Cops in court over stolen cigarette stash

Lentswe, Stilfontein - Police officers who help themselves to illegal cigarettes are in the scope of the SAPS anti-corruption unit.

Lt Genl Sello Kwena, NW provincial commissioner, said he hopes the arrest of four police officers allegedly caught stealing illegal cigarettes will send a warning to members that they are not untouchable.

According to Brig Sabata Mokgwabone, four members of the Klerksdorp Public Order Police Unit appeared in court on Wednesday 22 July on charges of corruption and robbery.

They were arrested after a shop owner in Orkney complained that they robbed him of cigarettes worth R80 000.

"It is further alleged that they demanded R20 000 from the victim, and when he couldn't produce the cash, they left their cellphone numbers with him, so that he could call them after getting the money," he said.

The police officers were in police vehicles when they stopped the shop owner on 1 July while travelling between Khuma and Orkney to search his vehicle.

Mokgwabone said two of the cops left the scene with the cigarettes while two others accompanied the shop owner to Orkney to get the cash.

The provincial Anti-Corruption Investigation Unit (ACIU) was called in to investigate and W/O Itumeleng Msindo (55), Sgt Themba Njephe (46), Sgt Lucas Molefe (40) and Const Thabo Sebotso (39) were arrested. They were granted R1000 bail each and will appear in court again on 6 August.

A civilian, 38-year-old Thabang Letsaba who was in the victim's vehicle, but apparently colluded with the police, was granted R500 bail.

Lt Genl Kwena said that corruption in the police cannot be tolerated and that those who commit it will be exposed and dealt with "irrespective of who they are".

R100 m not enough for Eskom

Lentswe, Klerksdorp - The City of Matlosana paid R150 million in outstanding debt to Eskom and Midvaal Water Company last week.

Municipal Manager Roger Nkhumise confirmed the payment in a statement on social media. He said an amount of R100 m was paid to Eskom and R50 m to Midvaal.

On Wednesday 29 July, Sikonathi Mantshantsha, Eskom spokesperson, confirmed a payment of R110 million from Matlosana to Eskom. "The R110m paid was for the current account of R91m with the balance (R19m) to service the outstanding account of R500m," he said. He also shared bad news with Lentswe. According to Mantshantsha, the notice to start disconnecting the Matlosana Municipality from 14 August still stands and Eskom plan to follow through on its actions. "A meeting with the municipality is scheduled this week Friday (31 July). We had a meeting for last week but they cancelled and postponed to this week," he said.

Eskom issued a notice of disconnection on 25 June after the municipality defaulted on a payment agreement with the electricity provider. "The inability of the municipality to honour the agreement is as a result of the effects of the coronavirus pandemic, which has affected the global economy and to a certain extent caused job losses that led to none payments of municipal services and it also increased the number of Indigent. Prior to this period the municipality had honoured the agreement of paying Eskom and Midvaal account," said Ntswaki Makgetha.

More petrol price pain in store

Lentswe, Klerksdorp - The Automobile Association of South Africa has announced that petrol will increase by around 12 cents a litre, while diesel will be down by 16 cents in August.

Illuminating paraffin is also down by eight cents a litre, according to the unaudited month-end fuel price data released by the Central Energy Fund.

The AA said in a statement: "South African fuel users have to remain vulnerable to the country's difficult economic position and the vagaries of the international oil price."

"Anything which shocks oil higher or the rand weaker has the potential to cause sharp fuel price increases."

Klerksdorp court closed amid protest

Lentswe, Klerksdorp - On Wednesday 29 July, employees at the Klerksdorp Magistrates court downed tools and the building was closed.

Outside, some court officials were singing struggle songs with a remix message that 'Covid-19 is killing them'.

Others were inside in a meeting with the management and union representatives.

Speaking to Lentswe anonymously some of them said they do not intend to work inside the building, because some of their colleagues tested positive for Covid-19, while others are awaiting results.

They said their main worry is that they were primary contacts with the patients who tested positive.

Robbers flee the scene after CIT heist

by MOHANOE KHIBA

Lentswe, Brits - A cash-in-transit heist took place at Lethabile 4-way stop near Brits on Monday 27 July around 08:45.

According to the police national spokesperson Col Brenda Muridili, a security vehicle was on its way to the nearby shopping centre when it was bumped by a bakkie.

