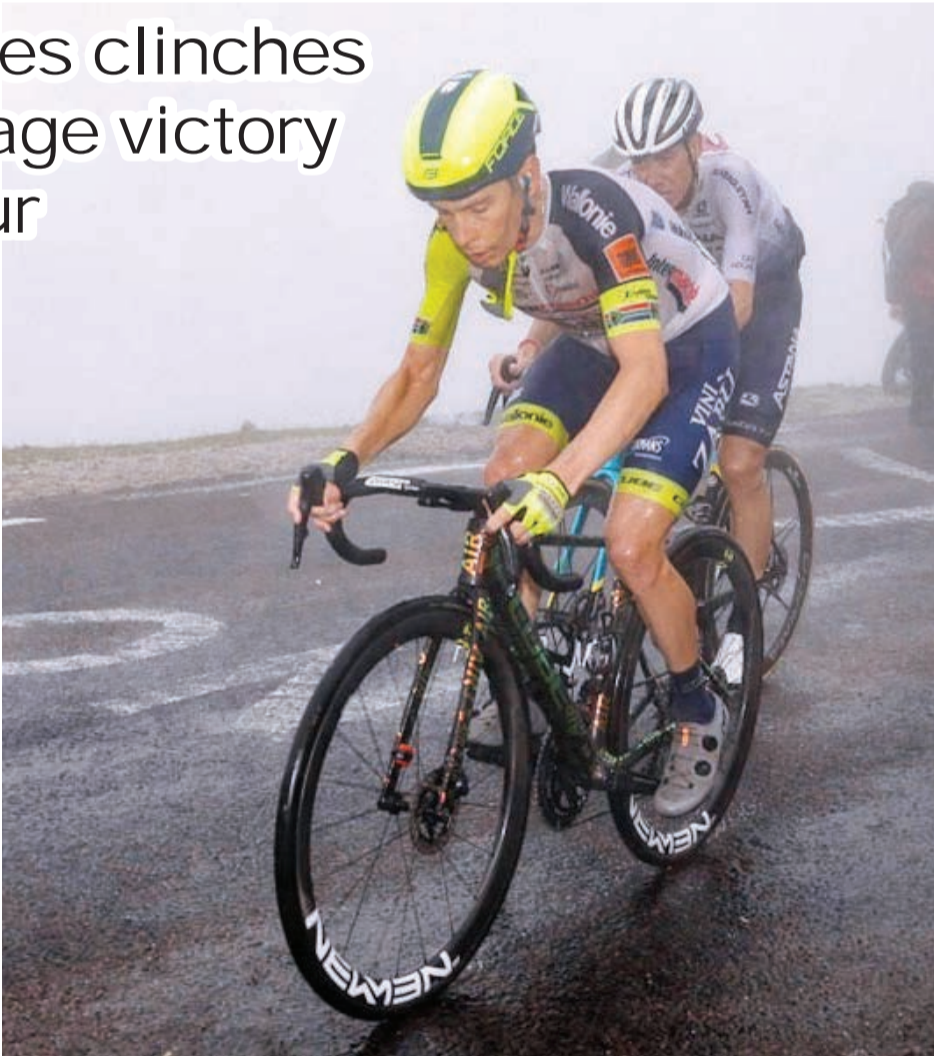

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - Flags were flown high and proudly while fires of celebrations were lit yesterday when the North West Province and Rustenburg in particular emerged as the "big winners" of the 95th Comrades Marathon between Durban and Pietermaritzburg on Sunday.

The reason? Well, in probably the biggest ever runaway victory for Rustenburg and the North West Province, Rustenburg runners took the top honours by clinching 1st, 2nd and 3rd position overall in the men's division while Adele Broodryk, an expert in sports science at the Potchefstroom University, clinched 3rd place and the bronze medal in the gruelling women's racing on Sunday. Broodryk secured 3rd spot in a time of 6:26:34.

Rustenburg's heroes of the day were Tete Dijana - 1st in a time of 5:30:38, Edward Mothibi - a former winner in 2019 in 2nd with a time of 5:33:46 and in 3rd - Dan Moselkwa. Another former winner and current record holder, David Gatebe also from Rustenburg, didn't have a good run on Sunday and couldn't manage to finish among the top ten finishers. But he was not the only one - South African women couldn't manage to secure to the 1st and 2nd top spots with the Russian Alexandra Morosova winning in a time of 6:17:47 and Dominika Stelmach from Poland in 2nd in a time of 6:25:08.

Louis Meintjes clinches first ever Stage victory in Grand Tour

Louis Meintjes from Rustenburg, the first and only Rustenburg cyclist ever to have contested two of the world's Grand Cycling Tours - notably the Tour de France and currently the Vuelta Espana. After finishing 7th overall in the most recent Tour de France in Paris, Louis has managed to continue his excellent form by winning his first ever stage in a Grand Tour during Stage 9 on Sunday. Louis current finds himself in 16th position overall. The South African who is riding for Intermarché-Wanty-Gobert Matériaux finished the 171.4 km between Villaviciosa and Les Praeres in 4 hours, 32 min and 39 seconds.
