Ward 17 residents to the rescue

Residents, Councillors and members of Agapé Congregation in Ward 17 took to the streets on Saturday morning in an annual joint venture to uplift Ward 17. Potholes were repaired, the environment benefitted from a "pic-it-up" exercise and grass and overgrowth were cut following an above average rainfall season. This was all part of Agapé Congregation's annual environment day. The programme was organised by Cllr Tanya Rothman and saw close to 100 residents turning up or at least contributing towards the project. One of the most deserving operations in the programme was the repair of a dangerous pothole in Cuckoo Avenue by at least 20 enthusiastic young "contractors". In spite of badly congested traffic during the early Saturday morning peak hour, motorists were waving in appreciation and gratitude.

Dad shot dead on N4

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - A family is reeling after the death of a young husband and father after a hijacking on the N4.

Juandré Kidson (29), his wife Johanette and their one-year-old baby girl was travelling from Rustenburg to their home in Brits on Saturday evening (7 May). Near the R512 Randburg offramp their Hyundai Sante Fe hit stones that had been placed across the road. A tyre punctured and they had to pull off. Juandré was changing the damaged tyre, when three men approached him. "The attackers overpowered him and shot him in the head. He died on the scene," Capt

Aafje Botma, North West Police spokesperson told Bonus. The incident occurred at about 21:00. The attackers also fired on Johanette, hitting her in the shoulder. The baby was not harmed. The three then fled with Juandré's Nokia Cell phone, some baby formula and a couple of nappies. According to Captain Botma, no arrests have been made yet. A case of murder and one of attempted murder is being investigated. Read more in this week's Rustenburg Herald.

Service providers lockdown municipality due to alleged non payment

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - All entry points to the Rustenburg Local Municipality's Missionary Mpheni house were blocked by disgruntled service providers and sub contractors on Monday morning (9 May), who alleged that the municipality has not paid them for the services that they rendered.

At the time the Rustenburg Herald arrived at the scene, dozens of workers could not gain entry to the building to do their work. Mr Thapelo Matebesi, spokesperson of the municipality said the protesters demanded the Municipal Manager to resolve their issues before they could open the gates for workers to continue with their duties.

"Service providers/sub-contractors locked all entry points to the municipality head office in protest, alleging non-payment for their services rendered to the Municipality. They demand that Municipal Manager, Mr Victor Makona must come and address them, to give them assurance of payment, they will then open the gates," explained Matebesi.

Hospital recognised for its role in Casual Day

BONUS - RUSTENBURG - Job Shimankana Tabane Hospital has been awarded "Best Performing Government Department" in the North West Province.

The achievement award was bestowed to the Hospital by the National Council & of Persons Living with Disabilities through Casual Day initiative. Casual Day is an initiative aimed at raising funds through selling of Casual Day merchandise and is commemorated annually.

This is in line with JST Hospital Corporate Social Investment Strategies and also aligned with the hospital values particularly "Caring and positive attitude". Receiving the award, Ms Lebo Moloto Chief Admin Clerk, who has been at the helm of this project for the past three years, indicated that it's a profound honor to be recognized as an institution for the hard work in meeting the needs of people living with disabilities through this initiative. "I would like to thank all the staff members for the spirit of team work and support, in helping persons with disabilities. This is a true reflection that as a hospital, we aim to be caring and compassionate" concluded Acting Chief Executive Officer, Ms Gloria Tlhabi.