"Subsequent to that, a group of suspects started shooting at the security vehicle. The guards were all ordered to exit the cash van."

"The suspects allegedly used explosives to bomb the armoured vehicle and then fled the scene with an undisclosed amount of money, leaving their bakkie in flames," Col Muridili said.

According to the police, no injuries were reported and no arrests have been made yet.

Police are appealing to any readers with information to call the SAPS Crime Stop number 08600 10111 or to send tip-offs on MySaps App.

August dates for SASSA grants

Lentswe, Klerksdorp - Payment dates for older persons and disability grants have been further separated by SASSA.

This is in time for the next payment cycle that starts next week, SASSA announced this week. According to the False statements land car buyers in court

Lentswe, Klerksdorp - Two young men suspected to be involved in a syndicate where false bank statements were handed in to secure vehicle financing, appeared in the Klerksdorp Magistrates Court last week.

Equal Siyakhula Zitha (19) and Kamogelo Makua (20) were released on R5 000 bail each on Thursday 23 July. They were charged with fraud and possession of suspected stolen motor vehicles.

According to Col Amanda Funani, police spokesperson, they were arrested on 21 July in Phola near Ogies following investigation into a fraudulent car deal at a dealership in Klerksdorp the previous day.

Zitha was in possession of a Ford Ranger when he was arrested.

According to Funani, investigation in conjunction with Wesbank, linked Makua to five alleged fraudulent vehicle transactions including the Ford Ranger found in his possession. Two more transactions were conducted in Vereeniging and Pretoria.

"Detectives determined that the format of the salary advices and bank statements used in the transactions were linked to a syndicate operating from Phola. Several cases were registered for fraudulent transactions between November 2018 and March 2020 in Witbank, Boksburg, Lydenburg, Sandton, Burgersfort, Witvlei and Nelspruit," Funani said.

The police also claimed possession of a Toyota Avanza that Zitha's family travelled in to attend his court appearance in Klerksdorp. According to Funani, the vehicle was sought for recovery by Wesbank after it was allegedly acquired

Two doctors, nurses die

Lentswe, Mahikeng - Two doctors and two nurses died last week in the North West province due to Covid-19.

The North West Health MEC Madoda Sambatha said this happens at a time when the Province is experiencing a surge of positive cases.

"We have sadly learnt of the passing of Dr Lomalisa Liteny and Florah Makama. As if that was not enough the province lost two nurses over the past week. We are saddened by the loss of these health professionals," he said.

Dr Liteny was a well-known healthcare practitioner in Mahikeng who specialised as a gynaecologist and obstetrician while Dr Makama was a clinical psychologist.

The two were based in Mahikeng.

According to Tebogo Lekgethwe, department spokesperson, the two nurses were employees of the Department of Health, one based at Dr Ruth Segomotsi Mompati District and the other in the Ngaka Modiri Molema District.

new dates, disability grants will no longer be paid with the older persons grants on the third of every month. Disability grants will be paid from 4 August and all other grants will be paid from 5 August. Any grants linked to those accounts will be available on the same dates. In terms of this new arrangement, it means disability grants won't be paid on the same day as the older persons grant.

"The staggering of grants started after the lockdown and we should see this as an extension of this process to further limit the number of beneficiaries at payment facilities. The process will be monitored closely and further staggering is not ruled out in the near future, because we need to comply with government protocols of social distancing and washing of hands particularly," said SASSA CEO, Totsie Memela. "Beneficiaries should remember that they don't have to withdraw their money on the first payment date but can withdraw it on any day after the payment date as it will remain in the accounts till they withdraw it" she concluded.

Wearing mask, social distancing and washing of hands / sanitizing is even more critical now than ever before. We should not let anyone (family, friend's relatives) visit our homes. Hence, hospitals cannot become breeding grounds for further spread of the pandemic. No Visitor Is Allowed In The Hospital Premises.

Struggle icon laid to rest

Lentswe, Klerksdorp -The North West South African National Civic Organisation (Sanco) said that the liberation struggle icon, Andrew Mlangeni will be remembered as a pillar of integrity and moral compass whose conscience did not betray the values of the liberation movement.

His official funeral service was at the University of Johannesburg's Soweto Campus on Wednesday 29 July.

"Comrade Andrew Mlangeni belonged to a generation of true revolutionaries. He was an embodiment of ethical and moral leadership that underpinned the struggle for liberation, social justice, equality and human rights," said Sanco Provincial Chairperson, Paul Sebegoe in paying tribute to the last surviving 95-year-old Rivonia trialist.

Sebegoe said Mlangeni leaves behind a rich legacy of selfless leadership, humility and great stewardship.

"His demise signifies the need for our generation to pick up the baton it had dropped and in honour of this courageous and gallant warrior of our people pursue relentlessly what his generation stood for, cherished and lived for," he emphasised.

He was integrity personified, an internationalist, true patriot, nation-builder, unifier, a great golfer and a community builder whose heart and roots were among his people to the very end, he added.

"The working class and the poor could identify with him because he was a champion of the downtrodden.

"Comrade Mlangeni spoke truth to power without flinching and represented their aspirations with great love and humility.

"He was a fountain of wisdom, a humble giant who preferred to work in the background for a worthy and noble cause that he knew will outlive him and continue to inspire future generations," Sebegoe concluded.

Men take charge

Men from Randlespark's Oranje Street created awareness of gender based violence and house breaking last week when they distributed pamphlets door to door to the residents.

Interpreter survives Covid-19

by MOHANOE KHIBA

Lentswe, Klerksdorp - A Kanana couple who recovered from Covid-19 is advising everyone to use masks and sanitise.

The department of Justice's sexual offences language practitioner Nandi Toli (30) and her mineworker fiancée, Papa Dimo (34) fully recovered after they were hospitalised for 3 days after testing positive for Covid-19. The other days they spent in self-isolation at home.

Nandi told Lentswe that they do not know how they were infected by the virus. "Firstly, my fiancée and I decided to go for tests after we started receiving calls from people who said they were positive and we were in contact with them."

"Since the first day of lockdown was announced, we decided to take both of our daughters to stay with my mother, because of me being an essential worker in court, so that we cannot expose them to this virus. The mines are also considered to part of the danger zone to this virus."

Speaking to her about their symptoms, she said: "We had flu, a sore throat, sneezing and later on, he was the one who started coughing and as time goes on, I also started experiencing different taste and smell."

They both got their results on 17 June and for their quarantine they were admitted at Orkney's Westvaal Hospital. "We wanted to be at one of the Klerksdorp private hospitals, but we were told that they were all full and was then admitted at Westvaal Hospital for only three days as we showed only mild symptoms. We were then discharged for self-isolation at home."

Nandi said after receiving their results confirming that they were both Covid-19 positive, they both laughed as they used to joke about this virus and thought that it's not true.

Their message is that: "The only cure now is the church inside you as a person with your God alone. Don't cease to pray. We all don't know this virus and we all don't know when it will end, but only God knows."

"So, let's continue doing what we are told to do by using masks and sanitise. Drink your cough mixtures and herbs, but do not overdose."

Covid-19 survivors Nandi Toli and Papa Dimo.

First canned 'morogo' products

Lentswe, Klerksdorp - A first in the world canned 'Morogo wa Thepe' launches in Klerksdorp.

Thepe is a Sotho word meaning 'African wild spinach'. SA Morogo, a black owned Agri-Processing and Food Distribution Company focussing on Indigenous Traditional African food developed a truly innovative and uniquely African product.

Speaking to Ricardo Hood, he said their company offers canned 'Morogo wa Thepe' which is also popularly known as 'Umfino', 'Imbuya' and 'Marog'.

The product is offered in two varieties - Traditional and Curry - which are canned and ready to be eaten and available in 400g cans. Hood said a can feeds a family of 3 to 4 people. Following research and testing the product also has a three year shelf life. "In developing the product, the company also has a view on empowering subsistence farmers whom they will partner with in cultivating the morogo, and then act as market to the farmers by buying the produce from them for processing purpose. This approach will help make the farming enterprise sustainable.

"The company intends partnering with unemployed youth to act as agents and distributors, contributing to creating jobs wherever possible," Willem Veldskoen said.

The product is available at selected OK Foods and Roots butcheries and will soon be available at other Cash n Carry Stores. For any queries call or WhatsApp Willem Veldskoen at 065 977 6438 or Ricardo Hood at 072 036 0450 and also visit the Facebook page: samorogo.
